CHAMBERLAIN'S RULE PERILED BY 'SPY LAW' ROW

3 Inquiries Open on Leak of Secrets.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—A British case rivaling France's famous "Dreyfus affair" in political importance appeared to be developing today over a leakage of army secrets about anti-aircraft defense of the British Isles, and particularly London.

Duncan Sandys. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

A triple inquiry involving questions of broad political significance which may rock the foundations of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government before it is finished was under way.

M. P. Is Central Figure.

For the moment the central figure in the case is Duncan Sandys, Conservative member of parliament and a second lieutenant of the 51st London anti-aircraft brigade of the territorial army. The case revolves about a leak of defense information on which Sandys had framed a critical question to be put to Leslie Hore-Belisha, the war minister, and an implied threat to punish him under the official secrets act—a safeguard against spies.

Sandys, a son-in-law of Winston Churchill, today told the house of commons that he had been summoned by military authorities to appear in uniform tomorrow to give information before a military court which has been set up to investigate the leakage.

Sandys pleaded with the speaker that he was privileged as a member of parliament from being summoned by this court, although he is an officer in the territorial army.

Hubbub Arises in House.

A hubbub arose. The wildly excited house heard such angry cries as "Parliament is supreme!" Maj. Clement R. Attlee, Labor leader, called the summons a "gross affront to the house."

The speaker quickly ruled that the military summons was a prima facie case of breach of parliamentary privilege.

To quell the indignation Chamberlain announced he would set up a committee of privileges to investigate the affair as it affects members' rights in parliament. Replying to a protest from Churchill, he promised that the military court would suspend the proceedings involving Sandys until the committee reported.

Seeks to Calm Members.

Hore-Belisha also sought to pour oil on the troubled waters by insisting that a military court would not clash with other inquiries. He said he merely wanted to discover how the secret information leaked out.

The committee of privileges met this evening to consider whether Sandys' complaints of a breach of privilege were justified, and after an hour's consultation adjourned until tomorrow.

The whole affair, no doubt, will get an uproarious airing in a debate in commons tomorrow.

The Sandys case arose two days ago when he asked the speaker's advice on whether as a parliamentarian he was liable under the official secrets act. The act compels every one to divulge the source of his information about matters affecting high state interests.

Sets Up Select Committee.

Such a row was raised in parliament on Monday that Chamberlain hastily promised to set up a select committee of ten members of the house to decide on whether the official secrets acts applies to members of parliament. This committee has been named and will report in two weeks' time.

Meanwhile Sandys and his supporters among the Conservatives who are in revolt against Chamberlain and other opposition members charged that the government sought to haul Sandys before a military court to give evidence as a soldier before the house committee has decided whether as a parliamentarian he was liable under the official secrets act.

The attitude of Chamberlain's government appears to be that members

WPA INCREASES ROLLS AS FALL ELECTIONS NEAR

Let Down Eligibility Bars Tuesday.

A large increase in Chicago WPA rolls was assured yesterday when the Chicago Relief administration [CRA] announced it will return next Tuesday to an emergency system of approving applicants for Works Progress administration jobs. Under this system 40,000 persons were placed on WPA last spring with little or no investigation of their need for aid.

The rush, which began Jan. 7, was not ended until the normal system was resumed four days before the primary election April 12. Although federal relief authorities denied that government funds are to be used for political purposes, federal allotments made available by the last session of congress will finance bigger WPA rolls until after the November elections.

Requirements Are Eased.

With the exception of the preprimary period last spring, an applicant for a WPA job was obliged to qualify for direct relief and to remain on relief for thirty days before he was eligible for a WPA job. Meanwhile, according to relief officials, the applicant's need for relief was thoroughly investigated.

With an election campaign imminent the requirement of thirty days on relief will be abolished, just as it was before the primary last spring. The applicant will not have to qualify for direct relief. Instead, his eligibility for a WPA job will be determined on a state-wide eligibility basis established recently by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission [IERC].

This establishes a double standard of relief giving in Chicago—the standards of the CRA and the IERC. This condition has existed downstate for a week. The change was made at the request of WPA authorities.

Relief Doles Differ.

The amount of relief doled out to a family differs from township to township throughout the state and even differs within a township depending on whether the person aided is on direct relief or WPA.

The standards of eligibility established by the IERC—applicable both to Chicago and downstate—will afford much greater relief than standards heretofore fixed by local communities. For example:

The CRA determines that John Smith, his wife, and child need $26.80 for food, $5 for medical care, and that it can give them an additional $2.25 a month—a total of $34.05. This has been the approximate standard during the past month.

But the IERC says that John Smith's family needs $26.80 for food, $6.10 for clothing, $15 for rent, $5 for gas and electricity, $1.20 for household necessities, $3.90 for carfare, $5 for medical care, and $2 for union dues—a total for the month of $65. If John Smith can fit under this need, even if he doesn't fit the CRA standard, he will be eligible for WPA.

No Field Investigation.

When the thirty day investigation period was dropped last spring relief officials merely interviewed the applicant, who signed a pauper's oath before being approved. There was no time for a field investigation of the applicant's resources.

This not only permitted an unknown number of persons who were not in actual need to obtain WPA jobs, but, as many relief officials admit, attracted to relief, in the form of a WPA job, many who probably never would have applied for relief under the old system.

The CRA announced it will begin paying half rents for all reliefers in July. The payment of rent was stopped May 18, when the CRA ran out of money. The IERC will meet today to allot the $3,400,000 in state funds for July.

WPA Turns Out Layettes for Relief Family Babies

Rockford, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—Layettes are being made by women workers on a WPA township sewing project for 166 babies expected to be born to families on relief rolls here during the next few months. The layettes include flannel gowns, slips, blankets, bands, dresses, diapers, and stockings.

Gambler Slain in Gang Style on North Side

Harry L. Minor, a west side boy who graduated from petty crime into the gambling racket a couple of years ago, was shot and killed in traditional gangland fashion last night in front of 3110 North Ashland avenue. The scene of the shooting is only a short distance from the busy Ashland-Lincoln-Belmont intersection. There were several witnesses.

Harry L. Minor.

Minor was striding toward his automobile, parked at the curb, when a man stepped up behind him and spoke. As the victim whirled about the man fired. He was only a few feet away and the bullet struck Minor full in the face. As he fell the gunman ruthlessly fired twice more into his body.

Leaps Into Cruising Car.

Next, a car in which two men were cruising slowly south drew up. Its door was thrown open and the killer leaped in. The driver sped south and turned west in Barry avenue. No clew to the identity of the man with the gun was left; the car had no license plates and the witnesses could not adequately describe him.

The victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Minor, live at 4708 Monroe street. The father is a retired engineer formerly employed by the school board.

"I haven't seen Harry for several weeks," said Minor. "He was in Florida last winter and I think he was working in a gambling house there. He told me he had a connection of the same sort here, but expected to go soon to Channel lake and spend the summer there."

Tells of Call by Two Men.

Mrs. Minor told Capt. Thomas Duffy that a week ago two dark complexioned men walked up the back stairs of her home and inquired for her son.

BULL GORES HIMSELF AS SEEN IN SIDE OF OWNER'S NEW AUTO

Atlanta, Ga., June 29.—(AP)—Dairyman Charles Brawner left his shiny new automobile parked in a pasture while he showed his cattle to a friend. There was a crash. Brawner looked around in time to see a bull goring his image in the polished surface of the car door. The reflection disappeared in dents before the animal could be chased. Then, as he maneuvered reluctantly to the other side of the automobile, the bull saw another image in another door. There was another crash.

When told that he was at Channel Lake, Wis., Mrs. Minor said they seemed disappointed and then left in a large dark limousine. She said she would be able to identify the taller of the two.

Members of the family said that Minor, who was 26 years old, was married to a southern girl who would appear for questioning today if wanted. He was said to have been employed in a gambling house in the 5900 block on Madison street.

Minor had a police record. He had been arrested in Chicago, in Oak Park, in Miami, and in Waukegan, but was convicted only once, in 1933, for carrying a concealed weapon.

COAL BOARD GOES SNOOTY IN SATIN LINED QUARTERS

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—Some federal bureaus can boast of marble halls, ornate trim, and fancy fixtures almost worth their weight in gold, but none can match the goldfish pool, the massive statuary, and the satin brocade the coal commission acquired today in an old society mansion.

The commission achieved this new high in government elegance by leasing the Edward B. McLean mansion on I street to get more room for its expanding work of regulating the soft coal industry.

What the commissioners really wanted was a bigger hearing room, and they got it. From now on they will conduct coal price hearings in the massive McLean ballroom.

Kaiser Dickers for New Haven in Switzerland

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 29.—Fearing that as former Kaiser Wilhelm II. of Germany grows older he will suffer more intensely from the cold and moisture in the Netherlands, his aids and relatives are seeking a new place of exile for him in southern Switzerland. Wilhelm has lived in Doorn, the Netherlands, since he began his exile almost twenty years ago. He was 79 years old last Jan. 27.

The former emperor's relatives chose Ascona, near sunny Locarno on Lago Maggiore, and are trying to lease or buy a part of the Monte Verita, a former hotel villa. Last winter the ex-kaiser suffered an attack of influenza and physicians advised him to seek a sunnier clime.

Seek Nazis' Permission.

His associates expressed the hope Adolf Hitler's government will permit him to move.

Though the Hohenzollern family is the biggest land owner in Germany, Wilhelm's financial position became difficult when restrictions on the transfer of money were imposed. It took weeks of negotiating to obtain permission from the Nazi government to transfer part of his income to defray expenses in his tiny castle at Doorn. His aids must report in detail to Nazi financial authorities on how the transferred money is being spent.

Loses on Investments.

Berlin bankers said that in the old days the ex-kaiser invested considerable money in foreign stocks and bonds. They added that returns from these investments now are low and that Wilhelm is compelled to draw on the income from his property in Germany to cover most of his expenses.

A number of Nazis urged the one time monarch to return to Germany and live in one of his many castles, but this suggestion met with little sympathy both among official Nazi circles and the Hohenzollerns.

Charges that labor pickets have slugged workers, dumped trucks, and stopped construction of a house in Lombard have been sent to Gov. Horner. He has been asked to send militiamen to end the disorders.

This became known yesterday when Martin P. Durkin sent an aid to Lombard to investigate. Durkin is the director of the state labor department.

Durkin acted after Charles P. Peirce, executive vice president of the Landis Award Employers' association, had forwarded the charges of a contractor employing help under the Landis award to Gov. Horner. Peirce asserted that the situation is beyond control of Lombard and Du Page county officials and asked that militia be sent to preserve order.

Denies Charges of Violence.

Earl Rieck, secretary treasurer of the Du Page county building trades council, denied the charges of violence. Unior pickets have been on duty at the building site for ten days, opposing what he termed a "feeler" by Landis award contractors to employ nonunion labor in the county. Deliveries have been prevented, he said, but truck drivers have been union members and have driven away without protest when told that the job, at Martha and May streets in Lombard, was being picketed.

Rieck's statements were denied, in turn, by William H. Wallace of La Grange, the contractor who has the contract for the Lombard residence. Wallace said union leaders have threatened him with violence, and that he has affidavits from three employés who have been slugged, and whose loads of materials were dumped in the street or turned away by the union pickets.

Tells of Agent's Warning.

Wallace said his troubles began on June 14, when Thomas Humphrey, business agent of the Du Page county building trades council, called on him and asked him if he was building the Lombard house.

"Humphrey told me," Wallace charged, "that if I didn't go along with the unions I wouldn't do any building, and also that it wouldn't be healthy for me."

Union business agents, Wallace said, prevented three different excavators from carrying out contracts to dig the basement of the house. When the first deliveries of materials were attempted, he said, the truck drivers were union members, and did turn back on meeting the pickets, as Rieck said. Later, he said, eleven loads of materials were sent to the location in trucks driven by Landis award employés, and a group of pickets, which at times numbered from fifty to seventy-five, prevented the deliveries.

"Last Saturday," Wallace charged, "H. W. Heibel of West Chicago attempted to deliver a load of gravel. Roy Leverenz, secretary-treasurer of

HOUSE ADOPTS DRIVER LICENSE MEASURE, 123-12

Liability Proposal Also Is Carried.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—A drivers' license bill and a financial responsibility bill were passed by the house of representatives this afternoon. The senate is expected to concur tomorrow in the licensing bill which it passed before the house amended it.

Thereafter, with the signature of Gov. Henry Horner, who has advocated the proposals, Illinois will become the thirty-ninth state licensing its motorists.

Republicans and Democrats, Chicago and downstate representatives joined in giving the driver bill 123 votes for and 12 against. The sentiment in the senate is similar.

15 Year Fight Ended.

Today's roll call ended fifteen years of wrangling over this safety measure. In the early years opposition came from the farmers, but this has faded with the rapid rise in fatalities on the rural roads. Last year, passage was blocked by a Democratic factional fight for the patronage; a compromise last week divided the patronage.

Under the bill destined to become law all of the 2,500,000 to 2,700,000 automobile drivers in Illinois must be licensed by May 1, 1939. This gives the authorities ten months in which to set up the administrative machinery.

Hughes to Issue Licenses.

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes will issue the license upon a written and sworn application form setting forth the applicant's qualifications. If he doubts these qualifications—either from statements on the application or, later, from accident or arrest records—the state police will examine the driver. Otherwise there will be no examinations.

A test of all drivers was considered too expensive and too much of a hardship on the public for this introductory license law. If it is found desirable, it was said that an amendment at later sessions might make such an examination universal and compulsory.

Although the application forms probably will not be prepared for another month, John Nash, head of the automobile license bureau, said these forms probably will include a complete statement of driving experience, of trafic knowledge and of any physical handicaps. A false statement might be detected by the police with any arrest or in any accident report and would be subject to prosecution under the criminal statutes for perjury.

Fee 50 Cents for 3 Years.

The fee, under the bill as it is to be passed, will be 50 cents for three years for those over 18 years old. For those younger, the fee is to be 25 cents for three years.

Revocation will be at the discretion of the courts rather than at the discretion of administrative officer, as proposed originally. The revocation will be for a period of not less than thirty days or more than one year after conviction or forfeiture of bail on any of the following charges: Manslaughter with an auto, driving when drunk, any felony in which a car is used, and perjury in obtaining a driver's license.

The same penalty may be invoked after three convictions or forfeitures of bail within any twelve successive months for speeding or for reckless driving.

Ready for Signature.

The financial responsibility bill, a companion safety measure, was passed without oratory by a vote of 128 to 4. This bill, already passed by the senate, was not amended in the house. It will become a law with the governor's signature.

Under the financial responsibility law as it is functioning satisfactorily in other states a driver convicted in a civil suit for damages loses his license until the judgment is paid and a liability insurance policy posted to protect the public against the damages a second act of carelessness might cause. It is not compulsory insurance, but it is an inducement to carry a liability policy.

ELMER HAS THE LAST WORD

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—Blistering personalities sizzled across the floor of the house of representatives today between the partisan leaders, Benjamin S. Adamowski, Democrat, and Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Republican, both of Chicago.

High points in the abusive debate came when Adamowski charged Schnackenberg with being a puppet for Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Schnackenberg replied by calling his youthful opponent "a political parvenu suffering from megalomania."

Such name calling is rare in either chamber of the legislature so the house enjoyed it thoroughly, as evidenced by the rapt attention the members gave the accusers.

Attacks Are Privileged.

Both men spoke under the wide latitude of personal privilege. Adamowski spoke first, castigating Kelly and Lieut. Gov. John Stelle and declaring that they had brought about the defeat of two measures in the Democratic harmony program—the use and producers' taxes—which would have brought in new revenue to replace relief appropriations from the state treasury.

Adamowski, charging that Stelle and Schnackenberg were under the mayor's dominance, said the Republican leader actually had spoken for the mayor in the special session, while pretending to be the representative of his party.

By inference the Democratic leader charged that the mayor had placed the Republican leader on one knee and the lieutenant governor on the other, and operated them from Chicago.

Schnackenberg's Reply.

Then Schnackenberg took the floor to open a counterassault upon Adamowski.

"The young man has had a kaleidoscopic career, leaving the group which made him [the Nash-Kelly organization] for the group which held out some advantage to him for joining it [the Horner-Courtney faction]," he said.

"Last year I called him the daring young man on the flying trapeze, but he has lost his daring. Now he is a political parvenu suffering from megalomania. When he speaks it is the wail of a discouraged leader who is surveying the wreckage of the machine turned over to him for handling."

In conclusion Schnackenberg asked his fellow Republicans if he had their confidence and was rewarded by a unanimous "yes," plus applause.

PARK EMPLOYES LOSE BACK PAY OF HALF MILLION

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday reversed a decision of Judge Harry M. Fisher and ruled that 488 present and former policemen and other employés of the old south park district are not entitled to a total of $520,333 in back pay under the 20 per cent reductions in effect from 1932 to 1934.

The suit was directed against the Chicago Park district, a consolidation of all the city parks. Attorney Joseph B. Fleming, counsel for the parks, said the ruling will save the park board from paying out an additional $700,000 as restoration of similar pay cuts to other park employés.

The Appellate opinion, written by Justice Denis E. Sullivan and concurred in by Justices Oscar Hebel and Ross C. Hall, held that the employés were guilty of undue delay in not starting court action until four years after the reductions were made.

DEDICATE NEW OUTLET FOR 47TH STREET TONIGHT

The new 47th street improvement will be dedicated tonight with ceremonies conducted by the Kenwood chamber of commerce. The improvement, which cost $1,000,000, includes a subway under the Illinois Central railroad tracks, extension of 47th street to the outer drive, and an overhead bridge and roadway over 47th street for southbound outer drive trafic. The celebration will begin with a parade expected to reach 47th street and the outer drive at 8 p. m. The dedication will be between the new subway and the outer drive.

Senator Borah Keeps Busy During His 73d Birthday

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—It was business as usual for Senator Borah [R., Idaho] today, on his 73d birthday. Working at his office, Borah took time out to tell newspaper men: "If we would let the rest of the world alone, and they would let us alone, I would feel very optimistic." Borah, whose more than 31 years of service have made him the dean of the senate, said that "taking the country as a whole" he envied "the young man who is just starting active life."

CHICAGO RISKS U. S. PENALTY FOR TAX DIVERSION

City Gets 4 Millions for Street Work.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—[Special.] Chicago will receive 4 million dollars for street improvements, enough to finance its share of $7,272,000 worth of PWA projects, under provisions of a new agreement on diversion of the city's gasoline tax revenue which was incorporated by the senate today in amendments to house bills relative to distribution of the tax.

With this agreement, the building material and construction industries have withdrawn their threat of a federal court attack on all Illinois diversions from its road funds, including the 50 million dollars in relief bonds.

Under the agreement it was said that there no longer is a likelihood of the United States department of agriculture withholding $1,900,000 of its regular grants to the state highway department as a penalty for diverting $2,500,000 of Chicago's gas tax revenue for relief.

Chicago Assumes Risk.

The Chicago negotiators agreed to a separate amendment under which Chicago assumes this reduced risk of a federal penalty. If a penalty should be imposed by Washington upon the Illinois highway department, the department will be compensated with funds from Chicago's gas revenue.

The new program does not change the relief setup. Chicago still is to spend $2,500,000 of its motor fuel revenue on relief between July 1, 1938, and Feb. 1, 1939.

The change is in the new limitations on the 3 million dollars a year that the board of education has been receiving from the city's gasoline revenue since 1934. As the bill was passed by the house, this diversion to the schools would be ended on July 1, 1941.

Diversion Halts Jan. 1, 1941.

Under the present setup, which has been approved by representatives of Mayor Edward J. Kelly and of Gov. Henry Horner, the diversion from the city's road funds to the schools will be cut $500,000 in 1938, 1 million in 1939, and 1 million in 1940. All of this diversion will be halted on Jan. 1, 1941, rather than on July 1, 1941, as the bills originally provided.

Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], who introduced the amendments, said that the Chicago schools will be able to take this curtailment in their revenue from the gas funds because with federal grants there no longer will be as great a requirement for city money for construction and because with an improvement in business the appropriation from the city's corporate fund can be raised.

As amended, the senate advanced the bills to third reading for passage tomorrow.

Navigation Day Preview Lighted by Huge Beacon

In the spotlight of the two billion candlepower beam of the Palmolive beacon, the fireboat Fred Busse last night presented a preview off Navy pier of the spectacular show it will give July 10 as part of Chicago's Navigation day observance. The boat was made available by Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan, and permission to halt the beacon temporarily was granted by Carl McCluer of the Third Airways district, bureau of air commerce.

Name Callers

Representatives Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Republican (left), and Benjamin Adamowski, who engaged in bitter personal warfare on floor of house yesterday in Springfield. Adamowski charged Schnackenberg with being a puppet of Mayor Kelly, and the Republican replied that Adamowski is an "upstart with delusions of grandeur."

URGES TEACHING OF DEMOCRACY IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Principal Calls History Courses Distorted.

Unless high schools do more to educate youth in the principles of democracy, the nation's young people may become prey to demagogues and would-be dictators.

This warning was voiced yesterday in a symposium on high school programs which was a part of a conference of school administrators meeting in Patten gymnasium at Northwestern university. The conference is sponsored by the university school of education.

Wrong Emphasis Assailed.

Harry G. Anderson, principal of Ottawa Township High school, Ottawa, Ill., "Boys and girls must be made to understand that democratic government is as good as the people want it to be." He contended that too much emphasis has been placed on people and dates in history, without enough on economic and sociological factors which caused historic events to take place.

G. Robert Koopman, assistant state superintendent of the Michigan state department of public instruction, told the conference: "Unless high school curricula and school administrators change within the next ten years the high school system will collapse. The curriculum should be improved in interests of democracy. Pupils should be taught how the world actually operates."

How to Get Along.

"How to get along with other people as neighbors and citizens is the most important thing to teach young people," said Prof. Francis C. Rosecrance of the Northwestern university school of education. "A person is not able to solve the major problems of life because he has studied history or passed tests. He must know how to get along in society."

KENNEDY DENIES OWING JOBS TO ROOSEVELT SON

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, today denied the truth of a statement published in the Saturday Evening Post which said that James Roosevelt, son of the President, "has helped Kennedy to reach the two great positions he now holds—that of ambassador to London and that of premier Scotch whisky salesman in America."

Joseph P. Kennedy. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

"The article tries to make me out a phoney," said Kennedy before sailing on the Normandie for London, "but if all of it is as true as the part I have read about myself it is a complete, unadulterated lie."

TAX EXEMPTION OF NEW HOUSING PROJECTS DENIED

Senate Exempts Only South Park Building.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—Choosing to risk the loss of 100 million dollars in federal housing funds, the senate today closed the door to tax exemptions for future housing projects.

Advocates of the tax exemption urged vainly that a bill dictated by Washington be approved so that Illinois may receive 56 millions already earmarked for this state and an additional 50 millions expected to be made available for low cost housing projects.

Exempt South Park Project.

Projects were being planned for downstate cities including Peoria and Springfield as well as for Chicago. When for the third time in two weeks a roll call today showed that the bill would be beaten, it was amended to make it apply only to South Park Gardens in Chicago, a project for Negroes, which already is under way.

This concession was made to prevent suffering because hundreds of dwellings have been torn down to make way for the federal project, several senators made plain.

In lieu of taxes, 5 per cent of the total rentals collected are to be paid to local governments for this project. This is about one-ninth the amount of normal taxation, according to Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, minority floor leader.

Fee Paid for Protection.

Two other Chicago projects, now occupied, were not involved in the proposed legislation because they were automatically exempt from taxation when constructed under a previous federal housing act. The city receives a $39,000 annual payment for fire and police protection and other services at these projects—the Jane Addams and Julia Lathrop homes.

Senator Thomas E. Madden [D., Peoria] made frantic attempts to get in touch with the federal housing administrato. in Washington before calling the bills up for consideration, but failed.

A roll call showed only 18 votes for tax exemption—fewer than on previous tests—so Madden gave the signal to Harold G. Ward of Chicago, majority floor leader, to put in the south park exemption, which will be voted on tomorrow.

Bond Market Provided.

Housing authorities, created to build and operate the subsidized dwellings, also were provided with new markets for their bonds, under the other bill. Banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians and trustees, and local governments may use any of their funds in purchase of housing authority bonds.

Efforts were being made to arrange for the lower house to remain in session Thursday after midnight to concur in the senate action.

4 HURT SLIGHTLY IN STREET CAR CRASH NEAR LOOP

Four persons were slightly injured yesterday when two street cars crashed at Grand and Wabash avenues because of a defective switch. Taken to Passavant hospital for first aid treatment, they were Thomas Cavanaugh, 57 years old, of 5634 South Hoyne avenue, and his son William, 9; S. A. Helm, 64, of Des Plaines, and Arthur Saunders, 40, of 206 North Lamon avenue. The accident occurred when the west bound car suddenly turned south at Wabash instead of continuing on Grand avenue, and struck the east bound car.

PRESIDENT SIGNS FLOOD CONTROL BILL, 55 OTHERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., June 29.—[Special.]—With a reluctant pen President Roosevelt today signed the $386,500,000 pork barrel rivers, harbors, and flood control bill, passed in the closing days of the 75th congress as members prepared to go home and seek reëlection.

The bill was one of fifty-six which received presidential approval during the day. Seven were killed by pocket vetoes under that provision of the constitution which states that if the President does not sign a bill within ten days after it reaches his desk, upon the adjournment of congress, it shall not become a law. If the President does not sign a bill within ten days after it reaches him while congress is in session it becomes a law without his signature.

Issues Written Explanation.

In a statement of explanation on the signing of the bill Mr. Roosevelt said: "I have approved this bill with some reluctance. It authorizes but does not appropriate the money for a large number of public works on rivers and harbors, these authorizations being in addition to many other very large authorizations already on the statute books, but for which money has not been appropriated.

"Insofar as this bill provides for an improvement in jurisdictional control over the properties involved, and a more adequate control over consequential power developments, it is a definite step in the right direction.

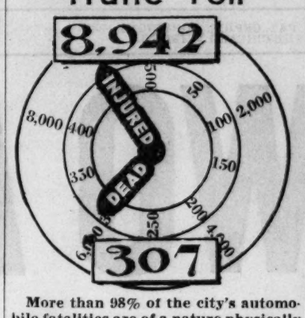
"I am in doubt as to the value of some of the projects provided for, and it is unwise to place recommendations to the congress solely in the hands of the engineer corps of the army in some cases and of the department of agriculture in other cases."

New Aids to Labor.

Another approved bill, pushed by labor, amended the act which makes it a felony to transport in interstate or foreign commerce persons to be employed to obstruct or interfere with the right of peaceful picketing. The amended bill twists the former law several notches tighter in favor of labor.

From bills President Roosevelt turned his attention to two speeches he will make in New York tomorrow. He will speak briefly at the laying of the cornerstone of the federal building of New York's 1939 world's fair and a few minutes later and a mile away will address the National Education society.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

WOMAN G. O. P. DELEGATE DIES, 5 HURT IN CRASH

Mrs. Lillian Greene Anderson, 42 years old, of Hammond, Ind., a delegate to the Indiana Republican convention at Indianapolis, was killed last night in an automobile collision on U. S. highway 52, two miles north of Lebanon, Ind., while returning to her home.

Five other persons were injured, one seriously. Three of them were from Hammond and also had attended the convention as delegates. They were Mrs. Jacob Barnings, who was seriously injured; H. E. Howard, and Harold Bittner. The others were Noland Fehl of Cincinnati, O., and his son Norman.

Police were told that in a traffic jam Fehl's car sidewiped a truck and then plunged into the side of the other automobile, driven by Howard, which overturned in a ditch.

At 4 p. m. yesterday, 24 hours had passed without a trafic fatality in Chicago and Cook county. Up to that time, 401 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 307 were killed in Chicago, where 8,942 were injured in the same period.

SEAGOING FIRE IMBUES EUGENE; SHIVERS IN JAIL

Perhaps Eugene Olson, 17 years old, had never heard of Capt. Kidd and the buccaneers, but the spirit of adventure moved him yesterday when he reached Belmont harbor for a dip in the lake.

Eugene, who lives at 2501 Southport avenue, saw moored to the dock an inboard motor boat, used as a dinghy by John T. Snite, son of the Albert P. Snites of Highland Park, for his yacht, the Bagheera. No one was about at the time.

So Eugene jumped in the boat, called to a couple of pals, and for two hours scooted along the shore between the harbor and Diversey beach until Capt. Gordon Dinsbury of the harbor coast guard patrol caught him. Eugene, clad only in the trunks with which he went to the beach, was locked up by police.

ROOSEVELT GOES AFTER 3 SCALPS ON RULES BODY

Chairman O'Connor Made Target in Party Purge.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—In an effort to obtain absolute control of the rules committee, which determines whether legislation shall have the right of way in the house of representatives, the Roosevelt administration has marked Chairman John J. O'Connor of New York for slaughter at the polls in the Democratic primary next Sept. 20.

Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick, radical New York regional director of the National Labor Relations board, will be the administration's candidate against Representative O'Connor.

The administration's undertaking to purge the Democratic party of senators and representatives who have defied the will of President Roosevelt, officially confirmed by the President in his radio talk last Friday night, also will be directed against two other members of the rules committee.

Another Georgian Marked.

It was disclosed last week that the President's board of strategy, including James Roosevelt and Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran, is backing young William E. Dodd Jr., son of the former ambassador to Germany, against Representative Howard W. Smith of Virginia. Today it was learned in high official quarters that Representative Eugene E. Cox of Georgia has been marked for the White House guillotine.

Against Representative Cox the administration will support Circuit Judge Jewell V. Crowe, who will run on a "Roosevelt Can Do No Wrong" appeal.

Representative Cox is a friend and supporter of Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], one of the nine Democratic senators up for reëlection this year who have been proscribed by the administration because they opposed the President's scheme to pack the United States Supreme court.

Plan Has Twofold Purpose.

The purpose of the administration in seeking to defeat Chairman O'Connor and Representatives Smith and Cox, it was explained in official quarters, is to gain absolute control of the rules committee personnel, and, incidentally, placate John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization and Labor's Nonpartisan league.

These organizations are clamoring for a change in the rules to divest the rules committee of its power because it was that group which defied Lewis and bottled up the Walsh-Healey government contracts bill, proposing a blacklist for corporations held to have violated the Wagner labor relations act.

The administration wants no change in the powers of the rules committee, since it is needed to control the administration's own legislative program and block all unwanted legislation.

Roosevelt's Own Doing.

The administration itself put through the rule, early in Mr. Roosevelt's first term, requiring the signatures of a majority of the house to discharge the rules committee from further consideration of a bill.

The rules committee, as presently constituted, incurred the animosity of the administration when it twice bottled up the wages and hours bill and forced the administration house leadership to resort to the cumbersome petition method to get the measure on the floor. Five southern Democrats joined with three Republicans to give the opposition a majority of 8 to 6.

Besides Smith and Cox the other southerners were William J. Driver of Arkansas, J. Bayard Clark of North Carolina, and Martin Dies of Texas. Although the administration is opposed to these members, they are said to be firmly intrenched in their districts and are expected to have no serious opposition.

Two Out of Three Would Do.

The defeat of only two of the three Democratic members marked for the purge, however, would give the administration absolute control of the committee.

Chairman O'Connor, the third most powerful house leader, supported the wages and hours bill, as did most northern Democrats and many Republicans, including Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, a member of the rules committee.

O'Connor, however, was known to be strongly opposed to the court packing bill, which never came up for consideration in the house, and he was leader of the successful fight to shelve the bill to give President Roosevelt dictatorial powers to reorganize the federal government.

Of the three Democratic rules committee members marked for the purge, President Roosevelt's political advisers are most confident of defeating O'Connor.

Organized Labor Party.

Mrs. Herrick, the New York Labor Relations board director, took a leave of absence from her official position in 1936 to help organize the American Labor party in behalf of President Roosevelt's candidacy for reelection. She has been called a C. I. O. partisan and Communist sympathizer by Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.], by representatives of the American Federation of Labor and other critics of the labor board.

Paul Scharrenberg, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, told the senate commerce committee at a merchant marine investigation last winter that Mrs. Herrick not only destroyed the trade union contract between the International Seamen's union [A. F. of L.] and the Atlantic Coast Ship lines, but sponsored organization of the National Maritime union, affiliated with the C. I. O.

Administration Fights Party Foes

(Story in adjoining column.)

In an attempt to gain control of the powerful house rules committee the Roosevelt administration has prepared to enter the primary lists. Representative Cox (left), Georgia Democrat, will be opposed by Judge Jewell Crowe, who will run as a Roosevelt supporter. Chairman John O'Connor of the rules committee (right) will be opposed by Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick (center), radical regional director of the national labor relations board.

LOVE STRIKER GIVES UP HER TEN DAY SITDOWN TO WIN WEDDING RING

Irvington, N. Y., June 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hedwig Heusser, young, red-haired divorcee, gave up her ten-day love vigil today and mournfully left the home of Rollo K. Blanchard, wealthy manufacturer, with the announcement, "If he's a gentleman, he knows what he has to do."

Mrs. Heusser had installed herself in Blanchard's bedroom on the second floor of his red brick mansion and had declared she would stay there until he agreed to marry her. When the siege began, Blanchard, who is 50 years old, fled from his home and has been staying with a friend.

It was learned that Mrs. Heusser was hostess last night at a farewell party at the Blanchard home, with five men and women detectives, who were supposed to be guarding her, as her guests. Mrs. Heusser cooked a chicken, Hungarian style.

MYSTERY BOMB HURLED AT HOME PERILS GIRL, 16

Chicago Lawn police were puzzled last night about the mysterious explosion of a black powder bomb on the front steps of a cottage at 3743 Marquette road. Miss Yvonne Silvestre, 16 years old, who lives there with her mother, Emma, narrowly escaped injury.

Mrs. Silvestre told Lieut. Richard Lawler that two men drove up in a dark sedan to her home, which is in an isolated section of the prairie. One stepped out and tossed the bomb at the porch steps.

As he jumped back into the car Miss Silvestre, who had been to the grocery, came around the corner of the cottage. The bomb exploded, breaking the lower steps and the front window, showering her with glass. Mrs. Silvestre was at a loss to supply a motive for the attack.

SHOOTS HIMSELF TO DEATH.

An unidentified man, about 35 years old, shot himself to death last night in Union park at Ashland avenue and Washington boulevard.

BRITISH BISHOP BLAMES DEMONS FOR CROP LOSSES

Calls Nature Victim of Evil Influence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—Dr. B. O. F. Heywood, bishop of Ely, believes that demons, evil spirits, or dark angels may be to blame for crop losses suffered by British farmers this year.

The bishop, addressing the summer festival Ely diocesan conference, said: "Discarnate, rebellious spirits may have some temporary and limited power to exercise evil influence in the realm of nature as they apparently have in the realm of humanity."

Hits Lack of Imagination.

He added that the Church of England's doctrinal commission, in indorsing disbelief in angels and demons, had shown lack of imagination.

Dr. Heywood told the conference that late frosts had done a lot of harm in the fruit growing Ely district, and that drouth and cold weather had impoverished and perplexed people who wondered why nature should destroy its own handiwork.

Bishop Points to Bible.

"It seems clear to me that nature does not perfectly express the will of God," the bishop said. "We have the authority of the Bible for believing that something has happened and continues to happen in subhuman nature which might not unfairly be compared to the fall in our human nature.

"Those who wish to pursue the subject would do well to read verses 18 to 23 of the eighth chapter of the Epistle to the Romans, in which St. Paul seems to suggest that not man only but the whole creation needs redemption."

SOUTH SIDE GAS STATIONS ACT TO STOP PRICE WAR

Eighty south side service station owners moved last night to end the city-wide gasoline price war which has temporarily benefited motorists. They voted to abolish all reductions among themselves at the close of business tonight and will request 350 other station owners on the south side to do likewise.

Spokesmen for eighty owners of independent stations, P. J. Cullinane and Arthur Waldron, said gasoline dealers in other parts of the city also have indicated they will stop cutting prices.

During the price war regular gasoline, which was selling at 19.5 cents a gallon previously, was down to an average of about 16.5 cents. Ethyl gasoline, formerly selling at 21.5 cents a gallon, could also be bought at about 3 cents less.

U. S. Birthrate Up in '37; First Time Since 1915

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—The census bureau today reported that there were seventeen births per 1,000 population in the United States last year. In 1936 the figure was 16.7. Since 1915 the birthrate generally had been declining.

PRESIDENT GETS OFFICIAL O. K. ON HIS PARTY PURGE

Senate Probers Adopt a "Hands Off" Policy.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—The senate campaign investigating committee has decided, it was learned today, that President Roosevelt's activities to influence votes for candidates he favors and against candidates he disapproves do not come within its jurisdiction.

The question was brought up in the committee in connection with Deputy Works Progress Administrator Aubrey Williams' speech urging voters on the relief rolls to "keep your friends in power." The committee mildly rebuked Mr. Williams for such political activity, pronouncing his speech "unfortunate" in view of his position in the relief organization.

One committee member raised the question whether Mr. Williams, in using his office to influence voters to keep the Roosevelt administration in power, is doing anything different from what Mr. Roosevelt is doing when he employs the prestige and power of his high position to elect his friends to office and to defeat his opponents.

Sheppard Emphasizes Difference.

Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], chairman of the committee, said the conclusion reached was that inasmuch as the President, in taking the stump for and against candidates, would be addressing the voters at large, he would not be coercing or unduly influencing any particular group of voters.

"A general speech by the President to the country at large," said Senator Sheppard, "presents an entirely different situation from that of Deputy Works Progress Administrator Williams in addressing relief enrollees. The President is entirely within his rights in making a general statement to the country at large. Therefore his activities in this respect do not come within the jurisdiction of the campaign investigating committee."

There have been numerous repercussions of the famous Friday night fireside chat in which the President announced that, as head of his party, he would enter Democratic primaries to aid his friends and chastise his opponents.

Distinction Is Emphasized.

The distinction the President made between Roosevelt, the President, and Roosevelt, the party leader, figured, for example, in the argument which defeated the National Labor Relations board last Monday in the first round of its attack on the American Rolling Mill company.

Donald Richberg, former head of the NRA, who is counsel for the company, won the elimination of that part of the board's complaint charging the company officers with unfair labor practices in campaigning for candidates with anti-union sympathies in a municipal election. Mr. Richberg argued the employers were exercising inalienable rights of a citizen.

"The question may be raised as to how to distinguish between the activities of an employer as an employer and as a citizen," Mr. Richberg continued. "The answer is that the distinction must be made or else, by law, we put employers in a class of citizens with limited rights of citizenship.

Acts in Private Capacity.

"A very good example was given the other day of the distinction which I have been making.

"The President of the United States, in his recent fireside talk, stated, in substance, that, as President of the United States, he could not or should not participate in primary election contests. But he pointed out that as a citizen, as a Democrat, and as head of the Democratic party, he had the right to express his opinions and to support or oppose candidates in Democratic primaries.

"This reasoning of the President is very much in point and emphasizes the fact that restrictions imposed upon a person because of his position or occupation must be confined to acts in his position or occupation and cannot and should not be extended to restrict his activities as a citizen exercising freedom of suffrage, the right of free speech, and access to a free press."

Senator Sheppard stated that the committee regards the Williams speech as a closed incident.

Bids for foodstuffs will be opened July 6 Col. Richard Swanson, United States property and disbursing officer at the camp, said today. Supplies also will include 44,400 pounds of fresh beef, 3,600 pounds of frankfurters, 7,680 pounds of bacon, 720 pounds of cheese, 8,000 cantaloupes, 32,000 ears of sweet corn, 17,000 heads of lettuce, 60,400 loaves of bread, 4,080 cans of jam, 2,480 jars of pickles, 720 pounds of spaghetti, 3,520 cans of sweet potatoes, and 70,800 pounds of white potatoes.

DROPS EFFORTS TO VOID DIVORCE GIVEN ORGANIST

Ted Hill, of Miami Beach, Fla., former wealthy oil man, yesterday dropped his motion to vacate the divorce granted last month to Mrs. Irma Hill, of 18 Witchwood lane, Lake Bluff, a radio organist known as Irma Glen.

Hill's attorney, William Behanna, told Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan, that a satisfactory property settlement, which had been under negotiation before the divorce, had been reached.

Hill sued to set aside the decree alleging fraud. He denied his wife's charges of cruelty and said that she had violated an oral agreement in filing suit prematurely.

Naval Reservists Start Sub Chaser Training Tomorrow

Eight submarine chasers anchored early today in Waukegan harbor, ready to receive naval reservists who will start a training cruise on the Great Lakes tomorrow. The ships, whose crews total 160 enlisted men and 56 officers, are under the command of Commander Frank C. Huntoon.

TRUSTEE NAMED BY U. S. COURT FOR CLOSED HOSPITAL

Judge William H. Holly in federal court yesterday named Dr. Howard Goodsmith, surgeon in chief at the Martha Washington hospital, as temporary trustee of the West Side hospital, 1844 Harrison street. The court acted on a petition filed last Friday by three creditors of the hospital asking its reorganization under section 77-B of the bankruptcy law. The hospital was closed June 16 by the city board of health for alleged violation of health regulations. Meanwhile in the Circuit court of Judge John Prystalski yesterday nurses and doctors at the hospital continued to defend the institution in its suit to compel city authorities to permit it to reopen.

SEES TWO IN CAR STEAL HIS DOG; DEMANDS RETURN

If Stewart Mair does not get his valuable wire haired fox terrier back by 10 o'clock this morning, he told Sherif Lawrence A. Doolittle of Lake county, he will seek an order for the arrest of the suspected thief.

Mair took down the license number of a gray sedan bearing a man and a woman, which stopped beside his cornfield yesterday while the woman stole his dog. Mair works in the Thomas E. Wilson estate on Telegraph road, five miles southwest of Waukegan.

Sherif Doolittle said that in the last year many valuable dogs have been stolen in Lake county, supposedly by a ring specializing in this type of thievery.

TOKIO BANS USE OF COTTON, IRON GOODS IN JAPAN

Buyers Scramble for Last Stocks of Cloth.

TOKIO, June 29.—(AP)—Japan has tightened her economic belt again to aid in fighting the war in China. The government today published a ban against production for home use of a long list of cotton and iron products.

The decree was designed in part to promote export trade, particularly in cotton textiles, without increasing imports of raw materials—a device to expand financial resources to meet war costs.

The move brought wild excitement to textile markets as manufacturers fought to buy up raw cotton. Export manufacturers were happy, but retailers—with a prospective, sharp curtailment of domestic sales—were in near panic.

The scramble of retailers for every available bolt of finished cloth added to the market tumult, causing scenes like those in an American department store basement on bargain day.

Organize "Economic Detectives."

The government declared the ban was "absolutely necessary" and, with a warning against hoarding or profiteering, announced formation of a corps of "economic detectives."

The government pleaded for calmness and assured the nation that present stocks of raw cotton would be sufficient to last this year and that staple fiber and synthetic products would be used thereafter.

Commerce Minister Seihin Ikeda signed the decree listing forty-seven types of articles to be banned from production for domestic use after Friday and announced that thirty-four other kinds of domestic goods would be banned starting July 15.

The newspapers found some humor in the probable immediate shortage of such articles as razors, scissors, and gadgets used in feminine hairdressing.

Permanent Waves Doomed.

They predicted Japan soon would become a "long haired nation" with beards and mustaches to be seen everywhere and predicted an "automatic settlement" of the vexing permanent wave problem which has been annoying police. Efforts have been made to discontinue the fashion on the ground that it is immoral and frivolous in a time of emergency.

Machinery to be used in making beer and other alcoholic beverages also will not be replaced. Not only was a list of iron articles prohibited, but also machinery for their manufacture was banned.

The government also prepared to invoke two more articles of the national mobilization law to augment skilled personnel in munitions factories. The law authorizes the government to register and draft all trained engineers for this purpose.

Must Pay Cash Abroad.

Japan can send troops to China indefinitly and provide them with arms and other supplies if she can get the raw materials needed—above all, metal and cotton, chemicals and oil.

But the nations having these are trading entirely on a cash basis. Japan is getting little, if any, credit and is paying for her war as she fights. Thus London and New York, chiefly, have become Japan's economic battle fronts.

When the war started last July 7 observers doubted that Japan could finance it for six months. They pointed to her slim specie reserve, $400,000,000, and to the lopsided trade ledger for the year—imports were exceeding exports.

But several factors since have worked to confound this calculation. Japan is mining enough gold to help in cash buying. She is drawing on reserves abroad, piled up in pre-war days.

Puppet Official Slain.

SHANGHAI, June 29.—(AP)—Shen Teh-ling, director of the shipping control bureau of the Japanese fostered Shanghai reformed government, was assassinated today. His death was the fifth political murder in ten days by alleged anti-Japanese elements operating against Chinese puppet officials of the Japanese.

NEW SHIFT OF JAP YANGTZE RIVER DRIVE EXPECTED

SHANGHAI, June 29.—(AP)—Chinese military authorities tonight expressed belief that Japan was preparing for a new thrust into the heart of China south of the Yangtze river to cut the main line of communications linking Hankow, the provisional capital, with the outside world.

They admitted that the Matowchen boom defenses barring Japan's upriver advance some 175 miles below Hankow soon might give way under the relentless pounding of Japanese air bombers and gunboats.

If the Matowchen defenses fall, the Chinese expect the invaders to attempt to force their way into Poyang lake, in Kiangsi province, attack Nanchang, and then launch an overland offensive against Changsha on the Hankow-Canton railroad south of Hankow.

Steady Japanese air bombing attacks upon Nanchang in the last few days add weight to these predictions. The Chinese reported that yesterday 30 persons were killed and more than 100 houses destroyed in a Japanese aerial attack on Nanchang.

Dr. Jordan Made Colonel in Medical Reserve Corps

JERUSALEM, June 29.—(AP)—The first Jew condemned to death under the Holy Land's emergency military regulations was hanged today at Acre. He was Benjamin Joseph, of Polish origin, who was convicted by a military tribunal of ambushing an Arab bus last April 21. He was 19 years old.

RULE OF BRITISH PREMIER PERILED IN 'SPY ACT' ROW

3 Inquiries Launched Over Leak of Army Secrets.

See Puppet Parliament.

The opposition charged that if activities of parliamentarians in getting information and using such information to raise questions of public interest and importance in parliament are to be made subject to government restriction through the official secrets act, parliament might as well close down.

Critics of the government said that in that case it would be merely a docile voting machine like Mussolini's chamber of deputies in Italy and that the safeguards of freedom and democracy would be imperiled.

In this case Sandys has not actually divulged any information. He merely wrote a letter to Hore-Belisha which contained facts the minister alleged were known only to five persons.

Quizzed by Attorney General.

Pressed to reveal where he got the information by Attorney General Sir Donald Somervell under pain of application of penalties of the official secrets act, Sandys appealed on a matter of privilege.

The war ministry's position was that it wanted to identify the person who had spilled the information to Sandys. In an agreement with the government the army council yesterday ordered an investigation of the case to be followed by a court martial when the culprit is discovered.

Members of parliament criticized the simultaneous calling of two inquiries—by the select committee and by the military court—which has led to a third investigation by the committee of privileges.

THE "DREYFUS CASE."

Alfred Dreyfus, a young Jewish captain in the French army, was convicted of selling military information to Germany in 1894 and was sentenced to life imprisonment and taken to Devil's island. Because of charges that he had been "framed," Dreyfus again was tried four years later and again was convicted. He was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, but he won a pardon. Another officer confessed guilt and eight years later the Supreme court proclaimed Dreyfus' innocence. He was restored to the army, which promoted him to major. Dreyfus died July 12, 1935.

FRANCE DECREES DEATH FOR SPIES IN TIME OF PEACE

Stiffens Penalty to Check Increase of Plots.

PARIS, June 29.—(AP)—France today followed the lead of several other European nations and ordered death on the guillotine for peacetime spying.

The reason for the new decree, officials said, was the progressive increase of espionage in France during the last few years.

In the Strasbourg area alone—near the German frontier—there were 150 convictions on espionage charges in 1937. This year such convictions have averaged nearly four a week.

Foreign Penalties Cited.

"It seems necessary," said the official announcement, "to take one more step to reinforce spy suppression and take advantage of the solution which a majority of foreign legislation has made effective."

Forms of espionage for which the death penalty may be imposed include entering into a contract with a foreign power with the intent of weakening the national defense, taking up arms in a foreign army against France, and supplying information to a foreign power concerning inventions, manufacturing processes, studies, industrial methods, maps, documents or military plans which might be used against France in time of war.

Restricts Residence Areas.

The decree also empowered the government to forbid foreigners to reside within a certain distance of fortifications and defense works.

Nations which already have put the death penalty into practice as a penalty for espionage include Germany, Italy, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania. Soviet Russia also has executed many of her own nationals as spies.

DEMANDS COUNT RETURN TO FACE HEIRESS' CHARGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 29.—Police Magistrate T. W. Fry of the Bow Street court today refused to fix a date for a hearing of the charges which Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow brought against her husband last week when she swore out a warant for his arrest if he sets foot in England.

Magistrate Fry told the countess' lawyer, Sir Patrick Hastings, that he would not set a date for the hearing until the Danish count, who is now in Paris, arrives in England. Countess Barbara, heiress to the Woolworth five and ten cent store millions, was not in court.

Norman Birkett, famous British lawyer, appeared for Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow. The hearing was attended by Supt. Yandell of Scotland Yard and another criminal investigation department officer. The count is alleged to have used threats against his wife and one of her gentleman friends. These threats rather than reports that the countess feared her husband would attempt to kidnap their son, Lance, 2 years old, were said to have brought Scotland Yard into the case.

Boasts to Boys, Dives, and Stays Under Until Drowned

Key West, Fla., June 29.—(AP)—Harry Perez, 51 years old, retired lighthouse service engineer, boasted before a group of boy swimmers of his ability to stay under water. As they watched, he dived. Several minutes later his body rose through the water. An ambulance crew pronounced him dead.

Degna Marconi at marriage to Prof. Gabrielle Paresce.

SPOLETO, Italy, June 29.—This city has returned to normal following the marriage of Degna Marconi, daughter of the late inventor, to Prof. Gabrielle Paresce, Italian diplomat, which brought an influx of newspaper reporters and photographers. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Pietro Tagliapietro. Paresce is press attaché of the Italian embassy in London.

100 JAPS KILLED BY QUAKE AND 12 INCH RAIN

TOKIO, June 30 [Thursday].—(AP)—Japan's worst storm in sixty years and a heavy earthquake today left a death toll of 100 persons, most of them in Tokio and Yokohama. More than twelve inches of rain fell between dawn and midnight Wednesday.

The deluge broke all records since the establishment of Japan's central meteorological observatory sixty years ago. Police said 150,000 homes in Tokio were inundated, the water in many reaching to the second floor. A quake shook Tokio during the worst of the storm, leveling several houses. Meteorologists warned that a typhoon was approaching.

FRANCO ADVISED TO GO EASY WITH SHIP BOMBINGS

But Italy Approves Raids on Contraband Cargoes.

ROME, June 29.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Fascist régime declared today that Italy had advised Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish insurgent leader, to use moderation in his efforts to prevent British and other foreign ships from bringing supplies to government Spain.

The spokesman, the noted editor Virginio Gayda, said, however, that Italy approved of the bombing of vessels carrying contraband, but disclaimed Italian responsibility for it.

"The rule that the flag covers the merchandise certainly cannot govern in a struggle which has for its end the life and fortune of an entire nation," he said.

Cites Measures by Franco.

In an inspired article in the Giornale d'Italia, Gayda disclosed the content of the conversation last night between the Earl of Perth, Britain's ambassador, and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

The editor said Ciano told Lord Perth that Franco already had taken measures to give the British government satisfaction with regard to the long list of bombings of British ships, against which London has protested vigorously.

These measures, Gayda said, were:

First, Franco had given orders that British ships should not be attacked while navigating.

Second, he had ordered that the British flag be respected as far as possible in Spanish government ports.

Third, Franco was willing to name free ports in western Spain [insurgent held] where honest trafic would have free entry.

Destroyers Sent to Air Base.

LONDON, June 29.—(AP)—Two British destroyers, the Imogen and the Isis, were ordered suddenly to Mallorca today from Gibraltar. The admiralty described the movement as routine in connection with the Nyon anti-piracy patrol.

The Italian operated airplane base at Palma, Mallorca, is the source of many of the insurgent air raids on the coast of government Spain and British shipping in Spanish waters. Mallorca is 150 miles east of Spain.

It was believed the movement was in the nature of a gesture to command the insurgents' attention and at the same time quiet opposition in parliament.

Opposition members of parliament have been getting more and more sarcastic in asking where the British navy was while ships flying the union jack were being sunk. Prime Minister Chamberlain was heckled again at today's session of the house of commons.

Nazis Close Last Paper Devoted to Hohenzollerns

BERLIN, June 29.—(AP)—Der Aufrechte, semi-monthly periodical devoted to keeping monarchist tradition alive in Germany, informed its subscribers today it had been "forbidden until further notice" and therefore would cease publication. With its demise the Hohenzollern house, former ruling family of Germany, has lost its last mouthpiece.

GIVES BLOOD TO POLICEMAN.

REBEL BOMBERS RAID SPANISH TOWN; HALTED TRAIN MACHINE GUNNED

BARCELONA, June 29.—(AP)—Spanish rebel air raiders killed nine persons and injured thirty-nine in an attack on the Catalan seacoast town of Blanes today, machine gunned a railway train, and bombed a French owned textile mill midway between Barcelona and the French frontier. The six raiding planes were identified by the government as Italian made Savoias.

Blanes is forty miles northeast of Barcelona. The planes flew along the railway line pouring machine gun bullets into passenger coaches of a train halted at a regular stop on the run from France to Barcelona. In another raid six bombers attacked the town of San Vicente de Claders, a few miles northeast of Tarragona, inflicting an undetermined number of casualties.

[On the fighting front north of Valencia the rebels made a three mile advance in the center of the loyalist line between the Villaral and Sarrion sectors. The rebels passed the village of Far Fanzara and in the same sector surrounded the village of Bechi.]

ENVOY PROTESTS 'ZOO'S WHO' SLUR AGAINST HITLER

TORONTO, Ont., June 29.—(AP)—C. G. Kropp, German consul, protested today to Mayor Ralph Day against a remark by Ald. William Croft that the Toronto zoo was so dirty "the only thing I'd put in there would be Adolf Hitler."

Kropp said he had been instructed by Dr. Erich Windels, German consul general at Ottawa, on behalf of the German government, to request that "the offensive remark be withdrawn."

Mayor Day said the matter would be given consideration.

Protest School Song.

BERLIN, June 29.—(AP)—Germany protested to Czechoslovakia today, charging that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler was lampooned recently in elementary schools at Brno, capital of Moravia, and in other districts. It was reported that an offensive song about Hitler had been written on the blackboards by teachers so children could copy it in their notebooks and sing it. The song was described as the "Song of Hate" sung by marching Czechoslovak soldiers. The Czechoslovak foreign office in Prague said it knew nothing of the protest.

BRITAIN URGED TO FIND WHITE SETTLERS FOR OVERSEAS COLONIES

LONDON, June 29.—(AP)—Speedy action to send immigrants to Britain's vast but sparsely white populated empire, both for economic and defense reasons, was urged today in an official report to the British government.

A "serious situation" in the dominions because of a falling birth rate and a decline in population was pictured in a report of the overseas settlement board, set up in 1936 to advise the dominion secretary.

Departing from the old tenet that admission should be restricted virtually to persons of Anglo-Saxon stock, the board proposed a "carefully regulated flow" of immigrants from certain other unspecified countries. It said only that these foreign immigrants must be of assimilable types. Informed quarters pointed out that the board envisaged no mass admissions of political refugees from Germany and central Europe. A limited number of these might be admitted, it was said, if they were able to guarantee their own livelihood.

PREDICT BACK TAX MUDDLE TO BRING INCREASED LEVY

Civic Group Sees County Finances Shaken.

Although there has been considerable improvement recently in Cook county tax collections, delinquency still menaces the ultimate soundness of the local public financial structure, the Civic federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency warned yesterday.

The federation, in its annual report on debts, taxes and assessments, asserted that public officials must work out a more practical method of levying taxes and enforcing collections if increased imposts are to be avoided. The fundamental delinquency problem remains unsolved and it is probable that not more than 25 to 30 per cent of the 400 million dollars of back taxes will ever be collected, the report added.

Fear Higher Tax Rate.

"When current taxes show a tendency to remain constant at a 20 per cent or higher delinquency," the report said, "it means either governmental deficiencies and increased taxes later on, or the padding of tax levies and appropriations to include the loss occasioned by non-collection, which means higher taxes immediately."

The federation predicted that the 1938 Chicago tax rate will show an increase to $9 or more per $100 assessed valuation, due to an anticipated reduction in total personal property valuations. The Chicago rate dropped from $9.52 for 1936 to $8.73 for 1937.

Sharp Decline Foreseen.

"A sharp decline in the personal property assessment seems inevitable in view of the tremendous shrinkage in market value of securities," the report continued. "Every $50,000,000 net reduction in the assessment base will entail approximately a 22 cent increase in the tax rate."

Despite a prospective jump in the tax rate, the total amount of taxes to be extended within the city for 1938 will be about equal to the 181 million dollars billed for 1937, the report added.

MISS FRANCES DODGE.

Rochester, Mich., June 29.—[Special.]—Miss Frances M. Dodge, heiress to Dodge motor millions, whose marriage to James B. Johnson Jr., formerly of Elizabeth, N. J., has been announced for Friday evening, said today she planned a "very quiet wedding."

The ceremony will be at Meadowbrook hall, home of her mother and her stepfather, Alfred G. Wilson. Miss Dodge is 23 years old and a noted horsewoman. She and young Johnson, now publisher of a swing music magazine in Detroit, became acquainted as a result of their mutual interest in horses.

REP. RYAN GAINS 390 VOTES, TAKES LEAD IN RECOUNT

A recount of Democratic primary votes cast in fifty-one of the 13th senatorial district, completed yesterday by the board of election commissioners, gave a net gain of 390 votes for State Representative John G. Ryan, who was defeated by Adam S. Mioduski in the original vote count by a margin of 140 votes. Ryan seeking renomination, is contesting the election before Circuit Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski.

During the recount 384 votes cast for the two candidates were challenged by watchers. The final result will depend on the court's ruling on these ballots, it was explained. Voters were able to cast 3 votes, 1½ votes, or 1 vote for the candidates, depending on how they split their tickets, and this resulted in confusion in the counting, election board officials said.

BANKERS PRAISE PERSONALTY TAX REDUCTION PLAN

Cold to Suggestion for Reporting Deposits.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Chicago bankers yesterday praised Assessor John S. Clark's new rules for assessing stocks, bonds, and other intangible property, under which taxes on intangibles will be cut to half the 1937 level. They turned a cold shoulder, however, to suggestions that in view of the new low assessment rates, the banks might cooperate in assessment of their deposits.

Bank deposits have always been taxable under the law. The difficulty has been in finding them, since the banks have always refused to report the deposits of individual clients, against whom taxes must be levied. Bank deposits in Cook county approximate 3 billion dollars, while 1937 assessments against deposits and cash amounted to only $4,847,000, equivalent to about $63,000,000 in actual deposits.

Seek Taxing Machinery.

The advisory committe, headed by Homer J. Bulkley, which drew up Assessor Clark's new rules, is to hold further meetings. One subject for its discussion, it was learned yesterday, will be some machinery for taxing bank deposits. Several members of the committee, it is understood, believe that under the new assessment plan the taxes would not be onerous.

Since the new assessment rules permit assessed valuations of deposits at 1.5 per cent of their face value, the tax, at 1937 rates, would amount to only 1.29 mills on the dollar. This would mean that a business which maintained a bank balance of $10,000 would pay $12.90 on its deposits.

These rates are lower than those in many localities which have tax laws permitting classification of personal property, subjecting intangibles to lower rates than those against real estate or tangible personalty. Cleveland collects a 2 mill tax on bank deposits, the tax being collected by the banks and charged to their depositors' accounts.

If all the bank deposits in the county were scheduled for taxation, local governments would collect about $3,700,000 a year in revenue under the new assessment practice. This probably could be brought about, however, only by a statute requiring banks to report depositors' balances. One banker said yesterday it might be legally impossible for the legislature to force national banks to make such disclosures.

May Stop Tax Flights.

In praise of the new assessment rules, bankers said that they should put an end to the flight of estates and other intangible property from Cook county to escape taxation. After the 1937 assessments, the first made with information gathered from federal income tax returns, banks complained that the high taxes imposed were causing them to lose numerous trust accounts.

Emmett Whealan and Paul Drymalski, members of the board of tax appeals, yesterday indorsed the assessor's new rules, and said their board will follow them in reviewing 1938 personal property assessments. They were uncertain whether the new rules would reduce the amount of assessments invalidated on review.

The appeals board struck 140 millions off Assessor Clark's 1937 personalty assessments. Most of these reductions, however, were because of assessments against tax free securities, the board members said.

WPA OFFICIAL ADMITS USING U. S. MATERIALS TO BUILD HIS HOUSE

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—A WPA superintendent employed in the Bronx botanical and zoölogical gardens today confessed that he had used government building materials to construct a home for himself in Ottenville, N. Y. He also confessed that he had looted project supply stations of materials to make repairs and alterations on churches and on a home owned by a physician, for all of which he received $15,700.

The defendant, William G. Alt, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell and was immediately sentenced to serve a year and eight months in prison and to pay a fine of $2,500.

CONVICTION OF 5 WOMEN IN VOTE FRAUDS UPHELD

In separate cases the Illinois Appellate court yesterday affirmed the conviction in County court of five women election workers for election frauds, but set aside the convictions of four other poll officials.

The case reversed was one in which sentences of one year each in the county jail were imposed on William Gilbert, Frank Cato, Loretta Wiren, and Mary Barrett by County Judge Jarecki in February, 1936, for poll frauds during the November, 1934, election in the 34th precinct of the 42d ward.

In the other case the Appellate court affirmed the conviction of Mrs. Dorothy Berge, Mrs. Edna Sulli, and Mrs. Rose Amore, who were sentenced to one year each in the county jail, and Mrs. Nancy Del Monaco and Mrs. Katie Pardo, who received six months each. They served in the 4th precinct of the 20th ward in the 1936 primaries.

SUBURBAN TRAIN WRECK LAID TO SIGNAL FAILURE

North Western railroad officials yesterday blamed failure of a mechanical signal device for the derailment of a coach of a suburban train Tuesday night. Eight persons were injured when the car overturned as it left the downtown station during the rush hour. Three of four injured persons sent to Passavant hospital were released after receiving treatment. The other will be released in the next day or two, it was said at the hospital.

C. T. Dike, vice president of the road, said the coach, the fourth in an eight car train, was derailed when a switch over which it was passing was thrown too quickly. After three cars of the train had passed the switch, Dike said, the illuminated track diagram in the Lake street tower showed the entire train had cleared, permitting the leverman in the tower to throw the switch. The investigation so far, he said, has failed to show the reason for the signal board clearing too soon.

Two Fireworks Stands Closed in No Man's Land

County highway police under Lieut. Henry Andel last night closed two stands selling firecrackers on Sheridan road in the unincorporated area adjacent to Wilmette known as No Man's Land. The operators were arrested on charges of being a public nuisance. They are Al Friedman, whose stand was located too near the Villa DeMetre, and Dan Devine, whose stand was too near a gasoline filling station.

INDIANA'S G. O. P. PUTS PUBLISHER IN SENATE RACE

Raymond E. Willis Chosen on Third Ballot.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., June 29.—[Special.]—Raymond E. Willis of Angola, newspaper publisher and a leader in Steuben county politics for twenty-five years, today was nominated for United States senator by the Republican state convention.

The delegates, who convened at the state fair grounds Coliseum here, named Willis on the third ballot. Throughout the voting he led a field of four opponents, including the veteran James Eli Watson, former United States senator.

The Republican leaders took no action on the question of recessing the meeting until the Democrats clear up, at their convention a fortnight hence, the possibility of a three cornered senatorial race.

Editors Urge Recess.

A recess had been urged by several Republican editors in view of the announcement of Senator Frederick Van Nuys, Democrat, that he may run as an independent. He has been slated for political banishment by the state Democratic machine for opposing the Roosevelt court packing bill.

The five candidates for the Republican senatorship, in the order of their nomination, were: Oliver Starr, Gary lawyer and former prosecutor of Lake county; Willis; Clarence H. Wills, Kokomo lawyer; Walter F. Bossert of Liberty, one time regional director of the Ku Klux Klan, and Watson, for forty years a figure in Indiana politics.

Predict G. O. P. Victory.

After Willis had come under the wire with the votes of 1,063 of the 1,760 delegates his nomination was made unanimous. Then the defeated candidates draped their arms around the winner for photographs and the nominee made a brief speech. He said, "We will win in this election."

Willis, who is 62 years old, has spent his business life in the newspaper field. He is the personification of the country newspaper editor. Jolly, slow speaking, with an Indiana drawl. He also is an astute politician and a good business man.

He has been the active editor and publisher of his weekly paper, the Angola Republican, since its establishment in 1898. He is president of the Steuben Publishing company, and, with another editor at its head, publishes the Angola Herald, a Democratic organ.

Serves in Legislature.

All Willis' friends and neighbors know him well as the superintendent of the Congregational Sunday school and as district governor of the Indiana Rotary clubs. He is more widely known as a former member of the state's general assembly, having served from 1919 to 1921. He was Republican floor leader of the house at a special session in 1921.

In addition to nominating Willis the Republican convention today named a ticket of twelve state and judicial offices. A governor is not elected this year. James Tucker of Paoli was nominated for secretary of state over L. G. Bradford of South Bend. Louis Markum of Indianapolis was put on the ticket for state auditor, beating Everett E. Neal of Noblesville.

The convention platform assailed the procession of jail scandals and prison breaks in Indiana, the 2 per cent slush fund which now is legalized by law, and political profiteering in the operation of the beer and liquor laws.

Congressman Bruce Barton of New York gave the keynote address. He told the delegates the Roosevelt administration has passed its "period of glory and now is bogged down in aimlessness and failure." He asserted the time is ripe for a "cleansed and chastened" Republican to take over the administrative job and put people back to work.

"In 1938 there is a Democratic depression," he said. "After every Democratic depression in the past they have called us back. The Democrats have proved again and again that they can conceive high ideals and enact far reaching reforms.

Says Ideas Fail to Work.

"They have ideas, but they do not seem able to make the ideas work. They can enact reforms, but they cannot give jobs. We did not repeal the reforms of Cleveland or Wilson, but we put people back to work. We will not repeal the sound reforms of the New Deal, but we will put people back to work."

A warning against dictatorship was sounded by William L. Hutcheson, head of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, who was permanent chairman of the convention.

Raymond E. Willis, Angola publisher, who was nominated for United States senator yesterday by the Republican state convention in Indiana.

Alabama's Quarter Ton Weather Prophet Is Dead

Boaz, Ala., June 29.—(AP)—Walt Cagle, Sand mountain's 550 pound weather prophet, died today at his farm home near here. Cagle's appearances in Boaz caused crowds to go to town just to see him and hear his forecasts for long, cold, short or wet winters. Last year he went to New York for a radio appearance. He said he watched the birds and animals. If the birds went south early, and the squirrels stored lots of nuts, a "hard winter" was coming, he said. His widow survives.

BELL BOY HELD IN THEFTS.

Wally Trunk, 17 years old, a bell boy, charged with pilfering the property of guests at the Southland hotel, 1330 Hyde Park boulevard, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman.

MAJORITY OF NYE CUT BY LANGER IN SENATOR PRIMARY

Fargo, N. D., June 29.—(AP)—Former Gov. William Langer tonight continued to narrow the gap between his votes and that of United States Senator Gerald P. Nye in the race for the Republican senatorial nomination in the state primary.

On the basis of 2,063 of 2,260 precincts Nye leads by 6,302 votes. The totals: Nye, 87,762; Langer, 81,460.

Nye, who had the indorsement of several of his liberal senate colleagues, held a 15,000 vote margin at the halfway mark, but as additional returns from the western part of the state trickled in this lead was constantly diminished.

U. S. MILK INQUIRY IS EXTENDED TO CONTAINER COST

Uncle Sam set out yesterday to determine if the fact that Chicago's milk comes in glass bottles instead of fabricated containers has anything to do with milk prices.

A subpena for communications relating to the merits of bottles and containers was issued at the request of Michael L. Igoe, United States attorney, and George P. Alt, special assistant United States attorney general, for the forthcoming federal grand jury investigation into charges that a milk monopoly exists here.

The subpena calls upon the Owens-Illinois Glass company of Toledo, milk bottle manufacturers, to produce all correspondence relating to milk bottles and containers it has had with the board of health, the University of Illinois, the Associated Milk Dealers, the Milk Dealers' Bottle exchange, and some of the large milk companies.

Presentation of evidence to the grand jury will begin July 8.

ORDER TO REHIRE HEALTH WORKERS STAYED BY WRIT

Judge Donald S. McKinlay of the Superior court yesterday issued a writ temporarily staying his order that the board of health reinstate seven civil service inspectors dismissed in 1930 and 1931. This action was taken after attorneys representing the board announced an appeal against the original order would be taken.

In a mandamus order of Monday, Judge McKinlay had forbidden the payment of salaries to eighteen temporary inspectors. The seven dismissed claimed these men were doing the jobs that rightfully belonged to them. The court held there was no authority for the employment of temporary workers while the civil service men, discharged as an economy move, were waiting to return to work.

ALDERMEN TAKE A TRIP TO N. Y. TO STUDY SUBWAYS

A delegation of the city council's local transportation committee, headed by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman, left for New York yesterday to make a study of modern subway designing and construction. The group included Philip Harrington, Maj. R. F. Kelker, and Charles E. De Leuw, engineers for the committee.

Harrington said that, while plans for the proposed downtown subways for Chicago are well advanced, the engineers want to review the recent improvements in constructing and equipping the underground tunnels.

SEIZE FINANCE OFFICIAL IN WAR ON TAX EVADERS

State Gets Time to Audit Food Firm's Books.

Theodore Antman, 5000 East End avenue, an official of the Century Auto Finance corporation, was arrested by investigators yesterday and charged with conspiracy to defraud the state of $8,600 in sales tax returns for nine months ending last March.

Shortly after an auditor for the finance department completed an examination of the corporation books in March, Antman reported to Des Plaines street police that an 1,100 pound safe, containing the firm's books and records, had been stolen. When questioned yesterday he made a plea for time, saying that he knew of no shortage in the returns. Investigators said other arrests will follow.

Antman was indicted two months ago in connection with a sales tax shortage charged to the defunct State Auto Finance corporation, but the case was dismissed because the finance department had promised immunity from criminal prosecution to Joseph Finkelstein, president of the concern, if he testified at a civil hearing in the matter. Antman was formerly connected with the concern.

State Wins More Time.

Charges of conspiracy and violation of the sales tax law against three brothers, owners of a south side grocery chain, were continued to July 28 yesterday by Judge John J. Rooney in Felony court. The delay was granted at the request of the state, which asked for time to complete audits of the defendants' books.

The three, freed on bonds of $4,000 each, are John Marlas and Christ Marlas, both of 7843 South Wolcott avenue, and Gust Marlas, 8249 Drexel avenue. They own the Victory Grocery company, 6323 South Ashland avenue, a wholesale unit; the Thoro-Fair Food mart, same address; the South Town mart, 7814 Halsted street, and the Marlas Foods, Inc., 719 East 79th street.

Charge $30,000 Evasion.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Thomas J. Bugan and Investigator Gus Bartels, the concern has made fraudulent sales reports since July, 1933, and has evaded payment of about $30,000 in sales taxes due the state.

As the current drive against sales tax cheaters continued yesterday, Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan was assigned to aid Bugan and Bartels in their investigations. The three are now working on several other cases and expect to go before the grand jury next week.

CANOE TIPS OVER IN CLAYHOLE; BOY OF 15 IS DROWNED

Francis Dietz, 15 years old, of 3353 66th street, was drowned yesterday afternoon when a canoe in which he was riding overturned in a clayhole pond at 123d street and Kedzie avenue. He was only twenty feet from shore. Two companions, Raymond Gierut of 3822 65th street and William Ruby of 6118 South Kolmar avenue, who tried to rescue him, reported they had to let him go when he struggled violently. The body was recovered several hours later.

LEGION CHIEF IS DENIED A REPLY TO EDUCATORS

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—Twice today the National Education association, holding its seventy-sixth annual convention here, closed its ears to Daniel Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, who had made a special trip to New York to answer charges that his organization is Fascist in complexion.

First, Doherty attempted to defend the legion at a morning session of the educators, but Mrs. J. K. Pettengill, presiding, informed him that the session was devoted to the "purpose of education" and that his attempts to answer criticisms by Prof. William Gellermann of Northwestern university was "beyond the scope" of the discussion.

Doherty then asked permission to address the meeting in Madison Square Garden tonight. Again he was rebuffed. Dr. Caroline S. Woodruff, retiring president of the association, offered no explanation.

Reuben T. Shaw, head of the science department of Northeast High school, Philadelphia, Pa., was elected president of the association, and R. E. Offenhauer, president of Bowing Green State university, Bowling Green, O., was reëlected treasurer.

Fined $25 for Posing Nude Before Photography Class

Miss Marie Johnson, 1728 North Lotus avenue, and Joseph Landfield, 515 Briar place, were fined $25 each yesterday by Judge Oscar Caplan in Women's court on charges of presenting an indecent exhibition. They were arrested a week ago in a studio on the sixteenth floor at 162 North State street. Policemen said Miss Johnson was posing in the nude before a class of amateur photographers.

U. S. OPENS QUIZ ON PAVING BIDS CUT BY $472,413

Wonders Why First Total Was So High.

The federal government began an investigation yesterday into the seeming ease with which contractors were able to cut $472,413.59 from their bids on twenty-eight county paving projects after original bids aggregating $2,194,985.28 had been rejected as too high.

Michael L. Igoe, United States attorney, ordered the inquiry to determine if there had been collusion in the original bidding. Importance with which the case is regarded was seen when he instructed his first assistant, Warren Canaday, to make a personal investigation instead of relying upon the federal bureau of investigation or the investigating unit of the Works Progress administration.

U. S. to Supply Funds.

The federal government has authority in the case because it will supply 45 per cent of the funds for the projects.

The original paving bids were received in April. Although they were $400,000 under the estimates, the state highway department frowned on them as too high. Since the county's share of the expense is to come from the state gasoline tax, the state demanded that the bids be rejected.

New bids were called for. When opened June 10 they were found to total $472,413.59 less. Many of the original low bidders were found to be the low bidders again, at prices more than 20 per cent lower than they had bid the first time.

The contracts were then awarded.

In preparation for the investigation, Canaday has already conferred at Springfield with F. Lynden Smith, director of the state department of public works, and Ernst Lieberman, state highway engineer.

ONE OF 2 WIVES MAKES SURE HE WILL BE IN TOWN

More troubles piled up yesterday for George A. Allen, a physical culturist, when Judge John J. Lupe issued an order restraining him from leaving the city until the matter of his two present wives is settled.

Allen, who is 48, was arrested Monday on complaint of Mrs. Linnea Allen of Mundelein that he married her in 1935 without getting a divorce from Mrs. Helen Allen of 636 Arlington place. Police also questioned him about a loaded revolver and a deputy coroner's badge he was carrying.

In court yesterday it was disclosed Allen had married Mrs. Helen Allen in 1924, a week after he had been divorced by his first wife for showering her with acid. Mrs. Linnea Allen, his third venture, has a suit for divorce pending.

Celebrate with SPAM

HORMEL'S FESTIVE NEW MEAT OF MANY USES SAVES TIME AND EFFORT... HITS THE SPOT, SERVED COLD OR HOT!

SPAM! That's the gay new way to set off summer celebrations. Outdoors or indoors... morning, noon, or night... SPAM helps you have more fun with food!

What is SPAM? It's a delicious new kind of meat...made by Hormel... that's ready to eat cold just as it comes from its smart blue and yellow can. But as thousands know, that's just a start for SPAM!

Any SPAM-fan will be quick to tell you about SPAMwiches... those glorified sandwiches that take so little time to make, but add so much to picnics and parties. You'll hear, too, about a brilliant new breakfast idea—SPAM & eggs... or SPAMbled eggs. And for regal dinner the crowd swings to Baked SPAM... ready in only 25 minutes, but your guests will never guess it!

No matter how you serve it, SPAM is bound to save you time and drudgery. It's easy to take SPAM on trips, easy to keep it home. You don't even have to worry about putting the can on ice, for SPAM needs no refrigeration.

Vote yourself a vacation from kitchen work. This summer celebrate with SPAM! Geo. A. Hormel & Co., Austin, Minn.

Spamwiches. That's the latest word for luncheon and picnic sandwiches. You make them in a jiffy with cold sliced SPAM. You may add lettuce and mayonnaise... or chili sauce... or grated raw carrots and mayonnaise... or sliced bananas and mayonnaise... or tartar sauce... or chopped olives, pimiento, sweet pickle, mayonnaise... or sliced, hard-cooked egg, Russian dressing... or chopped onion, mayonnaise.

OTHER GREAT FOODS FOR THE GREAT OUTDOORS

HORMEL HAM. America's original canned ham, now milder and more tender than ever. It's Flavor-Sealed to keep the juices in. Ready to slice cold, or you can heat it in the oven. Whole, half and quarter sizes. No waste.

HORMEL CHICKEN. Another famous Flavor-Sealed food, perfect for outings. You can have roast chicken in 15 minutes, or serve it cold instantly. The rich, jellied juices give you a dividend of delicious consomme. Comes in convenient whole and half sizes.

HORMEL CHILI Con Carne. A hearty, tangy meal that's ready in a jiffy. Just heat and eat. Hormel Chili Con Carne is so good, so different, we say: Double Your Money Back If You Don't Like It! Comes in big one-pound cans.

HORMEL SOUPS. Ten outstanding kinds, many with the famous Hormel rich beef stock base. (See list at bottom of this page). Keep your summer cabin well stocked with these extra fine soups... or take a few cans along on your next camping trip. You'll be glad you did.

DINTY MOORE BEEF STEW. Tender beef blended in rich, brown gravy with diced potatoes, carrots and peas. It's the "big meal in the big can" that saves time and money. 1½ pounds.

DINTY MOORE SPAGHETTI and Meat Balls. A tempting combination of 100% beef meat balls and hard wheat spaghetti, in rich, thick tomato sauce. Another "big meal in the big can." Other Dinty Moore thrift foods: Corned Beef and Cabbage, Corned Beef Hash.

Spam & Salad. A cool, inviting luncheon you can summon to your table by hardly lifting a finger. Arrange thin SPAM slices on plate, adding Waldorf salad, radish rose, pickle fan and a stuffed olive. Serve with finger rolls or just plain bread-and-butter sandwiches.

Spam & Eggs. At last a new idea for breakfast! Quickly fry a few slices of Hormel SPAM, then serve with fried eggs, as pictured. Grand on Sunday mornings! Or, for a change, you can dice SPAM and have SPAMbled eggs. You'll like the tangy flavor.

Baked Spam: Place whole Spam in shallow baking pan; score flat surface, insert 4 cloves. Bake in moderate oven. After 10 minutes pour over surface a top dressing made with ⅓ cup light brown sugar, 1 tsp. prepared mustard, ½ tsp. vinegar, 1 tsp. water. Mix to smooth paste. Bake Spam 15 minutes more, basting every 5 minutes.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

HEIDI COMES TO LIFE

By CALEB

"DON'T TOUCH that, Shirley, please," said the mother, and the little girl quickly withdrew her hand from the filmy garment she had reached out to stroke on its rack in our negligee section.

Hands clasped behind her, Shirley Temple stood and looked longingly at the beguiling folds which she was tempted to touch and feel. There she stood—like any obedient little girl just past her ninth birthday who has been asked not to touch some fascinating object.

Hundreds of shoppers attracted by the star's presence witnessed this routine bit of family business. Its significance may have escaped them in the excitement of seeing the famous little person so close at hand.

Midway on a vacation trip Shirley and her parents reached Chicago. Our store was included among the points not to be missed, and one afternoon salespeople in the toy department discovered a golden haired, dimpled customer (whose chin just reached the top of the showcase) inquiring about a certain doll.

Almost simultaneously a dozen other visitors identified her, too—and there was a concerted rush toward her. Two husky guards who accompany her urged her to choose a doll quickly, but before they could leave, the store section was literally jammed with people.

Whisked away through passageways, she was quickly surrounded the instant she reappeared. Finally she was taken to a private room and merchandise brought from which she and her mother chose a number of gifts for friends.

Of all the commotion Shirley seemed truly unaware. When she wanted a chair, she went and got it herself. She obeyed her mother's suggestions quickly, without hesitation or complaint. She ran to fetch a ribbon her mother wanted to see more closely. She neither asked nor expected to be waited upon.

And so, we are glad to report to boys and girls everywhere that Shirley Temple in real life is all her screen parts say she is. She has charming manners, is amazingly unspoiled and wholesome—splendidly fitted to hold office as high priestess of childhood in the world!

POLICE TO HELP WORKERS GET TO JOBS TODAY

75 at North Chicago Will Brave Picket Lines.

Twenty policemen and Lake county deputy sherifs will assemble this morning at the plant of the Chicago Hardware Foundry company in North Chicago to maintain order when seventy-five workmen attempt to enter through picket lines established by a Committee for Industrial Organization union. The plant has been closed since a strike was called by the union on June 6.

Last night Eugene Brunette, leader of the workmen who are members of an independent union, the Ironworkers Protective association, declared they did not intend to be stopped by the pickets.

"We've been without pay for four weeks now," he said, "and our families need food and clothing. We will go through the lines. We can get along with the management."

Strikers' Head Is Firm.

Oakley Mills, head of the striking forces, was firm in his stand that the plan should not be carried out.

"We will have several hundred, including women and children, around the plant," he said. "Nobody is going through, and this strike will not end until the company makes terms with us."

North Chicago's chief of police, Jacob Novak, said all his available men, reinforced by deputy sherifs, would be at the plant at 7:30 a. m. He said there would be no interference with peaceful picketing, but that no physical violence would be permitted and that more men would be summoned if trouble developed.

Mills yesterday defied a writ of replevin authorizing a deputy sherif to remove several tons of manufactured articles from the foundry.

Clerk Issues Writ.

This writ was issued by Circuit Clerk L. J. Wilmot at Waukegan on request of the Massey-Harris company of Racine, Wis. This company claimed that the property, valued at more than $1,000, was being wrongfully withheld. When a deputy served the writ he was told by Mills that if any attempt was made to move it, women and children would lie down in the path of the trucks or railroad cars.

The strikers have demanded that there be no pay cuts, that vacations with pay be granted, and that the foundry company sign a contract. The company, headed by Edward Sherwin, has refused to allow the vacations and has insisted that a pay cut of 10 per cent may have to be put into effect if the plant is to operate through the summer.

Wins and Loses

MRS. DOROTHY ORTH.

Mrs. Dorothy Orth, 22 years old, 1954 Patterson avenue, got a divorce yesterday before Judge Philip J. Finnegan, but her former husband, John, got their pet dog, Buddy. That, explained her attorney, Norman Becker, was part of their agreement to separate. Orth, Attorney Becker said, on one occasion picked up the dog and threw him at his wife when she remonstrated about his drinking.

the teamsters' union, and several other pickets slugged Heibel, let the air out of his tires and dumped part of his load. Two Lombard police arrived on the scene while this was going on, but were unable to handle the mob of pickets.

"On Monday Sherif Arthur Bennett of Du Page county, with four deputies, accompanied Heibel to the site, and in their presence Heibel was pulled from the truck, slugged, and the ignition of the truck pulled off, and the tires deflated.

Dump Truckload of Gravel.

"The same day Sam Passarelli, one of my masons, arrived at the job and was told by Rieck to keep going, that if he came back he would be killed. Some of the pickets followed him to St. Charles road and Stewart avenue in Lombard, dragged him from his car, beat him, and took him back to the building site, where he was threatened further.

"Yesterday when a truckload of gravel arrived at the site two of the pickets jumped on the running board, forced the driver to drive to a field a half mile away, dumped his load, and threatened him with death. Chief Groote of the Lombard police, with one of his men, was present when the truck arrived."

Police records at Lombard showed a report of the dumping of a truck on Tuesday, but made no mention of the kidnaping charged by Wallace. There was also a report that Sherif Bennett and deputies had escorted a truck to the site Monday, but the report stated that the driver left when the pickets warned him away.

CAMPAIGN OF G. O. P. TO STRESS LACK OF LASTING AID FOR POOR

Cook county's Republican candidates will use an educational approach this fall in an effort to convince the masses of voters that nothing lasting has been done by Democratic officeholders to alleviate the lot of the poor. This was decided yesterday at a meeting of the candidates.

Edward F. Moore, county chairman, said the Democrats held office largely because they were receiving the straight party support of tens of thousands on relief rolls. Henry Gardner, chairman of the county Republican managing committee, added that instead of urging the smashing of the Nash-Kelly machine the party should produce facts and figures and trust the common sense of the voters.

Chairman Moore was authorized to employ a research worker to gather data on the administration of the school board, sanitary district, park district, Municipal court, and county board. Campaign headquarters have been opened in the La Salle hotel.

NAVY ORDERS 10 AUXILIARY CRAFT; COST 23 MILLION

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—The navy started its billion dollar fleet expansion program today by assigning to four navy yards the construction of ten auxiliary craft expected to cost 23 million dollars.

Largest of the ships the navy ordered was a 9,000 ton, $12,600,000 submarine tender, which was awarded to the Mare Island, Cal., navy yard. A $1,746,000 contract for its Diesel machinery was given to the American Locomotive company, Auburn, N. Y.

The other craft included two small seaplane tenders, two mine sweepers, and five harbor tugs.

STREET CAR MEN VOTE AGREEMENT ON PAY CONTRACT

By a large majority last night members of the street car men's union approved a compromise agreement negotiated between their officials and the Chicago Surface Lines whereby the contract which expired May 31 will remain in effect until Dec. 1 with one minor exception. The company had asked a 10 per cent pay cut and the men a similar pay increase.

Under the agreement the vacation system will be maintained, thereby assuring continued employment for 544 men who were slated for a layoff. The wage scale continues at 80 cents an hour for trainmen on two man cars and 88 cents for one man cars and bus operators, except 167 buses which seat less than forty passengers, where the 8 cent differential is dropped. The agreement affects 10,500 men.

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right, safe, harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland—a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

DEMAND TROOPS TO CLEAR PLANT IN C. I. O. STRIKE

Maytag Workers in Iowa Reject Peace Offer.

Newton, Ia., June 29.—[Special.]—Though faced with a request for National Guard troops to curb their high handed tactics, C. I. O. strikers inside the Maytag company's washing machine factory late today voted down a proposal that they return to work at a 10 per cent wage reduction and end the strife that has kept this normally quiet city tense for two months.

Strikers not in the plant held a meeting tonight and also voted to reject the proposal to return to work under the conditions set down by the company. They did vote to return to their jobs at the wages paid before the strike if the company will agree to new negotiations for a settlement, and, if these fail, that the company be bound by arbitration.

Sherif Asks Troops.

Sherif Earl Shields of Jasper county appealed for state aid in coping with a situation he asserted was beyond control of local authorities. He asked that National Guardsmen be called out to preserve order and enforce the law here by removing about 400 sitdown strikers who are holding the Maytag plant in violation of a court order.

Gov. Nels G. Kraschel, who is vacationing at Trout Lake, Wis., delayed acting upon the request pending the outcome of his personal efforts to end the trouble. During the interim he has sought by long distance telephone to negotiate with both sides in the controversy.

Company Proposes Terms.

The company proposed to the governor that the strikers return to work immediately at the 10 per cent wage reduction which caused the trouble; that they work sixty days, during which time an analysis of the wage situation will be made; that efforts be made in the following thirty days to negotiate the dispute, and if an agreement is not reached, that the matter be submitted to arbitration.

The suggestion was transmitted to union leaders and plans were launched immediately for the balloting.

The labor battle has gripped this city of 11,000 as have few other events. About half the community's residents are dependent upon the company, which normally employs 1,400 persons and is the city's principal manufacturer.

Public Is Indignant.

In the wake of the trouble has come a change of mayors, the organization of a back to work movement, an uprising of protesting farmers, legal wrangling, and finally a request for troops.

Public indignation against the C. I. O.'s arbitrary tactics reached a peak after nearly 200 strikers swarmed into the county courthouse and held the entire board of supervisors prisoners for four hours to enforce their demands for county relief.

The strike was called May 9 by the United Radio and Electrical Workers, affiliate of the C. I. O., when the company imposed a 10 per cent pay cut. The plant was shut down and the workers' pay ceased.

Win Board's Promise.

A week later the strikers descended upon the courthouse while the supervisors were in session. They crowded into the board rooms and held the supervisors there until 8 p. m., when the county officers capitulated and promised favorable action on the strikers' demands. As a result of this coup some 300 strikers were subsequently placed on the relief rolls.

It was against this state of affairs that the farmers finally took a stand. Already irate by the strike's destruction of their markets, the farmers met here a month ago and formed the Taxpayers' association.

Then they passed resolutions protesting the spending of county money to aid the strikers and thus prolong the strike. They contended the strikers' refusal to return to jobs waiting for them at the Maytag factory was impoverishing the entire county.

Mayor Frank M. Woodrow, 72 years old, resigned because of ill health and worry over the critical state of affairs. The city council appointed George Campbell, who formerly had been county attorney and city solicitor, as Woodrow's successor.

FARMERS QUIT PICKETING AT CO-OP PLANT

Richland Center, Wis., June 29.—[Special.]—Irate farmers who picketed the Richland coöperative creamery for two days after ousting seven union employés withdrew tonight after they received assurances from union leaders that no attempt will be made by workmen to force their way into the plant.

The farmers have voted three times that they will stand firm against unionization of the plant by the American Federation of Labor Teamsters and Truck Drivers' union. They expressed the opinion their actions would cause the labor board to bring the labor dispute at the creamery to a conclusion.

Creamery officials said that union organizers came to the workers and urged them to organize and seek shorter hours and higher wages. With business dropping off since the labor dispute began, the creamery may have to go out of business, officials said.

GRACE MOORE'S NEXT MOVIE OPERA, 'LOUISE,' TO BE MADE ABROAD

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—Grace Moore, opera singer and film star, and her husband, Valentin Parera, sailed today on the liner Normandie. Miss Moore will go to Paris to make a film of the opera "Louise" for the French government.

"I hope it will do for music in pictures what 'One Night of Love' did," Miss Moore said, comparing the projected film with her outstanding success in motion pictures here.

"It cost me $400,000 to cut off from Columbia [the studio which formerly employed her], but it was worth it," she continued. "It was a real holiday to give it up.

"I got tired of making 'One Night of Love.' I made it six times, and that was enough."

BROWDER TELLS U. S. COMMUNIST LINK TO MOSCOW

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—The communist party in the United States is "part and parcel" of the communist international, "looking to the teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin, and Stalin," Earl Browder, general secretary of the party in this country, admitted today during his testimony before the McNaboe legislative committee, holding another session of its inquiry into law observance.

From the very start of the questioning, which Senator John D. McNaboe conducted himself, attention was given to the extent to which the party in this country is linked to the world communist movement.

The first question, after Browder had identified his position as the party secretary, was: "Is that connected with the communist party international?" And the answer: "Yes, affiliated with the communist party of the world."

FINE C. I. O. STONE THROWERS $25 IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., June 29.—(AP)—Police and the C. I. O. made new moves against each other today in a week old dispute resulting from a strike against ten drayage firms by the C. I. O. Eleven men who stoned a truck were fined $25 each or jailed for thirty days.

Police filed charges of assault against Felix Siren, one of three C. I. O. organizers they chased from the city last night. This charge grew out of an attack on his brother-in-law, Thomas W. Keller, a truck driver affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Two of the three C. I. O. leaders driven from town and warned not to come back returned today. Informed J. R. Robertson and Burt Nelson had returned, Police Chief John Grosch said: "Since the communists seem to be under cover, we're not going to bother them any more."

Meet the tire the spotlight's on!

BUILT FOR 1938 DRIVING NEEDS WITH

CENTER TRACTION—more sharp-edged diamonds nested closer together provide maximum skid resistance in all directions—greatest stopping power—surest-footed traction.

MAXIMUM BLOWOUT AND BRUISE RESISTANCE—from patented Supertwist cord in every ply.

PLUS HIGHEST QUALITY WORKMANSHIP that comes from Goodyear's priceless experience as the world's largest tire maker.

HOW long since you've had the proud thrill of putting on brand new Goodyears—all around?

What a feeling of calm comfort to roll smoothly along on these big, soft, handsome tires that soak up the roughest spots any road has to offer!

What a sense of security to know that beneath you you've got the safest tires your money can buy!

And this year, in the "G-3" for 1938, Goodyear gives you more than you've asked of any tire!

It's got the same basic All-Weather tread, to be sure. To be sure of giving you greatest protection against skids—in all directions.

No other tire maker has matched the tractive efficiency of that famous diamond-block design.

That's why, for 23 consecutive years, Goodyear has outsold any other tire.

But look again and you'll see that those sharp-edged diamonds are nested closer. That's to give you still greater grip—for quicker stops and faster starts.

Best of all, the rubber in that thick, diamond-studded tread is tougher than ever before.

Thanks to a new Goodyear compound, it's been made tougher to fight the grueling grind-away action of today's high speed driving on hard-surfaced roads.

And of course the carcass of this great "G-3" for 1938 is built with Goodyear's patented Supertwist cord—the best protection against blowouts and bruises built into any tire.

So, before you fall for any "new" or "amazing" tire that offers some pretty tread pattern of ribs or wrinkles—just drop around to your Goodyear dealer's and see the "G-3's" he's got for you.

Then get yourself a set and be set for many thousands of miles of modern trouble-free travel.

THIS INFALLIBLE SAFETY MEMBER COMPLETES THE MODERN TIRE

The only sure protection against dangerous accidents caused by blowouts is the GOODYEAR LIFEGUARD—an invulnerable reserve tire that replaces the conventional inner tube inside your casing. When a blowout occurs the LifeGuard keeps enough air under you to carry the car to a safe normal stop without the slightest lurch or swerve

More people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind

All Guests at New York Death Banquet.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—With the handing up of four first degree murder indictments against a quartet of big shot racketeers, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey declared today his investigators had solved the slaying of William Snyder, president of a teamsters union local "who wouldn't go along with the mob." Politics, it had been charged, prevented an earlier solution.

Morris Goldis.

During his campaign last fall Dewey named Charles Schneider, Tammany district leader and former assistant attorney general, as having taken a fee from racketeers to aid men suspected in that slaying. Schneider professed innocence of any wrongdoing, but admitted he had been retained in the case. After Dewey's revelations he resigned from his state office.

Fellow Guests Indicted.

Snyder was seated in a banquet hall with fifteen other men one night in the fall of 1934 when a lone gunman came in and shot him twice in the back.

Four of the men who occupied seats around the table with Snyder were indicted by the extraordinary grand jury today. They were as follows:

MAX SILVERMAN, already in jail serving a year's sentence for conspiracy in connection with the Sam Drukman murder case in Brooklyn in which political "fixing" blocked prosecution of the killers.

SAMUEL SCHORR, business agent of the Flour Truckmen's union, of which the murdered man was president, now in jail awaiting trial for extortion.

MORRIS GOLDIS, accused of being the actual slayer, who was defended by Schneider in the original inquiry and allowed to go free when important witnesses lost their memory of events on the night of the slaying.

WILLIAM [Wolfie] GOLDIS, a brother of Morris and a vice president of the union who succeeded Snyder after the murder.

Among Those Present.

Among the group who sat around the table the night Snyder was murdered, according to Dewey, were Louis [Lepke] Buchalter, long a fugitive from federal and state indictments for racketeering and Jacob [Gurrah] Shapiro, recently convicted in federal court for racketeering in the trucking business.

Snyder was the last man to enter the banquet hall and to sit down at the table. Dewey said a few minutes after Snyder's appearance "Wolfie" Goldis arose and went to the window. This move, it was alleged, was a signal for the gunman, who soon afterward burst into the room and shot Snyder.

The police later found a man named Samuel Tratner who admitted he rented the automobile in which the slayer fled. Tratner said Morris Goldis paid him for the car.

Schneider Enters Case.

Schneider appeared as attorney for Tratner. Seven weeks after the murder he surrendered his client to the police. The assistant attorney general thus appeared in the case as counsel for the state's chief witness and also for Morris Goldis, the man accused of the murder. The case was dropped when the memory of witnesses became foggy and the case did not revive until Dewey started his investigation.

REPORT OUTLAW KILLER INDICTED BY INDIANA JURY

The La Porte county Superior court grand jury in special session yesterday at Michigan City, Ind., was reported to have indicted Orelle Easton, young North Dakota outlaw, for the slaying of Ray Dixon, Indiana state highway policeman.

State's Attorney Mark Storen of La Porte county said he would seek immediate trial of the slayer and would demand the death penalty. Meanwhile, at Kankakee, where Easton was jailed after a posse captured him and killed his brother, Clarence, his attorney, Len Small Jr., said the killer would fight extradition.

Prosecutors Storen and Samuel Shapiro of Kankakee immediately began extradition proceedings and Easton will be taken before Judge Claud Saum at Kankakee this morning. La Porte deputy sheriffs arrived in Kankakee last night with a warant charging Easton with the murder.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't fiddle around with makeshift remedies. Find out what's giving you the trouble!

Chances are it's simple if you eat only what most people do: meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crisp crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

2 BRICK SLAYERS LOSE PLEAS FOR SEPARATE TRIALS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Michael Byrne, attempted burglary, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary; James Van Buskirk and Louis Frank, burglary, sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary under the habitual criminal act by Judge John C. Lewe.

Philip Edwards, assault to rape, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; Christ Goodman, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Charles Dean and Neal Bass, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Jaseph Sabath.

Robert Nixon and Earl Hicks, confessed brickbat killers of Mrs. Florence Johnson, were denied their pleas for separate trials yesterday by Judge George Fred Rush in the Criminal court. The court ordered them both to trial for murder on July 12. Both are colored. At the request of their attorneys, Judge Rush appointed psychiatrists to give them mental examinations. Dr. Walter Adams and Dr. William A. McKee were named to make the examination for the defense and Dr. Harry A. Hoffman and Dr. Harry A. Paskind for the state. Dr. Hoffman is head of the Criminal court behavior clinic and Dr. Paskind is his assistant.

BLUE AND GRAY CAMP TOGETHER AT GETTYSBURG

1,500 on Hand; 1,000 More Due for Reunion.

Gettysburg, Pa., June 29.—(AP)—More than 1,500 old soldiers camped together tonight where many of them met in battle seventy-five years ago.

Their tents, where the blue and gray fighters of long ago laughed and chatted together, were within sight of the memorable battlefields.

Another 1,000 confederate and union veterans are expected tomorrow for the eight day reunion. They will join state and local groups for informal get-togethers. Then, heroes all, they will be the honored guests of the formal observance of the anniversary of the great battle, which begins Friday.

Today there were reminiscences and kidding about the prowess of the confederates or the Yanks, but the once threatening rivalry between the northern and southern veterans was forgotten.

All Feel "at Home."

All day long and far into the night the veterans streamed into town. Animated by the lively melodies of "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie," played by the United States army band, they stepped with new vigor from stations to their tented headquarters.

Some rested in easy chairs in the sunshine and cooling breezes. Others looked up old friends. They all felt "right at home." A dozen veterans suffering from the exertion of long journeys were taken to hospitals. None was reported in serious condition.

No item for their comfort appeared forgotten. Care given by physicians at home was carried on here. Special menus were prepared by Maj. Gen. Charles R. Reynolds, surgeon general of the army.

Urged to Retire Early.

There was no curfew, but the commission suggested that the 90 year olds retire early to conserve their strength.

Among those registering today was William D. Welsh, 100, who, although a resident of Dunlevy, Pa., said he hadn't been in Gettysburg since he fought here in '63.

"If it's like it was then," he said, "I'm going to scram right out of town." He looked around at the flags, the tents, the bands, and stayed.

Tall, full bearded Sampson S. Simpson, commander of the Pacific division of the United Confederate Veterans, arrived today, the only confederate soldier among a whole trainload of union veterans from the west.

MONUMENT BUILT TO HONOR FINNS ACCEPTED BY U. S.

Chester, Pa., June 29.—[Special.]—A monument raised here by the Republic of Finland in honor of the seventeenth century Finns who founded this city was accepted today by Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson as a symbol of Finnish-American friendship.

The shaft was presented by Dr. E. Rudolph W. Holsti, minister of foreign affairs in Finland. He is a member of a delegation which came to this country to join American groups in celebrating the 309th anniversary of the first white settlements in the Delaware river valley.

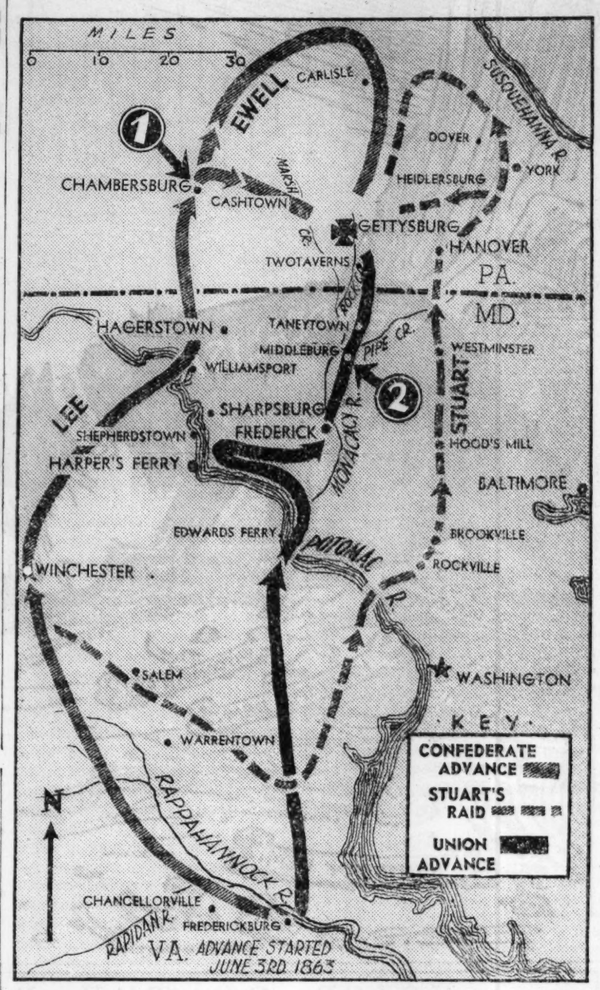
Jackson said that the Finns who three centuries ago set up a colonial outpost on the site of this city and called in Finland were among the foundation stock of this country.

In the party of visitors which came here for the ceremony was Prince Bertil of Sweden, who is taking the place of his father, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, now in Medical center at New York undergoing treatment for a kidney ailment that has kept him confined to bed since shortly after the royal party left their homeland. Crown Princess Louise is with her husband in New York.

Firecrackers Set Off Rodeo Stampede; 3 Persons Hurt

Molalla, Ore., June 29.—(AP)—Firecracker explosions startled 150 rodeo horses and steers into a stampede through the streets of this village today. Clarence Warren, a rancher, was trampled and two cowboys were badly bruised.

Mapping Marches Which Resulted in Gettysburg



This map shows in general the movements of the confederate and Union armies during the month of June. On June 30, the eve of the beginning of the three day Gettysburg battle, Lee's headquarters were at (1) Chambersburg and Meade, the newly appointed Union commander, had his headquarters at Middleburg (2). The Union outposts were near Gettysburg, which lay north of the main portion of the Union army. Lee had begun the turn south and east. Stewart's raiders were to the east of the Union army. Tomorrow a map of the first day's battle will be shown.

Neither Gen. Robert E. Lee, chief of the southern forces, nor Maj. Gen. George G. Meade, commanding the army of the Potomac, expected to meet at Gettysburg. This battle, the turning point of the civil war, was opened by a chance encounter.

On June 3, 1863, Lee began his movement for the invasion of the northern states. His plan was to live off enemy land, levy on cities and towns, to cut off union troop movements as a means of relieving pressure on Vicksburg, and generally to put the north on the defensive.

Fear Attack on Capital.

On June 9 Maj. Gen. Joseph Hooker, then in command of the army of the Potomac, learned that hostile forces were north of the Rapidan. President Lincoln and Gen. H. W. Halleck, general in chief, concluded Lee was marching to cross the Potomac and threaten the capital. Hooker was ordered to march to the capital's defense.

As soon as Hooker began his movement Lee sent the three infantry corps of the army of northern Virginia marching on the Potomac through the Shenandoah valley. Lieut. Gen. Richard S. Ewell's corps led this advance. At the start of the third week in June Hooker's army was moving toward the Potomac, interspersed between the mass of Lee's forces and the capital. Most of his cavalry, under Maj. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, was trying to join Ewell by riding around the union army.

On June 28 Hooker was deprived of command and was succeeded by Meade. Halleck's orders to Meade directed the latter to maneuver and fight in a manner to cover the capital and also Baltimore. Meade's army maneuvered to the south and the east of Lee's, between the enemy and Washington.

General's Plans Fall Through.

Meade planned to give battle along Pipe creek and from strong defensive positions. Gettysburg, at the crossing of Chambersburg and Hagerstown roads, had no part in his scheme. Lee wanted to collect his army and retire southward by routes either to the east or west of Harper's ferry. He swung his forces away from the Susquehanna river, while Meade prepared for an encounter along Pipe creek.

On June 30 Brig. Gen. John Buford, commanding a union cavalry division, occupied Gettysburg. His troopers encountered a fragment of the enemy on the Chambersburg road, the van of Lee's army. He rushed word to Maj. Gen. John F. Reynolds, who with the 1st, 3d, and 11th corps of Meade's army, was advancing leisurely to Gettysburg. Then it was apparent the battle would have to be fought at Gettysburg.

HARDY PIONEERS RELIVE HISTORY OF NORTHWEST

Portray Settlement of Vast Territory.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Thirty-six college boys, bewhiskered and tanned, played pioneer last night in the Washington park armory and performed so convincingly that early American history came alive to their cheering little audience.

The actors were members of the pioneer caravan of the northwest territory sesquicentennial, which for seven months has forged westward from Massachusetts by day and portrayed the drama of the Ohio expedition by night. Their stage last night was improvised; they were without backdrops or director; the sound of their amplifier echoed and reechoed through the almost empty building. But they spoke so bravely and strode so manfully that they won rounds of applause from their spectators.

Preserve Old Atmosphere.

Chicago is only one stop to these barnstorming youths. After a second performance this afternoon in the armory, they will hitch their yoke of oxen to their Connestoga wagon, pull on their fringed leather jerkins, and move to Evanston, there to prepare for an appearance tomorrow evening in Dyche stadium. The boys ordinarily travel in trucks, the oxen likewise, but they will walk to Evanston to preserve traditional atmosphere.

They began as amateurs, these pioneers. But after two hundred performances, reenacting the scenes of the Albany convention of 1764, the capture of Fort Sackville in 1778, and the formation of the Ohio company in the Bunch of Grapes tavern, Boston, in 1786, they have taken on polish. Already two have been picked off by Hollywood scouts, and a third, handsome and forthright, will head for the movies when he has completed the journey through Minnesota about Oct. 11.

Backed by Federal Funds.

The caravan was financed originally by a $100,000 government appropriation, obtained with the support of George White, former governor of Ohio, and E. M. Hawes, Marietta, Ohio historian. That money ran out after the boys had walked 860 miles from Ipswich, Mass., to Marietta, O., the official end of the Ohio expedition journey. They had used only $22,000 of it, but most of the balance was paid to Gutzlom Borglum for a national monument at Marietta.

Since then the modern pioneers have been guests of the states through which they travel. Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, and Minnesota appropriated money to guarantee them their salaries—$1 a day and expenses—if they would come through their countrysides and present their pageant free once daily. Their daily budget is $94.20, allowing an average of 51 cents per day for each member's food.

Seven have dropped out since the beginning of the journey, and they were quickly replaced from the 5,000 applicants for the trip.

A SLEEPY FELLOW IS HEARD SAWING WOOD AT POSTOFFICE DOOR

Light sleepers living near the Argo postoffice were awakened early yesterday by sounds they thought were made by sawing. Seizing their revolvers, they investigated. In the postoffice yard they found a sleepy looking barefoot man, who inquired, none too pleasantly:

"Can't a man take a nap and snore without having people wave guns in his face?"

The investigators went back to bed. Later they learned that some one had been trying to saw through the postoffice door.

Come to Chicago on your vacation

FEW PLACES in the world offer more fun and interest to vacationists than Chicago. There are sunny beaches, golf courses, concerts by famous orchestras, major league baseball games, great stores with treasures from world markets, fascinating zoos, and hundreds of other attractions.

Before you come to Chicago, consult the Rooms-to-Rent and the Hotels columns in the Tribune want ad section for offers of rooms and suites. Write to the advertisers for their rates and details of the accommodations they offer. You are sure to find a place which will meet your requirements.

A NOTABLE VICTORY.

The resolution to call a constitutional convention in Illinois has been defeated in the house of representatives at Springfield. Thanks to the opposition of the Republican members, the measure failed to receive the required majority and presumably is dead. Those who sought to overthrow our government and make it easy to impose communism on the people of Illinois have failed.

The people of this state may well rejoice. There will be no tampering with the fundamental rights of the citizens of Illinois and no new powers of coercion will be given to the politicians. The state will be spared the expense of a convention. The uncertainty and turmoil that inevitably would accompany an effort to rewrite the constitution from beginning to end will be avoided.

All over the world democratic government is on the defensive. In this country, as in others, the politicians who shout loudest that they are the only friends of the common man are in reality seeking to impose a totalitarian régime to put the common man in chains. If ever there was a time when the fundamental law of the state should not be subjected to wholesale tampering it is now. Fortunately the Republicans in the legislature saw the danger and averted it.

MR. SNELL'S EXAMPLE.

After the adjournment of congress, Bertrand H. Snell, representative of the 31st district of New York in the house of representatives, announced that he would not seek reëlection this year. Mr. Snell has been in congress twenty-four years and for seven years has been the Republican house leader—the minority leader in the lean Republican years. He said that public responsibilities had become increasingly constant and he had reached the time of life when he should step out.

Mr. Snell has been one of the able Republican representatives in the house and he has played his part well in the years in which it was doubly difficult for a Republican because of the party's reduced state, even as a minority, and because of the strongly revolutionary and destructive proposals which swept through the national legislature. These have been trying times for every citizen of the United States at all thoughtful for the future of his country, and the apprehensions have, of course, been felt chiefly in congress, where men could observe but not stop what was happening.

Mr. Snell, with a useful record, sets a still more useful example to old timers in the Republican party who have nothing like his record of consistent and able service. He gives way to a younger man. There are many more whose connection with the party dates far back, whose best service to their party and their country would be to do as Mr. Snell has done and concede that not only is their day of opportunity gone but they themselves are so completely dated that if even their character and their ability were more distinctive, their place is on the sidelines.

There are many Republicans who have been in the party councils in other times who, in the opinion of the country, whether with entire justification or not, are remnants of a bygone order. There are great opportunities in the Republican party now, but they are for men of younger ideas and better methods of action, able to deal with new problems and a new generation.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN KEEPS THE PEACE.

One of the severe joltings Mr. Chamberlain's peace-if-possible government has received is provoked by the sinking of British merchant ships in Spanish harbors. Franco's Italian and German air forces have attacked fifty-nine British ships, sunk a number of them and taken thirty-six lives.

Some of the bombers come from Italian bases in the Balearic islands and Mr. Chamberlain, facing his critics in parliament, has been told that he could put the islands under the guns of the British fleet. He could, he says, but he won't. Mr. Chamberlain will not be turned from his determination which is to keep Great Britain at peace for the present.

Rome reports say that his policy is winning a response from Mussolini who may advise Franco not to drop so many bombs on British ships. Franco's alibi is that he can't control his Germans and Italians. Some of the ships which risk the war zone perils sought British registry as the best protection they could have. The trade is profitable and there will be risk takers. The war is a private, experimental one for Germany and Italy. They have made their own rules, one of which is that any one else will get in it at his own peril.

Great Britain never took so much provocation in other days. There is unrestricted air warfare against neutral shipping in Spanish harbors. Against such unrestricted submarine warfare we, ostensibly, went to war with Germany. Chamberlain refuses to do what Woodrow Wilson did. When Great Britain feels more certain of itself it may again write the law of the sea. Until then Mr. Chamberlain will have peace—and without fighting for it.

A TALE OF PERSECUTION.

The difficulties which J. Edward Jones encountered in publishing his book, "And So They Indicted Me" have now been added to his already amazing story alleging political persecution. Mr. Jones charges in the book that the federal burocracy set out deliberately to get him, much as the OGPU and the Gestapo go out to get men for Stalin and Hitler. After the book recounting his experiences had been printed but before it was distributed, the original publisher withdrew from his contract, explaining that he had been threatened with a criminal libel suit if he went ahead with the project. He retained confidence, he said, in Mr. Jones' accuracy but did not care to risk the heavy expense of a legal defense.

Mr. Jones by that time was used to defending himself in the courts. He had already been twice vindicated—once by a jury and again by the Supreme court whose opinion in his case has become a landmark of liberty for the American people. Accordingly, he organized his own publishing company and brought out the book himself.

The author, a dealer in oil royalties, says his difficulties began in the early days of the federal oil control in 1933. He thought some of the regulations imposed by Secretary Ickes on the oil industry were unsound and when Mr. Ickes declined to modify them, Mr. Jones appealed directly to the President in a letter suggesting Ickes' removal. Thereupon, according to the Jones account, the chief of Ickes' secret service was instructed to investigate Jones' business activities and turn over his findings to the Securities and Exchange commission for retaliatory action.

In time, Mr. Jones filed an application for the issuance of certain securites in his business. The SEC raised obstacles. Mr. Jones withdrew his application. The SEC insisted on going ahead with its hearing of the charge that there were misrepresentations in the application, even though it was no longer pending. The lower courts sustained the commission, but on appeal to the United States Supreme court, Jones was upheld. The court ruled that the burocrats had violated "the cardinal precept upon which the constitutional safeguards of personal liberty ultimately rest." If the whim of an official may be substituted for written laws, the "government ceases to be one of laws and becomes an autocracy."

Mr. Jones' troubles did not end there. He was tried, and acquitted of a charge of fraud. He was, so he says, invited to buy a thousand copies of the Democratic campaign book, with the understanding that if he did so the persecution might cease.

Before the last national election, Mr. Roosevelt announced in a public speech that under his leadership "new instruments of power" had been created in the federal government which could not safely be entrusted to other hands than his. Mr. Jones' account of his relations with the federal burocracy suggests that these new instruments of power may be unsafe in any hands.

The book presents an ex parte account and many readers will refuse to accept his statements for that reason. Fortunately for those who wish to understand what is going on in their country, some of the charges which Mr. Jones has made may be tested before long in open court. He has brought suit for damages against some officials and former officials of the SEC, alleging that statements issued publicly regarding him and his business were false. Among the defendants are Joseph Kennedy, now ambassador to Great Britain, and James M. Landis, now dean of the Harvard law school. If the suit comes to trial the accuracy of the points raised in the book may be tested.

THE VALUE OF SKILL.

Forty-two per cent of the men who were out of work in the latter part of 1937 were unskilled workers, men without special training in any occupation. They constituted by far the largest group among the jobless. There were 2,177,000 of them. They were reënforced by another 1,150,000 semi-skilled men. Fewer than a million among the unemployed were listed as skilled industrial workers.

The figures have only recently been released by John D. Biggers, the Toledo glass manufacturer, who was in charge of the federal census of unemployment.

The lesson is an obvious one. Those who have the poorest chance in a depression are the unskilled. The man who has learned a trade and has something more than muscle to sell has far greater security. The lesson is important for parents who wish their children to enjoy a relatively high degree of security; for school officials who wish to equip their pupils for successful living; for relief officials who should make every effort to train the unemployed in trades which will provide a living.

Unskilled men are easily replaced. Skilled men are not. When employers are forced by lack of orders to reduce expenditures the first men to go are generally those who can be most easily replaced when times improve. The last men to go are the skilled workers, who are the key men in any organization. Mr. Biggers' statistics were not required to establish the theory that the trained man gets the breaks in good times as well as in bad; but the figures do provide a powerful reënforcement of the doctrin.

Editorial of the Day

SOME FIGURES, SOME ADVICE.

[New York Sun.]

An unofficial but interesting survey of persons in this city living in whole or part on public funds has been made by the New York Times. We take the liberty to tabulate it:

WPA relief	571,200
Home relief	567,300
City government jobs	155,486
Federal jobs	50,000
State government jobs	8,796
City pensions	23,959
Unemployment insurance	100,000
In hospitals, public expense	24,150
In jail, public expense	6,700
Dependent children, blind, aged	116,000

As several persons may live from each government job or pension, the gross total estimated by the Times, 2,200,000, seems not unreasonable. That it should amount to 29 per cent of the city's population is illuminating, not to say tragic.

With due regard to the fact that some of those living on public money work hard for it and without wishing to discourage the young men and women who are emerging from college this month, there is a temptation to quote not merely the figures of the Times but the terse advice of the Montana State Journal:

"Work hard and save money, so you can support those who don't."

Ex-G-Man Melvin Purvis, in town for a few days before going to his native South Carolina to administer his father's estate, bought a slug to telephone in the Pittsfield building.

"Yes, often," answered Purvis.

TESTAMENT.

This was the last will of Quizzicuss,
Who died, as he lived, without much fuss;
There's little he owned and less he knew,
But much that he loved and left to you.
The trifles he owned are no one's gain.
The things he knew shall be known again,
But this the treasure he left behind—
The kingdom of books and friendships kind;
His songs to haunt you (and mayhap give His memory an excuse to live),
All God's good world, and the stars' sure light
When day's long end brings the peace of night;
And only asked—a bit wistfully—
That you cherish it as much as he.

Add First Lines.

Listening to Helen Hayes portray the title rôle in the play "Jane Eyre" over the radio Monday night, I was reminded of my favorite line of all lines from any book. It is when, after 37 chapters packed with thrilling melodrama, Charlotte Bronte came to "Chapter 38, Conclusion," of her famous novel and wrote briefly and poignantly, "Reader, I married him." Esther Palmer.

Miss Bronte's chapter heading, which was used as a book title some years ago, you may remember, brings to mind the conversation between two women on a bus. A newspaper truck, bearing a huge picture of one of the staf writers, drew up alongside during a trafic tie-up. "What a mug," said one of them, looking at the picture. "To think I read him every night, too." "Not only homely but he doesn't look smart enough to fill out an application blank," said the other. The woman in the seat in front of them turned around. "Reader, I married him," she said, quietly. She was the newspaper man's wife.

June Provines is not doing right by our Nell in publishing your charming little paragraphs. Your lovely vistas will soon be cluttered with high powered motors filled with low powered tourists. Your descriptions are bait to lure the ever nostalgic city dweller from his favorite bar. Who wouldn't trade a simple black dress with the inevitable string of pearls, the pointed heels which sink into the heat soaked asphalt, and the dash of Caron's back of the car for the privilege of nursing a bubbling boiler of sheets close by a giant hemlock?

Garden sass indeed! Not since my grandmother sent the hired girl to the kitchen garden for a mess of garden sass for the hungry harvesters (some thirty odd years ago) back in the Pennsylvania mountains have I heard that expression. Every time I order a salad and am confronted with a wilted lettuce leaf plus a half ripe tomato I think with utter longing of your garden of crisp greens growing near the springhouse. All that is needed to complete the picture is a large bed of watercress nourished by the springhouse overflow. Don't tell me you have even that or I shall be swept with a wave of jealousy too poignant to be endured. . . . It is too much that you should have wild honeysuckle to scent your fresh sheets while I must brush the railroad soot from mine.

JUNE DAYS.

Oh beautiful, balmy days of June,
With your azure skies and fields of green
And the sunshine shimmering through the trees,
Wrapping the world in its golden sheen
Like a gorgeous mantle around a queen.

The air is heavy with sweet perfume
As it comes to me from the new mown hay,
And the plaintive call of the mourning dove
Sounds in the woodland far away
As he sings to his mate through the livelong day.

Oh, I know that heaven must be like this—
Calm and still like a summer's day,
With a little path winding over the hill,
And wild roses blooming along the way,
And the warm air full of the scent of hay.

Originally written for the organ while he was at the MacDowell colony at Peterboro, N. H., he transcribed it for orchestra for the Ravinia opening.

Things have been happening fast to young Read, former choir boy at St. Luke's, who at 9 gave up the piano because he didn't like to practice. His first symphony, for which he won a $1,000 first prize in a New York Philharmonic contest, was played by the New York Philharmonic last November and by the Chicago Symphony in February. He is leaving Monday to sail for Munich for the music festival and six weeks of travel on a Cromwell scholarship. His movie camera will record the trip. Photography is his second love.

"LEAFLETS THREE, LET THEM BE"—POISON IVY.

DURING the growing season many of our out-of-door friends will come into contact with poison ivy.

As a result the skin may become irritated, due to a peculiar oily substance [related chemically to carbolic acid], called toxicodendrol, which is exuded not only by this particular plant but by poison oak and sumac.

Despite the numerous descriptions which have been published, many fail to distinguish between rhus [ivy] and the harmless woodbine, which grows so profusely along roadsides and in uncultivated fields and woods. The plant which we should shun can flourish almost anywhere, either as a vine, a trailing shrub, or an erect bush. It climbs trees and posts, and its leaves may be so intertwined with those of some other species that they may pass unnoticed.

We can identify this noxious form by its foliage, in which the leaflets occur in groups of three. A slender stem bears one at the end and a short distance below two are found opposite one another. In late summer or early autumn white berries similar to those on mistletoe are seen. These remain long after frost and wind have stripped the stems bare. Each leaflet is broad, ends in a point, but is without the numerous indentations of woodbine. In this latter vine five leaflets [instead of three] spring from a common level of the stem.

As the crinkly young leaves of poison ivy unfold they are first reddish, later becoming green, darker on the upper surface, lighter underneath. In the autumn they assume gorgeous shades of scarlet, ranging to orange. Even after a frost one should not handle the plant. And many a gorgeous, flame-hued bouquet brought from the country to grace a fireplace mantel is responsible for blemishes on the hands and face. We should recall the sound old adage, "Leaflets three, let them be."

Most of us are susceptible, although those who frequent the woods daily may acquire an immunity. After exposure, symptoms develop usually within a few hours, although in some cases inflammation may be delayed for several days. Redness, with slight swelling, is followed by the appearance of small, clear blisters [vesicles] clumped together, which may be observed first upon the inner portions of the fingers. The eyelids and adjacent regions may become so swollen as to produce temporary closure. Inasmuch as the oily poison can disseminate rapidly, touching the contaminated hands to the face or the rest of the body may bring on the characteristic response. Occasionally larger blisters form and, in severe cases, should the patient be highly susceptible, a serious illness may ensue. As the skin reaction subsides the surface remains covered for quite some time with dry, fine crusts.

Let us assume that a case of poison ivy has developed. The first procedure suggested is to wash the affected sites thoroughly with soap and water. A strong suds should be employed. Later some of the toxin may be wiped away with alcohol soaked swabs. Thereafter 5 per cent potassium permanganate in water is utilized. Packs saturated with this solution should be changed from time to time. Another plan is to use a 5 per cent solution of ferric chloride [chloride of iron]. This is dissolved in equal parts of alcohol and water. Many hikers cover the hands and the face with this latter liquid as a means of prevention. It is thought that the iron will impregnate the skin sufficiently so as to render it nonsensitive. In addition, there is probably a neutralizing effect upon the poison.

Prevention, of course, is more important than cure. Every one should learn to recognize poison ivy, and it is always wise to exercise precautions if the weed is known to abound. Wearing high boots and gloves is suggested. Certain biological laboratories recommend the use of a vaccine, and some reports indicate the value of this product. It is advised for those who in all probability will be exposed.

There seems to be some evidence that actually touching the plant is not necessary. In other words, those who are highly susceptible may exhibit signs of poisoning if they are in the neighborhood of the weed, as the air may contain enough emanations to produce the effect.

FOR DROPPED KIDNEY.

M. R. writes: I have a dropped kidney which gives me a lot of trouble. I cannot gain weight. Is an operation to anchor the kidney of permanent benefit? How is this done?

REPLY.

Measures directed toward improvement of the general health are advised first of all, and skilful massage may be of value. The amount of food should be increased. A suitable abdominal support will be helpful. If you are unable to gain weight despite every effort, operation may be considered. Be sure you are in the hands of a skilled surgeon.

RESULTS SOMETIMES EXCELLENT.

A. N. S. writes: Is it true that the medical profession cannot cope with vitiligo?

REPLY.

In some cases the treatment is unsatisfactory. The blanched areas may be rendered less conspicuous by staining with walnut juice. In a number of instances, however, excellent results have been obtained by giving hydrochloric acid by mouth.

LEAFLET TELLS HOW.

S. Z. writes: One of the members of my family has to eat liver and I would like to know how to prepare it.

REPLY.

We have a leaflet listing several different recipes. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for this.

ON WINNING SIDE.

K. O. writes: I was glad to read your article advising people not to take drugs promiscuously. On three different occasions I took well known pain remedies and, shortly thereafter, my face puffed up and I became acutely ill. You can bet that from now on I shall leave such medicines alone.

REPLY.

You will win your bet.

INJECTIONS HELPFUL.

T. P. writes: What do you think of the whooping cough injections?

REPLY.

CAN'T IGNORE THEIR BITE.

Chicago, June 27.—To J. L. Clarke, sanitary engineer in the mosquito abatement district [Des Plaines valley]: I note that in THE TRIBUNE you are quoted about how to forget mosquito bites in five or ten minutes. The human subjects you are using must have leather hides. Bring them out to Park Ridge around Cumberland and Western avenue where the pests are so numerous, large and vicious that it won't be long before they attack airplanes. If one let the bite alone for ten minutes as you suggest, there'd be a lump the size of a big tumor. Come on out and enjoy the mosquitoes with us. You won't ignore them. Perhaps we are in one of the alphabetically organized mosquito test districts.

GRATEFUL FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE.

Chicago, June 27.—It is a puzzle to me why our city junior colleges, maintained by the board of education, never are given any publicity. In fact, as a student of Wright Junior college, I was amazed to find so many who were ignorant of the fact that such institutions existed in Chicago.

I am writing this letter in the hope that some high school student who wants to continue his schooling but who cannot afford it may grasp this opportunity. There is no tuition for residents of Chicago; only a small fee of $6 a semester for the school newspaper, mimeographed material, and admission to football games.

The junior college system here has been a lifesaver to thousands, including myself. When I finished high school, being unable to go away to college, I chanced to hear of Wright Junior college. I now am grateful to our board of education for having received two years of college work—now finishing. The teachers are all well qualified; all have degrees. EUNICE MCGRAW.

DOESN'T PAY HIS TAX.

Chicago, June 26.—Your editorial of today concerning the collection of personal property taxes prompts me to write this letter. Frankly, I do not pay this tax every year because I feel like thousands of others that it is unjust—because of the taxing of things which, like automobiles, already pay their share of tax. Personal property is difficult to trace and if people hold out on the assessor there is little he can do about it. I have discussed this tax with hundreds of people and they all say abolish it and substitute another type of tax. Personally, I would suggest a state income tax.

It would startle the public officials to learn what the people actually think of the present personalty tax. They are plenty fed up on it. S. C. S. B.

"BUY SOMETHING" WEEK.

Chicago, June 24.—Let's have an "Everybody Buy Something" week to start the buying habit in motion again. THE TRIBUNE can lead the parade of the nation's newspapers to publicize the event.

And the week of July 4 to 9 would be most appropriate, starting with the national holiday.

Come on, American people; buy something and watch the stock market continue upward. HALLEN HILL.

HARVARD MEN.

Chicago, June 27.—William Fulton's story told us about Harvard men, although it didn't mention that you can always tell a Harvard man, but you can't tell him much. Harvard men are not cynical, rather it is the "Harvard indifference" which gives such an impression. EX-BOSTONIAN.

REFUTES "YAP THE JAP."

Washington, D. C., June 25.—In the Voice of the People on June 17 Yap the Jap accused me of deliberately suppressing the facts in my story of the state department's disapproval of bombing plane sales to Japan. In taking issue with my citation of May figures of the state department on armament sales, which show Japan is getting more than two and a half times as much war materials from this country as China, he charged I told a half truth because the May figures do not tell the whole story.

To confute me he cites the 1936 figures on arm shipments and those from December, 1937, to last April. I submit that 1936 has nothing to do with the case, because there were no hostilities at that time. Further, in his citation of the December-April figures, Yap the Jap deliberately suppresses the facts, which would have shown the error of his position. His figures show China to be the greatest purchaser in the period he selects. However, he left out May figures, which were available in the story and which put Japan ahead of China.

He also complains against the headline on the story which had this country halting planes sales where the body of the story said the state department discouraged such sales. While I have never seen a copyreader worth fighting for, I am moved by fairness to point out that the interpretation of diplomatic language in the headline was most correct. Where the licenser of arms shipments "discourages" sales of any kind of implements of war, they "halt."

WALTER TROHAN.

ART AT NAVY PIER.

Holland, Mich., June 27.—I was in your city recently and visited the current art exhibit at Navy pier. Certainly there's nothing like it in the world and it seems a shame that one searches in vain through the Chicago papers for accounts of it. True, you have had some reviews of it on the art page, but there are people who would gladly attend this pier exhibition who otherwise seldom pay any attention to art news.

It seems to me you would be doing a real service not only to Chicago but to culture generally if you ran a daily front page notice.

Every one enjoys art, and people would go to the pier who never go to a gallery or art school exhibit.

ON THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Chicago, June 25.—The Fourth of July is a day of pleasure for the majority of us, but not for animals. When firecrackers bang both cats and dogs cower in terror, or dash wildly away from the terrifying noise, sometimes to be killed or injured by passing automobiles.

Our mayor is asking all to coöperate in making this a safe and sane Fourth. Let the animals share in this safety and sanity by spending the day in a quiet, dark place in the home, assured of their owner's kindness and sympathy.

A HAPPY PICTURE.

Chicago, June 27.—That picture of John Roosevelt in Sunday's TRIBUNE was the loveliest thing I've seen in a long time. It portrays such perfect happiness and love and I'm sure all who saw it felt the same way I did because "all the world still loves a lover." I wish there were more pictures like that, for "Happy Pictures make Happy People"!

ANNE JESTY ROGERS.

AN OMISSION.

Chicago, June 26. — You've made a slight error in your editorial, under the caption "The Pay Roll and the Death Roll." You referred to one Democratic political faction in the state as the "Nash faction." I write to inquire if, his honor, the mayor is A. W. O. L. from his respective Democratic faction. Or, maybe, it is better for all if his name isn't mentioned. . . . Who cares? Aw, nuts! THADDEUS L. ZUBER.

IT MIGHT GIVE THEM PAUSE.

Chicago, June 25.—Referring to the rapist, Louis Serallie, "twice convicted and twice paroled," why not hold the paroler of this type of criminal equally guilty with the criminal for any crime he commits while on parole? Wouldn't that stop the frequent activity of politicians who for a few votes intervene, trying to release such men? CITIZEN.

THE U. S. CONSTITUTION.

Chicago, June 28.—Whenever I see those famous words, "The United States Constitution," I have a mental picture of the strong, silent men who composed it and affixed their signatures.

Like a perfect rainbow it comes out on a turbulent sky. Let's thank God for this everlasting beautiful document.

"SANDY LEE."

SLOW CAR AND A CROSS WOMAN.

Chicago, June 27.—Driving west on Washington street, trafic was held up by a slow car which could only be passed on the right or by crossing the center line. The car, may I add, was being driven by a very cross looking woman.

TITLE PAPERS.

Chicago, June 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband and I are buying a house and we went to a lawyer to handle our affairs for us. He told us that he has to investigate our name [as we have a very common name] in order to give us clear papers to this building and that it will cost an awful lot.

1. Why do they have to investigate our name as we don't own any property at the present time? In fact, we never have.
2. Do people who do not own property have liens against their names?
3. Does it cost an awful lot to transact this business?
4. Is a Torrens agreement just as good as a Title and Trust agreement?
5. Could you tell us about what the amount would be to clear our name if we have to?
6. Friends tell us they never heard of investigating a name unless the buyer already has property. L. N.

1. It seems probable that you misunderstood him. In general, it is necessary to investigate the seller's title. We see no need to investigate your name unless you are asking for personal credit. The lawyer is in a better position to explain what he means than we are.
2. No. Judgments against persons with similar names might require explanation, but explanation should be possible.
3. Depends on what you mean by "awful lot."
4. Some purchasers would prefer a Torrens certificate, and others would prefer a guaranty policy.
5. We do not understand the question.
6. We agree. See preceding answers.

SIX SELL LIQUOR TO YOUNGSTERS; LOSE LICENSES

Mayor Orders Inquiry in Acquittal of 28.

Licenses of five taverns and a liquor store in which police say liquor was sold to minors were revoked yesterday by Mayor Kelly.

Police Commissioner Allman at the same time began an investigation into the failure of police to obtain convictions against 28 tavern keepers and bartenders who were freed in South State street Police court Tuesday of charges of selling liquor to minors.

Places Losing Licenses.

The mayor revoked the license of Morris Goldberg and Harold Schenckker's liquor store at 3748-52 West 26th street; Jacob Torshen and Harry Block's tavern at 1239 Devon avenue; Agamimon Wootos' tavern at 2804 Elston avenue; Francis Griffith's tavern at 4622 Broadway; Frank Kozak's tavern at 4922 West 26th street, and William Vosilopoulos' tavern at 2112 North Clark street.

The mayor expressed surprise that the 28 freed Tuesday, some of whom lost their licenses yesterday, had escaped court punishment. He said he would insist that the law against selling liquors to minors be enforced.

Judge Eugene Holland, who heard the cases, released the defendants because the police failed to bring in the minors who had bought the liquor, although he said he would impose the maximum penalty of a $100 fine on such charges if sufficient evidence were produced.

Police Draw Criticism.

Allman criticized his policemen for not bringing the minors into court and said they should have known this was necessary to get convictions. He called for reports on their action and promised to do all in his power to bring about convictions in the future.

The city council license subcommittee, headed by Ald. William Rowan [10th] met to consider the new ordinance, effective July 6, which makes minors liable to fines for buying liquor.

COURT UPHOLDS BOARD'S RIGHT TO SHIFT TEACHERS

The right of school board officials to transfer principals and teachers for the best interests of the school system was upheld yesterday in a ruling of the Illinois Appellate court which dismissed the suit of William T. McCoy for reinstatement as principal of the Bowen High school. He was transferred March 9, 1937, to principal of the Beidler elementary school. McCoy charged he was removed from the high school without cause and without a hearing before the school board. The Appellate court affirmed the previous ruling of Judge John J. Lupe.

DIES AFTER TAKING POISON.

Mrs. Alvera Bovaro, 23 years old, died in St. Mary's hospital yesterday after taking poison in her home at 2323 Iowa street. Relatives said she had been in ill health.

SEARCH FOR MISSING YOUTH ON MOUNTAIN PEAK IS ABANDONED

Albuquerque, N. M., June 29.—[Special.]—Searchers today abandoned their hunt for John Medill McCormick, wealthy young mountain climber, on mile high peak in the Sandia mountains where he disappeared a week ago. They said they were convinced the youth is not on the peak.

The search was continued, however, in the rugged canyon terrain at the foot of the mountain. It is believed now McCormick must have come to harm in the country below the place where the body of his climbing companion, Richard Whitmer, young Princeton student, was found last Thursday.

The mystery surrounding the hunt was deepened by an unexplained gunshot fired at two searchers, one an Albuquerque policeman, as they trudged through the mountains. Policeman William Murphy said the bullet passed close over his head and that he got near enough to shout at the man who fired it, but could not make out who he was.

NAMED AS KILLER OF DOG, HIS PLEA IS SELF-DEFENSE

Leo Heinz Sr., Niles Center street commissioner, explained yesterday why he killed a dog belonging to a lifelong friend. When the dog attacked him, Heinz said, he called for help. His friend laughed. Heinz got his shotgun and when the dog attacked him again he killed it.

Heinz told his story when he surrendered on what was said to be one of the most unusual indictments ever voted by a grand jury here—malicious killing of a domestic animal. He lives at 3430 Church street, Niles Center. The dog belonged to Kenneth Emerson, son of George Emerson, 9256 Prairie road, Niles Center.

BANDITS TAKE DOCTOR'S CAR.

Two bandits early yesterday forced Manager Morris Rudnick to surrender an automobile yesterday in a garage at 3341 Lake street. The car was owned by Dr. Peter Hutzis of 3358 Lake street. In it was the physician's medical case.

MURDER VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED BY SHOE AND TEETH

Auto Sold by Slaying Suspect Found.

Northampton, Mass., June 29.—(AP)—A shoe salesman's records tonight led investigators closer to identification of a body found last week in the Connecticut river as that of Charles Morris, 50 years old, New York race track follower.

N. J. Mirabile of Springfield said a shoe found close to the body matched a pair he sold to Morris. A Springfield dentist said he could identify Morris' teeth, on which he had worked.

Held Without Bail.

Meanwhile, it was reported in New York that Mrs. Margo L. Bathelt, former actress, was on her way to aid her husband, John Paul Bathelt Jr., 26 years old, of New York, held without bail on a charge of murder in connection with Morris' death.

Detective Lieutenant Martin Owens announced he had important evidence when he produced a man identified as Morris Rosenfeld, New York automobile dealer, for recognition as a material witness.

Victim's Car Sold in Jersey.

Owens told the court Rosenfeld had sold to a Newark, N. J., firm for Bathelt an automobile identified as once belonging to Morris. The car since has been located in Newark, Owens said, and is being held for Massachusetts authorities.

Police theorized Morris was slain last June 21, the body buried for a time, but later dug up, encased in cement, and thrown into the Connecticut river, where it was found last week.

POISON DEATH HELD SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday in the death of Mrs. Alvera Bavaro, 23 years old, 2323 Iowa street, who swallowed poison in her home earlier in the day.

U. S. to Send Surplus Foodstuffs to Michigan

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—The Surplus Commodities corporation today said millions of pounds of foodstuffs would be shipped into Michigan within the next two months for distribution to the needy. The quantity will depend upon the amount of various commodities purchased by the corporation and Michigan's need.

School Janitor Sentenced to 20 Years as Kidnaper

Mobile, Ala., June 29.—[Special.]—Charles Corlett Jr., 27 years old, a public school janitor, was sentenced today by Federal Judge John McDuffie to twenty years in the Atlanta federal prison. Corlett pleaded guilty to kidnaping John S. Locke Jr., 10 years old, and taking him to Pensacola, Fla.

Warmer and Unsettled Is Forecast for Today

Warmer and unsettled weather today was predicted yesterday by J. R. Lloyd, government forecaster. The mercury is expected to reach a maximum of 84 degrees, the first time in the 80s since June 23. The maximum reading yesterday was 73 degrees at 3:05 p. m.

THE PRICE YOU PAY MEASURES THE SERVICE YOU GET

ALL FISK MILEAGE IS SAFE MILEAGE—Regardless of the Fisk Tire that you choose from this group, you have definite assurance that it will deliver mileage in accordance with the price you pay for it . . . that you will get your full money's worth in service PLUS unmatched safety factors which have made Fisk Tires the choice of thinking motorists throughout America.

THE FISK TIRE COMPANY, Inc., Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Manufacturers, also, of Fisk Truck and Bus Tires

SAFTI-FLIGHT—"America's Safest Tire"

This is the best tire that Fisk knows how to build . . . and we believe it is the best tire built today, both in its internal construction and in its incomparable safety tread. The tread is not just a new tread design. It is a new tread construction. Its stopping efficiency is built in . . . the tread does not have to have its safety renewed every few thousand miles. Stops your car faster, and in a straight line, even on wet roads. No tailspin! Different from any tire you have ever seen, and correctly named as "America's Safest Tire." Gives you plus-protection that is visible to the naked eye and instantly realized the minute you start driving. It costs more to make than ordinary tires, and is classed as a DeLuxe Tire . . . but it actually sells for very little more than first line tires of conventional tread construction.

AIR-FLIGHT

This is one of the best . . . if not actually THE best . . . conventional tread tires built today. It differs from Safti-Flight only in its tread, which costs less to manufacture . . . so that Air-Flight costs you less money.

AIR-FLIGHT A-S

Sturdy, well-made, dependable . . . made to sell at a moderate price. Size for size, it contains more cord than similar grade tires made by other manufacturers. It is a little less expensive to build than Air-Flight, and costs you less for this reason.

FISK "75"

A better tire for the money than competition offers at the same price . . . but if you want very lowest possible first cost we recommend the Windsor. This tire is called the "75" because it costs you 75% as much as the Air-Flight.

WINDSOR

Built for the car owner who wants good, dependable transportation at low first cost. It is the lowest-priced tire in the Fisk Line, but an outstanding value.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by HOMER NEISZ

Fields Drying Out.

June 29, 1938.

MEADOWS and fields of corn and small grains at THE TRIBUNE'S Du Page county farm are drying out following the rains that fell last week-end. Harvesters were caught with fifteen acres of red and alsike clover and a small amount of alfalfa down in the swath when the rains started last Friday morning. The hay has been turned with a side delivery rake to allow it to dry out, so it may be stored in the barns. The workers hope to get it put up today.

None of the hay that was down appears to have been damaged by the rains. It is a little off color, but neither the keeping nor feeding quality is thought to have been affected.

The rains and wind beat down much of the oats, but most of the plants have straightened up. All the oats are heading except a small test field of a Swedish variety that was seeded late. Rye is beginning to ripen. Most of the rye is expected to be too tall to cut with the type of combine harvester used at the farm. It likely will be cut with a grain binder and then threshed in the combine.

Corn Prospects Brighter.

Prospects for a good corn crop now are brighter than at any time since the corn was planted. The fields are fairly clean and the corn is green and growing. None of it was damaged by the recent rains that flooded some corn fields in northern Illinois. Warmer weather is about all the corn needs now to make satisfactory growth.

Gardeners at the farm have been keeping spray guns busy in their fight against insect pests and plant diseases. Roses are sprayed regularly at two week intervals with Bordeaux mixture to prevent black spot, a disease that causes more trouble than any other among roses in this region. The gardeners have found that it is easier to prevent black spot by regular spraying than to control it after it gets a start.

The roses also are sprayed with Paris green or some kind of pyrethrum spray to kill chewing insects and with Black Leaf 40 for rose aphis, an insect that sucks the sap from the plants. The Paris green sprays are made by mixing one ounce of Paris green and three ounces of brown sugar with three gallons of water.

Spray Gladiolus Plants.

The gladiolus plants are sprayed every ten days or after each rain with Paris green to control thrips, small insects that live over winter on the stored bulbs and then attack the flowering stalks during spring and summer. The bulbs were soaked in a solution of bichloride of mercury before they were planted and the plants are being sprayed as an extra precaution to kill any of the insects that might have been missed on the bulbs. Last year the thrips ruined many of the gladiolus plants at the farm. They have given no trouble so far this year.

The 485 ewes and lambs in the farm's flock were rounded up and put through the dipping vat this week to rid them of external parasites. All sheep on the place are dipped once each year.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COMPTON ALTERS THEORY OF ORIGIN OF COSMIC RAYS

He Thinks Now That They Come from Milky Way.

Dr. Arthur H. Compton, noted University of Chicago physicist and 1927 Nobel prize winner, last night startled a distinguished gathering of scientists attending a symposium on cosmic rays at the university by drastically revising his generally accepted theory on the origin of the rays.

The cosmic rays, those powerful and mysterious electrically charged particles which constantly bombard the earth, probably have their origin, Dr. Compton said, in the Milky Way, the galaxy of which the earth is a part.

New Theory Fits Evidence.

Previously Dr. Compton had tentatively advanced the theory, which his fellow physicists had almost universally accepted, that the rays originated in remote stellar space. But, on the basis of the latest data available, he declared last night, the new theory of local origin seems best to fit experimental evidence.

Until recently many physicists had believed that the cosmic rays formed by far the greatest supply of energy present in the cosmos. If the new theory is correct, Dr. Compton suggested, it would seem the rays are produced by processes which, on an astronomical scale, are of relatively minor importance.

Assuming that the rays came from beyond the Milky Way, it was necessary for physicists to hold that all space was filled with them, and that their source was much more abundant than is the power source which gives the light energy from stars. But no adequate source of this colossal flow of power could be advanced.

Theory Removes Difficulty.

Dr. Compton's latest theory removes this embarrassing difficulty. If the electrically charged rays are held within the galaxy's magnetic field, whereas the electrically uncharged starlight freely escapes, he declared, then the source of the cosmic rays' power can be much feebler than the source of starlight.

Dr. Compton said that the basis for this revision was the failure to find any evidence of the so-called galactic effect on the extensive records from meters which count the number of rays coming to the earth. The readings were obtained in Capetown, South Africa; Peru, in South America, and in Maryland.

2 NOBEL WINNERS SAY SCIENCE CAN REMAKE WORLD

OTTAWA, Ontario, June 29.—(AP)—Chemistry and physics can remake the world's civilization, two of America's outstanding winners of the Nobel prize told the association for the advancement of science today, if men and nations abandon cowardly wars as a solution of economic problems.

Dr. Harold C. Urey of Columbia university and Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago accepted for science much of the blame for economic upsets, unemployment, depressions, and social and political revolutions in recent years.

Addressing the third session of the association's symposium on "Science and the Future," they declared that peoples of the world passing through the present transition period should not lose faith in a greater and happier life which scientific developments already promise and turn to "defeatist and cowardly wars" as a quick solution for their temporary difficulties.

DR. G. A. ZELLER, LEADER IN CARE OF INSANE, DIES

Peoria, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—Dr. George Anthony Zeller, 79 years old, who changed treatment of the insane from the strait-jacket to a humane system, died today at his apartment on the Peoria State hospital grounds. For two weeks he had a bronchial ailment which weakened his heart. His wife died eight months ago. He was born in Spring Bay, Ill., in November, 1858.

In 1898 he was named superintendent of the state asylum by Gov. Tanner. He won fame by urging the discarding of mechanical restraint for mental patients and was among the first in the world to take the bars off windows where violently insane persons were kept.

From 1898 until his retirement in 1935 Dr. Zeller had been head of the large institution, except for three years of service in the Philippines and four years as state alienist. Since his retirement he had acted as an adviser at State hospital here. Funeral services will be held on Friday.

MALICE COUNT IN AUTO DAMAGE SUIT IS UPHELD

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday reversed a previous ruling by Judge Michael L. McKinley and upheld a malice count in a personal injury verdict of a jury in behalf of a newspaper boy against Supervising Police Captain Joseph Goldberg. Under this count Capt. Goldberg may be jailed for six months if he fails to pay the $3,500 judgment against him.

John Heneghan, 18 years old, 4630 Maypole avenue, was injured Sept. 1, 1933, when he was struck by Capt. Goldberg's automobile at Cicero avenue and Fulton street. Last March 12 a jury before Judge McKinley returned the judgment. A malice count, however, was stricken by the court. The Appellate court opinion pointed out there was evidence, though controverted, that Capt. Goldberg was driving without lights and at a speed of 30 to 45 miles an hour.

List Democrat Book Buyers on Congressional Record

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—The names of purchasers of the souvenir program of the Democratic convention of 1936 were spread on the Congressional Record today. The list shows that sale of the books, many of which were autographed by President Roosevelt, brought $849,812 into the coffers of the Democratic national committee. The names were collected by Senator Rush D. Holt of West Virginia.

J. M. Gorden, in Business 50 Yrs., Dies at Burnips, Mich.

Allegan, Mich., June 29.—[Special.]—Joseph M. Gorden, 80 years old, a resident of Burnips, 16 miles north of Allegan, died yesterday at his home. He had occupied the same place of business more than 50 years as undertaker and furniture dealer. He had taught school and had been postmaster. His funeral will be on Friday.

Former Canton, Ill., Banker Dies in Vancouver, Wash.

Canton, Ill., June 29.—[Special.]—Edward A. Heald, former president of the Canton National bank, which he and his father founded in 1886, died today at Vancouver, Wash.

He had lived there for the last four years. He was a Mason. The funeral will be held in Vancouver tomorrow.

APPROVE ADDED $1,883,994 FOR CHICAGO AIRPORT

A supplemental grant of $1,883,994 for completion of Chicago airport was recommended at Washington yesterday by air commerce bureau engineers. This virtually assures for Chicago one of the finest commercial flying fields in the United States, because approval of the bureau has been followed in the past by a Works Progress administration grant.

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, said the money will be used to finish the job already well under way on the tract bounded by 55th and 63d streets, Cicero and Central avenues. Approximately 2½ million dollars in WPA funds already has been spent grading, installing drainage, and cutting runways. The new funds will be used to finish the sixteen runways, the taxi-strip, build a cyclone fence around the airport, and incidental work.

A Public Works administration grant of $873,440 for construction of barracks and noncommissioned officers' quarters at Fort Sheridan was given presidential approval yesterday in the total allotment of 48 million dollars to the army for housing. Construction on a barracks for the 61st coast artillery will start in ten days, authorities said.

OBITUARIES

T. Francis Murphy.

T. Francis Murphy died early yesterday at the age of 70 in the home of his son, Richard E., at 6441 Magnolia avenue. Formerly a general freight agent for the Big Four railroad in Chicago, Mr. Murphy for the last thirty years was engaged in the building material business, with offices at 30 North La Salle street. Another son, Norbert A. Murphy, also survives. The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 1353 Devon avenue to St. Ignatius church.

BEES THAT SCARE CO-EDS PRETTY SWEET FOR COPS

A bevy of Northwestern university's summer school co-eds living in the home of Mrs. Ada K. Weeks at 1831 Chicago avenue, Evanston, were much perturbed last evening when a swarm of bees halted in a cherry tree in the yard.

They all took refuge behind the screens of the house and asked the police for help. That one was easy. They sent Policeman George Pestka, who knows all about what to do with bees. Donning gloves and a wire mask, he climbed the tree and sawed off the limb on which the bees were massed. Descending, he brushed them all carefully into a hive without a single sting and carried them to his own back yard.

A lovely lipstick for a lovely lady with fair complexion is in a shade called azalea. This is a delicate pink with warm undertones that is a beautiful color accent with white or pastel clothes. There is a rouge to match.

Ladies, we give you the fine lipstick in the shade called "azalea." It's lovely. Different, too, but not in the freaky way. It's on the pinky side, with a tiny smidge of the purple tone, but NOT TOO much. This achieves prettiness, which is more than can be said of those shades that flaunt purplish undertones in abundance.

Freak lipstick shades plunge us into the "we are not amused" mood. The mask-like makeup with obviously unnatural color accents has always struck us as being rather hard to look at. Besides that, it isn't fashionable now—which should prove that sometimes fashion's pendulum swings in the right direction.

This shade, while quite unlike any other shade, isn't so far from blood color as to be fantastic. It's a pretty shade for the pretty, fair face. It's beautiful with white or pastel clothes and though it is stunning on some people who're tanned we think it's best for the woman with rather neutral coloring that verges on fairness.

The lipstick itself has long been one of our pets. When it first came on the market we were enthused because it was wonderfully creamy without being too slippery. It clings beautifully and can be used on the driest, thinnest skinned lips summer and winter. Also, it has a lovely perfume and taste. Unless we miss our guess it has a strawberry flavor; whatever it is, we like it.

If azalea is a shade that suits you you'll be glad to know that it has a companion piece in rouge, either dry or cream. ELEANOR NANGLE.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THREE more debut parties to be added to the already long list of such festivities for next season! Miss Dorcas Fitzgerald will be presented at a tea-dance on Sept. 9; Miss Natalie De Clerque and Miss Virginia Ballard will be introduced at a supper-dance on Sept. 16, and Miss Sara Peace will make her formal bow at a tea on Sept. 21.

Miss Fitzgerald will be introduced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. James P. Fitzgerald of Highland Park, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Richmond Dean, at the Deans' home in Lake Forest. Miss Fitzgerald, who was graduated from the Roycemore school this year, is leaving soon to spend several weeks in the east while her parents are summering with Mrs. Fitzgerald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Dean, in Fort Myers, Fla. Miss Fitzgerald is thinking of going to college in the fall, but no definite plans are made.

Miss De Clerque and Miss Ballard, both of whom prepared for college at the North Shore Country Day school, will be seniors next year at Pine Manor Junior college in Wellesley, Mass. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. De Clerque and Mr. and Mrs. Roger K. Ballard, all of Winnetka, will entertain for their daughters at the Exmoor Country club. So far this is the only supper-dance listed for September.

Miss Peace to Bow on Parents' Anniversary.

Miss Peace and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Peace, will be at home in their Bellevue place residence on the afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Peace's 20th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Peace will give a dinner-dance for their daughter on Christmas eve at the Blackstone hotel. The Peaces left yesterday to spend the summer at their Lake Geneva home.

Mrs. Peace and Miss Peace will be among those assisting today at the annual rummage sale in Horticultural hall, Lake Geneva, for the benefit of Holiday home. Mrs. William F. Petersen is chairman of the committee in charge. Mrs. Earle J. Zimmerman is directing the sale of home cooked foods, and her debutante daughter, Miss Jane, will be among those assisting her.

Entertain Tonight at Ravinia Opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, Mrs. Louis Eckstein, the Donald McLennans, Mrs. James O. Hinkley, the Frederick Prestons, and Baroness Beck von Peccoz will be entertaining box parties at the opening concert at Ravinia Park tonight. The baroness will be hostess in the box of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse.

Mrs. Eckstein is the fairy godmother of Ravinia, for if she did not give the park to the festival association it is probable that there would be no concert season. Her guests tonight will be Mme. Rodzinska, whose husband, Dr. Artur Rodzinski, is the guest conductor at this and next week's concerts; Albert D. Lasker, Durand Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Knight.

The only reason that there are only six box parties is because there is only that number of boxes in the theater, which is open on the sides so that the rustling of the wind in the tall trees adds its murmur to the music produced by the Chicago Symphony orchestra on the stage.

Daughters Will Be Guests of Eckharts.

The Eckharts' guests will be their daughters, Mrs. James R. D. Stevenson and Mrs. Thomas R. Coyne, and their husbands; the Prestons' guests will be the Walter Brewsters, the William B. Hales, Mrs. Russell Mott of Charlottesville, Va., and Wallace Frost of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. McLennan will have with them their daughters, Mrs. Woodbury S. Ober and Mrs. John B. Morse, Mr. Ober, Mr. Morse and Miss Elizabeth Ober of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Hinkley's guests will include the George Voevodskys, Mrs. Lydia Lee, and Uri B. Grannis. Mrs. Hinkley's niece, Mrs. William B. Schrauff of Plandome, N. Y., is spending today with her aunt en route to visit her brother, Cleaveland Putnam, in California.

Tell Engagement of Carolyn Durand.

Chicago relatives of Miss Carolyn Durand have received word of the announcement of her engagement to Charles Marshall Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sidney Brooks of Denver, Colo. The announcement was made by Miss Durand's stepmother, Mrs. Henry Calvin Durand of Providence, R. I., and Dorset, Vt.

Miss Durand is the daughter of the late Henry Calvin Durand and Alice Platt Durand of Lake Forest. Mrs. Cornelius M. Trowbridge of Lake Forest is Miss Durand's aunt.

Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham and her debutante daughter, Miss Betty Lou,

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Forum.

Hollywood, Cal., June 29.—George Shapiro, June graduate of New York's City college, says he doesn't believe my recent "Listen, Kids" column in which life was likened to the Kentucky Derby. . . . He says it's "who you know, not 'what' you know" that counts in life, that it's pull, not push that is important.

George, you're daffy, believe me. Few of us start off knowing important people or helpful people. You meet them as you go along.

W. J. Dunnigan, Asheville, N. C., asks me to put in a boost for "Ra Cruits," war story by disabled veteran McLaughlin, says it would be a great story for Spencer Tracy. . . . Chicago Municipal Court Judge Charles S. Dougherty liked the "Listen, Kids" column that upset young Shapiro. . . . Kay Butler, Woodside, L. I., wants to know how the movies buy hair for wigs. Address Max Factor, Hollywood, Kay. . . . Rose Schulman wants to know the whereabouts of the Cappy Barra Harmonica boys.

Tim Keegan of Brooklyn, an old Port Chester friend, wants me to settle an argument. Did the Sullivans come from the north of Ireland? No, Timothy—Bantry bay is in the south, on the coast. . . . Say hello to the five children for me.

Helene G. Glazier, Chelsea, Mass., wants Jack Oakie's 1,000 calory diet that slimmed him. Helene, I'll get it and print it. . . . Ella M. Dutton, 81 years old, of Green Bay, Wis., who has read THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for sixty years, says she liked the "Listen, Kids" column to the June grads.

Edward J. Cronin, who served with Cork, 11th brigade, I. R. A., says that the George Brent story does not square with facts, as the national army was closing in on the Irish Republican forces, rather than vice versa. . . . F. G. Yore wants a "Take the Stand, Billie Burke" column. . . . Anybody else in favor? . . . Pearl Robins, from Vancouver, B. C., who says she's tap danced 150,000 miles on her toes, wants to know how a girl can get a break in a Broadway show.

Thomas Crowford Jr. sends along the late Woodrow Wilson's tribute to "Birth of a Nation." Said Wilson: "It is like writing history with lightning." . . . Alfred Lucarotti, Charlestown, Mass., asks me to call attention to Arlene Howard, Tennessee singer, a looker with plenty on the ball, who is appearing with Bob Pooley's orchestra at the Coronado, at Worcester, Mass.

A letter signed by six Newark, N. J., youngsters, Jim Moran, Edward J. Burke, Betty Journey, Ida Flannery, Mary T. Wharton and Carl R. Schober, saying that they don't believe a recent column in which I pooh-poohed "wild" Hollywood parties and pointed out that very little drinking occurs. . . . Listen, you Fugitives from the Holland Tunnel, it's on the level. I haven't seen a wild party since I arrived out here last September.

P. A. Vaile of Funk & Wagnalls wants to know when Edward Dean Sullivan died. . . . A few months ago, sir. He was working here for M-G-M. . . . Civil Engineer Joseph Werblow, commenting on the interview with Garbo's cameraman, Bill Daniels, says that one of the principles of surveying, "stadia surveying," would enable an assistant cameraman to gauge the exact distance of an object accurately. . . . I'm sending Daniels your letter, Mr. Werblow.

George E. Heiser, Philadelphia, says Rooney-Timberg shorts are the hottest things in the two reel field. A lot of readers of the same mind.

Peter H. McCarthy, Dubuque, Ia., wants a public apology because I left out Dubuque's Margaret Lindsay in a recent survey of home towns. Peter, you've got it! . . . A card from Cookie Bowers, in Belfast, showing Donegal square. . . . A raft of letters from Alan Jones' boosters. He certainly impressed the fans in "The Firefly."

Jim Hardin, University of Florida, wants to know if Hollywood would take an untrained writer. No, the best "in" is to write some original stories and impress them, Jamie. . . . A note from New York that the widow of Carl Levi, Loew executive, has joined him in death. Seems only yesterday we were all chatting in the lobby of Loew's State, with Carl telling her that she didn't look a day over 16.

Kenneth Keith, Chicago newspaper man, commenting on the Fredric March "Take the Stand" column, says that March was greatest in "Laughter," with Nancy Carroll and Ralph Morgan, and describes it as the perfect movie. Keith asks, too, why I don't mention lesser known Hollywood performers more often, expert players like Harvey Stephens, Sara Haden, Spring Byington, Alexander Kirkland, Frank Morgan, etc. . . . He must have missed the piece on "Supporting Players."

Betty T. wants to know if Myrna Loy ever was married to Rudolph Valentino. . . . No, but it was Mrs. Valentino who gave Myrna her start, Betty. . . . Answer to Anne Clifton Collier, Harrison, N. J.: Yes, yes, yes. . . . A fan sends along pictures of Philip La Follette and Don Ameche and wants to know if they look alike. . . . A nice letter from Mrs. Laura B. Prisk on the Flag day reference. . . . A touching letter from a woman who signs herself the "Ex-Wife of a Celebrity."

Edward J. Hayden sends along the lyrics of "Alexander and His Clarinet" and wants to know why they were considered bawdy. Irving Berlin wants to know the same thing, Ed. . . . Muriel Mooney of the Garden City, Long Island, A. & P. says that she's one stenographer who whistles while she works, and that the boss believes somebody is feeding her bird seed.

Opal Worley wants an "If I Were Queen" column, voicing the things that girls would want if they could have their wishes. . . . She wants a man who looks like Robert Taylor, sings like Nelson Eddy, dances like Fred Astaire, speaks like Fredric March, and has the nonchalance of Cary Grant. . . . Why, Opal, you're thinking of Maxie Rosenbloom.

Filmy Chiffons Are Proper for Most Events

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Filmy flowered chiffons or equally airy net dresses sound so typically midsummer that many a shopper overlooks their possibilities as an all purpose dress. Besides being super cool and feminine, they're made with such telling simplicity you can wear them anywhere on a hot day.

Dark background prints worn over dark underslips are grand buys for the career girls for office or town wear. Gayer prints with wild tropic patterns are good finds for any afternoon occasion, garden weddings, country club parties and serve as an ideal outfit for dining in town on a sultry summer night.

Grandstand fashions feature these appealing and flattering flowered chiffon dresses in dozens of assortments. Chartreuse green patterns against navy or black backgrounds and French pink with black, are unusual combines. Cool gray with white, cypress green with dull yellow, white backgrounds with red poppies and green leaves, white with only the green leaves, and white with china blue printed designs are but a few of the newest favorites.

Belts are the wide crushable type, usually of ribbed ribbon, to accent the color of the print. Hats and gloves can be matched to belt.

Most of these flowered chiffons are made with intricately shirred short sleeves, or the slit sleeves for extra coolness. Skirts are either softly gathered or plaited in sunburst flare, while a few skirts feature front fullness held in place with a narrow belt.

Interestingly low priced flowered chiffons are not only newly unpacked, but fresh, cool midsummer delights. Shop immediately if you would find the collections complete.

Good Morning!

KIND: Poorest of the "Gold Digger" series.

ACTING: Better than the rôles provided.

SINGING: Shrug.

MUSIC: There's not a song that stays with you.

DANCING: Busby Berkeley puts out some regulation ensembles. Elaborate and a bit tiresome.

STORY: Hugh Herbert by mistake invites Rudy Vallee's night club entertainers instead of the American ballet to Paris for the exposition. . . . Much mixup in Paris ensues and it ain't funny, McGee.

DIRECTION: Better than the story.

PHOTOGRAPHY, SOUND, ETC.: Excellent.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: Very little, I believe.

See you soon.

Jumper Is Versatile Mode

WOMAN'S AND MISS' JUMPER DRESS.

The most versatile mode of the moment is the jumper frock. It has youthfulness and is demure, at the same time quite sophisticated. All this makes it the type of dress you can wear almost everywhere, since its informality is marked with so much chic. It shares this quality with the quaint dirndl. The jumper offered in our pattern today has wide suspender straps that originate at the points on either side of the slim waistline. The hips of the skirt are beautifully fitted, and the hemline has ample flare.

There are two ways, at least, in which you can style the blouse that accompanies the jumper. The version at the left has a high, round neckline with ruffled edging, the same trimming found on the simple sleeves. The version sketched at the right suggests the same blouse with a prim collar and longer sleeves, the kind that are full all the way to the wrist, where they are caught into tight bands.

Sewing this dress is the easiest job imaginable. The rankest amateur can do it with ease. And the cottons this year are so plentiful and so wonderfully inexpensive that you can make this ensemble with at least two blouses, and be justly proud of your wardrobe additions.

Style No. 2825 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material for the jumper, with 1½ yards of 39 inch fabric for the blouse.

Ravinia Opens Third Season This Evening

BY CECIL SMITH.

The third summer season of the Ravinia festival opens tonight at Ravinia park on the north shore. Artur Rodzinski, celebrated Polish born conductor of the Cleveland orchestra, will direct the Chicago Symphony orchestra in the opening concert of the six week season.

A large audience will attend the première. All the reserved seats in the pavilion were sold several days ago, and a throng of listeners will fill the 2,000 free seats and spread out over the grassy lawns of the park.

Accompanied by Mme. Rodzinska, the conductor arrived in Chicago yesterday. After receiving greetings from the Polish Arts club at the La Salle street station, he was whisked to Ravinia park to reherse the orchestra for tonight's concert.

A feature of the opening program will be the first performance of a new "Passacaglia and Fugue" by Gardner Read of Eanston, 1936 winner of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony society's contest for a symphony by an American composer. Standard items on the program are Beethoven's overture, "Leonore No. 3," the First Symphony of Brahms, and the second suite from Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloé."

Concerts will be given at Ravinia every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening and every Sunday afternoon until Aug. 7. Dr. Rodzinski will conduct through July 10. He will be followed by Willem van Hoogstraten and Eugene Goossens for one week each and Eugene Ormandy for the closing two weeks.

The Illinois Symphony orchestra, Izler Solomon, conductor, begins a series of five free outdoor concerts in Hutchinson court at the University of Chicago this evening.

The free concerts in Grant park, given jointly by the Chicago Federation of Musicians and the Chicago Park district, commence a nightly schedule tomorrow. In the opening program Rosa Raisa, dramatic soprano of the Chicago City Opera company, will be soloist with the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra, conducted by Henry Weber.

Sally Is Ready to Pick Guests for Ice Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Here's hoping that every boy or girl who expects to come to our Ice Revue party has a letter in the great stack that's on my desk this morning! There are all kinds of them here, in pencil and ink and crayon, on white and pink and yellow and practically every other colored paper.

Pretty soon I'm going to delve into them and I hope to come out with 100 of the best. It won't necessarily be the best looking ones, either, because as I've explained to you before, I don't care whether you're at the head of your class in penmanship or grammar, and it doesn't matter whether you can't spell, I just want to know if you want to come with me to the College Inn one week from today.

My guests will have an opportunity to see a wonderful show, headed by Frankie Masters and his band. Marcus, the magician, will do sleight of hand tricks, and Carl Marx will wander around like a circus clown, making every one laugh. You'll also see Helga and Inge Brandt, internationally famous figure skaters, who have performed in London, Paris, and other important cities all over the world; Jenna, a young American girl who has been popular; Robin Scott and Bud Lewis, who both have international titles, too.

It's going to be an exciting afternoon, and if your note is on my desk you may be one of the fifty boys and fifty girls who'll attend the party. The winners will be announced in next Sunday's TRIBUNE, but you won't be included in the list if you didn't remember to include your name, address, and age in that letter. It it's not there, or if you missed the news of this party, you'd better get aboard the next one, which will be announced at the same time the winners are listed, next Sunday. It's news I'm sure you don't want to miss.

Share of 'Snow White' Profits to Be Paid to Disney Employes

Hollywood, June 29.—(AP)—Dopey is going to repay the folks who cheered him on when he was just a gleam in Walt Disney's eye.

A bonus of three months' salary for all 800 employés of Disney's studio is in prospect if the profits on "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" come up to expectations.

A spokesman for Disney said the bonuses would total more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

Eight Gifts Received for Algonquin Fund; Provide 4 Vacations

With the first contingent of campers at Algonquin entering the second week of their happy outing, eight contributions were received yesterday by the Chicago Tribune Charities Algonquin fund. Their total, $37.50, will be more than enough to send four needy children to the camp for perhaps their first taste of healthful country living.

The contributions were:

A friend	$ 1.00
Fred Ascher	5.00
Jeanne Izen, Francis Izen, Gloria Cohn, Rita Schecht, and Lorraine Cobrin	10.00
Rose Lenhart	9.10
The Office Appliance company	6.00
In memory of A. E. Jessurum	5.00
Henriette Levin	1.00
B. & C. Girls	.40
	$37.50
Previously acknowledged	376.36
	$413.86

It costs $9.10 to send a child to Algonquin, and $25.20 to send a mother and her two children for a fortnight's vacation. All gifts should be sent to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.,

The Housewife

We've yet to find a youngster who doesn't love a music box, so it is safe to say that a cunning little lamp we've found would be a prized possession of any child. For this lamp has a tiny music box concealed in its base.

Also, a toy animal is part of the design. You turn on the light, wind the machine and presto, a tinkly tune comes forth. The whole lamp is only about twelve inches high, and it is not a bit expensive. It would make a pretty birthday present.

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles via Panama to New York, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire; Isobel Butler, who has a stateroom next to the Vernons and hopes to get in pictures through him; Alex Reed, young surgeon, returning to work after two years' illness; and gossipy Mrs. Panting. Isobel meets and arouses Vernon's interest. She plans to flirt with Alex to allay suspicion. Anne and Alex are mutually attracted. Mena tries to spoil their romance.

INSTALMENT X.

A WARPED NATURE.

Mena went to bed at 10 o'clock. It was the first time during the day Alex Reed had had a chance to get Anne to himself. He was frankly sore about it, not because he grudged a little politeness and attention to the tiresome sister but because there was every indication that this frustration of his friendship with the stimulating Anne would be continued through the trip.

He took Anne up to his favorite place outside the radio operator's cabin. They passed several couples leaning against the rails, substantial shadows against the insubstantial night, but it was too dark for any one to see who anybody was. Anne caught the husky tones of Isobel's voice, but she could not see her companion, nor was she interested.

Alex offered Anne a cigaret and she took one. For a moment she saw his face as the lighter flared and the brief vision of its firm outlines stabbed at her heart. There was something about it that stirred an unfamiliar excitement in her blood.

Anne knew well enough her own fiery, impulsive, generous nature, and her habit of making lightning friendships sometimes to her own detriment. But she was not afraid of this emotion which could only be love. She could not believe that her trust in this man whose very aura was strength, decision, and integrity could possibly be mistaken.

"What a day!" he remarked, relaxing into his chair. "I'm worn out. Insincere politeness is more exhausting than hard work."

"I know," said Anne, "I'm in the same limp condition. But you needn't have stayed."

"But I wanted to stay with you. The trip will pass so swiftly and melt into yesterday's seven thousand years. Why should an hour of it be wasted?"

Anne's pulses raced. He was attracted to her—he was perhaps falling in love with her. "We'll both be in New York."

"But what a difference! You'll be caught up into the magic activity of your new world. I will be catching up with lost time. But this trip is unique. A chain of lotus eating hours—a heaven sent opportunity to enjoy forming a new friendship. Why haven't you trained that sister of yours to travel under her own steam instead of riding the lives of others?"

"I have tried, Alex. But she's hopeless. Incurably embittered with life and, therefore dismally lonely."

"In hospitals we see a lot of that condition. It's a resentment against the fate that singles them out for misfortune. The attitude of mind is far more of a misfortune than the original cause of it. Couldn't you point that out to her?"

"Exactly what I do tell her. But it doesn't make the least impression. Maybe it doesn't make a dent because it's me, or she's so used to hearing it. I want her to realize it not because I mind the trouble she gives me but because I want her to live to be happy."

Anne's voice was intense and serious. Alex was feeling the influence of its extraordinary beauty.

He said almost violently: "It isn't her dependence on you I mind so much. It's her lack of affection for you—her meanness, her childish jealousy."

Anne felt hot with shame as she always did when others saw the truth about her sister. "O, no, you are wrong. It isn't so underneath. I understand her."

Swept by a longing to touch her, he was impelled to grope for her hand. He found it and held it lightly. His magnetic touch woke in her a singing happiness. He said: "You're a good sport. You'd rather be hurt yourself than give the works to that charming sister."

"But that's only because I know it would undo all the work I've put into trying to win her confidence. In a way this trip is a last resource. She's a problem to me I can assure you, but she's a far worse problem to my parents. I had to bring her with me and try what a new experience would do for her, or they wouldn't have let me go." Anne's voice dropped a little—became a shade more intense. "O, dear, if I could only be successful——"

Alex's hand tightened on hers. "Don't worry. With your permission I'll try and help you. It's a job for a psychiatrist and I'm a surgeon. All the same we do acquire a considerable knowledge of psychology as we go along, or we wouldn't be able to handle our patients. I believe I could do something with that warped, difficult nature. So leave her to me. I'll get her by herself if you'll play up. Then I'll talk to her."

Anne's voice came low through a tightened throat.

"O, Alex, will you really? O now I know it's going to be all right."

She heard his amused laugh. "Don't be too sure. I told you it was a job for a psychiatrist and little Mena looks like a tough case. I'll have to go slowly. So don't expect miracles."

"O, but I do. I know now that the trip is going to turn out an inspired idea after all."

"But it would be in any case. Because of you and me . . . or don't you feel that way yourself?"

Anne's heart was beating wildly, but perversely she postponed the shining moment. "Yes, but let's forget her now. I want to know about your work. I want to know all those exciting and interesting things that happened before you fell ill and went to Arizona."

"It is more interesting to talk about you, Anne, my dear."

"No, no. Please tell me." Why was she trying to delay the words which would lead to a mutual admission of this rising emotion? Was it because she felt that genuine love could not be so swift? Anne did not analyze her reasons. As for Alex he found her eager persuasiveness irresistible.

A man of action and few words where his work was concerned, there was now a strange thrill about talking of his ideals and ambitions to this vivid girl who shed a radiance as if a light burned in her.

THIRD DAY.

Anne soon found an opportunity to leave Mena alone with Alex. The clouds had cleared in the night and the morning was hot and blue. The three were up on the sun deck. Anne rose. "I'm restless. I need some exercise. I'll go in swimming."

Alex made no move to join her. "And I'm lazy. I swam early this morning. I'll say here, I think. Perhaps Mena will keep me company."

Anne waited taut for Mena to dispose of this arrangement, but she made no comment. Instead the sullen look went from her face and a light gleamed in her eyes.

Mr. Vernon was in the pool splashing like a porpoise. The rest of the bathers were children. Anne paused for a moment surprised. He had impressed her as an aloof, retiring person, very much on his dignity. Yet the children were having a grand time trying to push him under the water and keep him there. He went down obediently and came up out of reach blowing and laughing.

"Whose side am I on?" inquired Anne, sitting on the edge and dipping her feet in the swinging water.

"Mine, I hope," spluttered Mr. Vernon. "One more on the side of these demons would be just too much."

The pool was too full of activity for a safe dive. Anne slid in and the children made for her, splashing and shouting.

Anne climbed out at last feeling as if she had swallowed the ocean, took off her white cap, and shook out her sherry colored hair. Mr. Vernon climbed after her and put on his bathrobe. "That's what I want," he said, looking at the windblown strands like curling new copper. "Color. You know it's definitely arrived."

Anne laughed. "I know I'm difficult to understand. But maybe I will come. Maybe I'll be a flop on Broadway."

He smiled and shrugged his shoulders. "Perhaps I won't want you then."

Conservatory Opens Summer Series of Concerts by Faculty

A crowded Kimball hall saw the American Conservatory of Music inaugurate yesterday a series of summer recitals by members of the faculty. Louise Hattstaedt Winter, soprano, and Tomford Harris, pianist, shared a program whose closing number, Franck's "Panis Angelicus," enlisted the services of two more of their associates, Stella Roberts, violinist; and Edward Eigenschenk, organist. Jacob Hannemann played Mrs. Winter's accompaniments.

The soprano offered Reger, Schumann, Gretchaninoff, and Grieg, as well as a miscellany of songs by lesser known composers. The simplicity and sincerity of her style, with tone colorings and other effects dictated by the character of the music rather than by any momentary caprice, made of her contribution to the program a valuable piece of pedagogy as well as a pleasant musical experience.

Mr. Harris played the Bach-Busoni C major Toccata with great dignity of style and a highly musical regard for the numberless expressive subtleties of which the piano is capable. Among his other offerings were items of a more glittering sort, in which his large technical resource and piquancy of delivery received plenty of opportunity for effective display.

Methodist Groups Meet Today to Work Out Unification Plans

Leaders of the three merging Methodist church groups will meet in Evanston today to further plans for unification. About seventy-five persons will be present.

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of Washington, D. C., senior bishop of the parent Methodist Episcopal church, will preside. The Rev. Dr. J. H. Straughn of Baltimore, Md., president of the Methodist Protestant church, and Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas, Tex., chairman of the Southern Methodist delegation, will attend.

Plans for the first uniting general conference next May will be developed. Conference boundaries, ritual matters, and regulation of the ministry will be questions delegated to committees today.

Bishop Sheil Gets $17,911 to Help Needy Children

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, founder and general director of the Catholic Youth organization, last night was presented a check for $17,911 to be used for underpriviledged children at Bishop Sheil's discretion. The presentation was made by archdiocesan officers of the Knights of Columbus at a dinner at the Palmer house.

Appeal for Child's Bed.

A hospital worker sends an urgent request for a young patient soon to be released. The child, now 7, has been in the hospital approximately three years. The family has always been self-supporting. The father is employed but earns an extremely small salary, and is unable to take care of all the needs of his family of five. It is imperative that the youngster have a comfortable bed of his own, and we would appreciate hearing from any south side reader who has a large size child's bed for him.

Films for Children.

Six free motion picture programs for children were announced yesterday by the Field museum. The programs, sponsored by the James Nelson and Louise Raymond Foundation, will be given Thursday mornings from July 7 to Aug. 11 in the James Simpson theater. All programs will start at 10 o'clock. The films will be on educational and natural history subjects, with animated cartoons as an extra feature.

will spend Saturday in Chicago on her way home to Honolulu from New York. Miss Dillingham, who was graduated last month from the Foxcroft school in Virginia, made her debut Monday night with two Foxcroft schoolmates, Miss Audrey Iselin and Miss Nancy Iselin, who are cousins.

The three young girls, all dressed in white tulle, were presented at a supper-dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Iselin, parents of Miss Audrey, in Westbury, N. Y.

Miss Nancy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin of Middleburg, Va. Miss Audrey will be with Mrs. Dillingham and Miss Betty Lou, for she is going to spend most of the summer with the Dillinghams in Honolulu.

Richard Burnes Weds Ruth Carney Today.

A wedding that is taking place in Osterville, Mass., at 11 o'clock this morning in the Church of Our Lady of the Assumption is of interest to Chicagoans. The bride is Miss Ruth Carney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Carney of Boston and Osterville; the bridegroom is Richard M. Burnes, son of Mrs. Robert M. Roloson of Chicago and Cotuit, Mass., and the late Kennett F. Burnes of St. Louis, Mo.

The Rev. Oscar R. O'Gorman, assisted by the Rev. Thomas MacLean and the Rev. John Donahue, will read the service, and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents in Oyster Harbors.

Mr. Burnes and his bride are sailing tomorrow for Europe and will be at home after Sept. 15 in Cambridge, Mass. The bridegroom will be a senior at Harvard next fall. his step-brother. Robert M. Roloson of Winnetka, will be the head usher at the wedding. The ushers include two Chicagoans, John Nacey and Spencer Burnham.

Many friends of the late Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, who was beloved by all who knew her, will attend a memorial service for her at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Fourth Presbyterian church. The Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson will conduct the service. Mrs. McCormick died last week in Santa Barbara.

Holiday Guests to Arrive Today.

Miss Catherine Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Stewart Johnson and one of the season's debutantes, is entertaining two Farmington school friends over the July 4 holiday. They are Miss Jane Salsieh of Columbus, O., and Miss Catherine Kemp of Indianapolis, who are arriving in Winnetka today.

The Robert Hixons' subdebutante, Barbara, is entertaining a young friend, Audrey Ivison, daughter of the Maynard Ivisons, who lived in Lake Forest for several years, but who moved back to their Long Island home last April.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brace Pattou are entertaining at dinner tonight in their Lake Forest home. They will take their guests later to the Onwentsia for dancing. Mrs. Pattou and Mardo Pattou are sailing Aug. 10 to spend two months in Europe.

The Ross Byrons are giving a barbecue dinner and dance at the Knollwood club tonight, a week before the club's regular Thursday night barbecues start for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Byron are going to Les Cheneaux over the July 4 holiday to visit the Marshall Heywoods at their home, Journey's End.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Moyer are leaving for Huron mountain today with two of their sons, Albert and Paul. John Moyer is spending the summer on a ranch in Colorado.

Three Veterans Retire at U. of C.; Service Totals Hundred Years

Today, the end of the academic year, the University of Chicago loses three veteran faculty members whose years of service on the Midway total 100. They have reached the retirement age of 65. Each plans to continue research, study, or writing.

Shirley Jackson Case, dean of the divinity school, came to the university from Yale in 1908 as assistant professor of New Testament literature. He is recognized as an authority on the social origin of Christianity.

Prof. Charles Judd, dean of the department of education, joined the faculty in 1909, also coming from Yale. He now is director of research for the national resources committee at Washington.

The third professor, Mrs. Edith Foster Flint, of the English department, remained at the university as a teacher after her graduation in 1897. She has been director of composition work.

The retirement of Nathan Plimpton as controler also was announced. President Hutchins credits him with the success of the university in weathering the 1930-'36 depression.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The proudest boast of experts is that, while their bidding may not always be 100 per cent accurate, it invariably is logical. As one who has heard a great deal of "expert bidding," this boast forces me to snicker a little. Let me report the fantastic bidding produced by two of the country's best known experts in a recent duplicate game. For humanitarian and other obvious reasons I can mention no names.

North, dealer.
Match point duplicate.

NORTH
♥ 8 6 4
♦ A K 9 3
♣ A J 7 2

WEST
♠ K 10 8 5 4
♥ Q 10 3 2
♦ Q 6 4
♣ Q

EAST
♠ Q J 6 3 2
♥ J 7 5
♣ K 9 5

SOUTH
♥ A K 9
♦ J 10 7 5
♣ 10 8 6 4 3

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 heart	Pass
1 no trump!	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
4 spades	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
6 clubs!	Pass	Pass	Pass

The exclamation points in the above sequence represent my reaction to those bids. Of course, I have not overlooked South's unorthodox first response of one heart but, in fairness, 98 per cent of the blame for the final contract must be laid at North's door. Exactly why South chose to respond with a three card major suit, rather than make a two club take-out, or a single diamond raise, is more than I can say. The fact remains that when North, underbidding terrifically, then went to one no trump, South put a definite limit on his own holding by bidding only two diamonds. That the partnership eventually should have reached six after these two exchanges of bids—a minimum no trump rebid by North and a minimum two diamond rebid by South—is almost past belief. North, having underbid so much on the second round, attempted to make up for this by rebidding the no trump, and South then made a very fine bid. Recognizing that his partner's no trump had been an underbid, he now showed a desire for a diamond game by jumping in that suit. North surely had the values to go to five diamonds, but for some obscure reason decided to show the spade control. Perhaps he hoped that, since this was match point duplicate, South could go to four no trump, but if so he was just wasting a hope. South had not liked one no trump [witness his preference for two diamonds]. Hence, how could he possibly stand four no trump? The four spade bid, as just one more instance of North's failure to rebid diamonds, raised a doubt in South's mind as to whether North had a real diamond suit or whether he possibly had started with a short suit, something like A Q x. South, therefore, bid five clubs, a lower ranking suit, to give North "leeway," so that if the diamond suit really were short, a more satisfactory trump suit could be selected. North, apparently forgetting all about South's virtual sign-off at two diamonds, now took the fantastic action of going to a slam in clubs!

Obviously the contract was not fulfilled. One club and one heart had to be lost. The remarkable part, however, was that six diamonds actually could have been made, due to the very favorable break of suits. The diamond finesse working and the club queen dropping, North could have discarded his losing heart on South's fifth club.

Of course, a slam should not have been bid but, since it was, the very least the "expert" partners could have done was select the right suit!

Packers Offer Wide Variety of Cold Meats

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Cold sliced meats are a part of most Sunday night suppers during the summer months. Packing companies are continually extending their lines to include almost every conceivable type of dry sausage and meat loaf. The canned meat loaves, tongues and deviled meats, too, are finding a way into early and late supper menus. Meat shops and delicatessens usually carry enough of a variety of ready-to-slice and canned meats to please a discriminating hostess.

Among canned meats, these are a few of the most suitable for cold buffet service: Spiced ham, veal loaf, spiced luncheon meat, luncheon loaf, scrapple, liver cheese, jellied meat loaf, lunch tongues, and the various meat spreads suitable for canapes and sandwiches. Among the latter are deviled ham, deviled tongue, braunschweiger spread, mock pate de foie gras, potted and deviled meat spreads, and liver sausage spreads.

Then there are dozens of varieties of cold meats which the dealer will slice from the loaf. These include jellied and non-jellied mixtures, some of which are rather highly spiced, and some of which are made with pickle and pimiento and other non-meat ingredients which add interest. Some of them are combinations of cheese with meat, and these are exceptionally good.

The largest class of prepared meats consists of the dry sausages. Salami and cervelat are most important and most popular of these, and there are dozens of variations in salamis and cervelats, too. The distinction between the two types of dry sausages is this: Salamis contain rather coarsely chopped meat with a seasoning of garlic. Cervelats contain finely chopped meat and no garlic. Both types of sausage often are found in hors d'oeuvres and summer salads.

This salami and macaroni salad which we published last year was so popular then that I believe it deserves repetition.

[Serves Six.]

3 cups cubed salami or other dry sausage
2 cups cooked macaroni
½ cup diced celery
½ cup chopped sweet pickles
Salad dressing to moisten
Salt and pepper if needed

If the macaroni has been cooked in salted water it shouldn't be necessary to add more salt to the combination. Chill the mixture very thoroughly before serving.

Salami, cervelat or other cold buffet meat may be combined with mixed cooked or raw vegetables to make other substantial salads of this type. Diced cold meat tastes good when mixed with potato salad, too.

When wrapped in waxed paper and stored in the refrigerator, most of these meats will keep well for several days. It's a good idea to buy several kinds of canned and uncanned ready-to-serve meats at the same time, so that there'll be something available for cold plates when you want them.

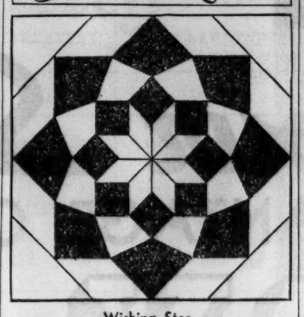
Gertrude Lawrence Tells Engagement of Daughter

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 29.—(AP)—Gertrude Lawrence, British actress, today announced the engagement of her daughter, Pamela Barbara May Gordon-Howley, 20, to Lieut. Perley Edmund Holmes, 26, of the British royal engineers. The wedding will take place in England next May. Miss Lawrence, who appeared on Broadway last season in "Susan and God," plans to remain here two months.

Today's Quilt



Wishing Star.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Wishing Star" received its name from the reflection of an exceedingly bright star in a romantic old wishing well. On the outskirts of a quaint New England village, Lowell's Wishing Well was a popular summer gathering place, and it was in this town that the quilt first was pieced. Set together with four inch bands of material between the 16 inch blocks, and surrounded by a six inch border and a one-half inch bias binding, the finished coverlet measures 88 by 108 inches. Yellow, orange, and white form the modern preference for this pattern, but the original design contained red, blue, and white.

To Kiss or Not on First Date Is Moot Point

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"A friend of mine never lets a fellow kiss her on the first date. But she did let one fellow kiss her the first time they went out together, and now she claims that she does not know why she did it.

"A few days later he called her up and asked for another date, which she accepted. Now she wants to know if she should let the fellow kiss her, or should she apologize for the other night. She wants to try to convince the man that she is not one who goes in for kissing every fellow she meets. LINDA."

The girl got off to a wrong start, you'll agree, Linda. That is, if it is a wrong start. The next date probably will reveal just what the chap thinks of her. However, it may happen that he will have no derogatory opinion at all. He may have wanted to kiss the girl and went ahead with no motive in mind other than making the current hour complete for him.

And we don't know how the girl is going to convince the chap that he received unusual favor unless it is one of those cases of a great and enduring attraction at first sight.

We don't have to tell girls that the kiss in itself may mean little more to you than a handclasp.

Probably, Linda, your friend would better not bother with the apologies unless she is called on for an explanation as to why she won't kiss on a second date when she did on the first. Apologies would hardly be the thing, anyway.

She can ask the boy if she might have given a wrong impression of herself, take him into her confidence on the subject, assuring him that his judgment is good because he is such a fine man and person. That ought to put him on his mettle.

Babies Develop at Varying Rate for First Year

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"My baby walked at nine months!" announces a mother with pride; and the mother whose baby walked at twelve or fifteen months feels quite set back.

Yet she need not. A precocious thing like that is not necessarily a feat to be proud of. A baby may be extremely intelligent, deft, coördinated in the larger muscles, and physically strong, yet still not walk alone at a phenomenally early age. He may be all those things and not talk at as early an age as some child less gifted. Each child develops at his own rate of speed.

Even so, we can make some generalizations. Studies have been made based on detailed day-by-day observations of large numbers of normal babies. For the information of many mothers who like to know what their baby son or daughter will be able to do at various weeks and then months in his or her life, I am giving today the results of these recordings:

For the first four weeks: He will turn his head when lying on his face. Will try to grasp an object held near his face.

At one month the baby makes crawling movements when laid on his stomach; lifts his head unsteadily when in this position.

At two months he holds his head erect for a short time when held to the shoulder. Makes upward arm thrusts when lying on his back.

At three months he holds his head erect and steady when held to the shoulder. Pushes or raises himself by the arms when lying on his stomach.

At five months he smiles. Holds his head steady when carried. Lifts his head and shoulders when lying on his back as an effort toward sitting.

His hands are no longer mostly clenched but frequently open. He notices large objects.

At six months he rolls from his back to his stomach; sits up with only a slight prop.

At six months he laughs frequently and expresses recognition of familiar persons. He sits momentarily without support if placed in a favorable leaning position.

He uses his hands to reach, grasp, crumple, bang, and splash.

Tomorrow we shall continue the list from the time the baby is eight months old through two and one-half or three years.

Poor Lighting May Be Cause of Your Frown

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Those lines around the eyes are an inordinately common affliction. Why? Why all the crow's feet? Why all the squinting and frowning?

Ask now, because if you are a squinter or frowner by habit you are going to do more of it under the hot glare of the sun. But, as we may have said before, you do see in a day's travels a great many girls and women wearing those unbecoming vertical lines just over the bridge of the nose. Some are deep. Some are merely forming. But the liability, however deep, does require some investigation for causes.

If you are growing the crow's feet, the squint and frown lines, better look first to the kind of lighting under which you read, sew or work—at home, especially. All this soft and pretty lampshade business that pretties up the living room and boudoir may be far from good for the eyes that live with it, although pleasant for the visiting guest to see. One must decide whether the dim and flattering light is more important than a good light and good eyes. Keeping the prospect in mind of later having to wear glasses all the time should help a woman make the right decision here.

It is perfectly true that a lot of eyestrain and their wrinkle pals are born and developed through faulty lighting in the home. Nerve specialists add their warning in their frequent recognition of nervous tension stemming from the eyestrain bred of improper lighting. So, don't gloss over this item as unimportant in keeping those fine lines or coarse ones at bay.

If the lines are already there, if they are deeply etched, don't fool any longer about getting the eyes tested for glasses. Glasses today aren't anything to shy at because they are so commonly worn and designed most attractively to suit the individual face. But becoming or unbecoming, there's too much at stake to put off for another month, another year the examination.

Pledge Ceremony.

Katharine V. Johnson to Become Bride

Four generations will be represented today at the wedding of Miss Katharine Venning Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Jared Johnson of Highland Park, to Richard Dunham Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hammond of Highland Park. Mrs. Hannibal H. Chandler, the bride's maternal grandmother, at whose Highland Park home the ceremony will take place, will represent the first generation and Jared Johnson III., the 6 year old nephew of the bride, will represent the fourth generation.

The Rev. Herbert McComb Moore, president of Lake Forest college, will perform the ceremony at 4 o'clock in the presence of the two families and a few close friends. A small reception will follow at Mrs. Chandler's home.

Capt. Chandler W. Johnson, U. S. M. C., arrived last night from Portsmouth, Va., to give his sister in marriage. Mrs. Albert King, sister of the bridegroom, will be matron of honor and Hartley King, Mrs. King's 6 year old daughter, will be flower girl. William P. Hammond III. will be best man for his brother and Jared Johnson Jr., brother of the bride, heads the ushers.

Mr. Hammond and his bride will be at home in Evanston after July 15 following a honeymoon in the north woods.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Lady chapel of St. Luke's procathedral, Evanston, Miss Nora Helen Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Melville Roberts of Evanston, will become the bride of Allan Ira Wolff Jr., son of Allan I. Wolff of Highland Park. The Very Rev. Gerald G. Moore, dean of the cathedral, will officiate, and a small reception will follow at the Roberts home.

Mrs. George O. Bliss will be Miss Roberts' only attendant. Hugh Wood Wolff will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be another brother, Peter MacPherson Wolff; Louis Melville Roberts Jr., and George Harrison Roberts, brothers of the bride; and a cousin of the bridegroom, Donald MacPherson Wood.

After a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. Wolff and his bride will be at home in Evanston.

The wedding of Miss Frances Reitler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Reitler of New York, to Frederick Asher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Asher of Chicago, will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the apartment of her parents in New York. A reception will follow at the Ritz Tower.

The wedding of Miss Eleanore Virginia Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnway Edwards of Evanston, to James Francis Devine, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Devine of Pelham, N. Y., took place on June 25 at the home of the bride's parents.

Announcement is made of the marriage yesterday morning at St. Philip Neri church of Charlotte Burns Hoefer to Dr. John Dorsey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael F. Dorsey of Streator, Ill. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Richard Burns.

Gets White Clothes 4 to 5 Shades Whiter Without Scrubbing or Boiling—Yet SAFE for Washable Colors, Hands

NOW make "blue Mondays" a thing of the past. Put an end to tedious rubbing and scrubbing—and the nagging washday backaches they so frequently bring.

For here is a new "no-scrub" soap that actually soaks dirt loose in 15 minutes. A faster soap that brings white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter than less modern soaps—cup for cup.

This new creation is called OXYDOL—and does these four amazing things:—

(1) Soaks dirt loose in 15 minutes. No scrubbing, no boiling. Even "grimy" collar bands come clean with a quick rub. (2) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter, proved by scientific Tintometer tests. (3) Cuts washing time 25% to 40%, compared with old-fashioned methods. Yet so safe that every washable color comes out sparkling, brilliant, fresh!

Oxydol is economical, too. Tests show that a single cup of it makes as much brisk, lively suds as up to three cupfuls of other soaps tested. So it's a money-saver, too.

In your own interest, try OXYDOL without delay. See for yourself how much time and labor it saves. At all dealers. Ask for a package today! Procter & Gamble.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Something happened to our beloved Cubs again yesterday. They insisted on playing with the rough, tough Gas House gang from St. Louis and the latter, not recognizing that the Chicago boys were at least courageous, made it two in a row by an emphatic 10 to 5 score which would have looked worse if the losers hadn't stumbled onto three useless runs in the ninth. After figuring out what had happened the Cubs discovered the beating had nudged them from third into fourth place.

Most of the Gas House gang for the day was made up of the irrepressible John Pepper Martin who doesn't know that he's getting old and should conserve energy. The so-called Wild Horse of the Osage wrecked the Cubs almost single handed. With a single and a steal he started his gang on a two run splurge in the second inning. In the fourth he assisted in a three ran affair by doubling. In the fifth he doubled again for another run. But the Cubs finally got even with him. They struck him out with the bases filled in the eighth.

Cards Pound Lee.

Two-thirds of Pepper's mischief helped to make a pitching wreck of Bill Lee, the recent winner of six straight sensations. Lee, who was frisked for two runs in the second was removed from the scene in the fourth after four successive hits before an out was recorded, three scoring. The Cards devoted the next two innings to Jack Russell, their efforts netting two more runs. Then they ran amuck again in the eighth, scoring three more runs, two of them forced home by passes from Russell and his successor, Bob Logan. It was the latter who had the pleasure of getting Martin on strikes to conclude this episode.

Th Cubs' attack was the same old story of not hitting in the pinches. There was only one inning in which they didn't have at least one man on the bags against Lanky Bob Weiland, the ex-American league southpaw, but even though they scored five runs they still had a total of ten runners expire on the sacks.

Cubs Start Well.

One hit was sufficient to produce a run for the Cubs in the first inning. After Medwick had stepped over to the wall and made a neat one-handed reach for a foul off Hack's bat, Herman plunked a two bagger into right and was given a free ride to third on a passed ball. This helped considerably, because it put Herman in position to score a moment later on Reynolds' fly to Pep Martin. Hartnett then walked, but Marty flied out.

The Cards were dead before Pep Martin came up in the second, and, of course, he started something. The wild man poked a single into right and a moment later the Cubs discovered he was on second. He had stolen his way there. He ran home when Gutteridge tripled against the left field wall. Owen singled to center and Gutteridge registered.

The Cubs climbed back into a tie with a run in their half of the second, but at an expenditure of three hits. Demaree singled to center, Cav-

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—Home runs by Tony Rensa, Rip Radcliff, and Marv Owen today enabled the White Sox to overcome a 4 to 0 deficit, which existed at the end of six innings, and carry on to a 9 to 5 victory over the eighth place Browns.

It was a very happy outcome, indeed. The Sox gained a game and a half on the sixth place Philadelphia Athletics, whom they trail by only two games. It made it three in a row against the Browns and it was the eighth Chicago victory in their last ten road games. It also was the sixth victory for Monty Stratton, erstwhile invalid pitching ace.

With the score 4 to 0 against the Sox, Owen led off the seventh with a single, the first of his three straight hits, and scored on Rensa's homer. In the eighth Mike Kreevich tripled with one out, then Radcliff and Owen knocked successive homers. Whereupon Oral Hildebrand became very nervous, hitting Rensa and walking Kuhel. Stratton beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Hayes walked, then Steinbacher, who had started the inning with a strikeout, singled to drive in the fifth and sixth runs of the inning. Each team made a run in the ninth.

Browns Forge Ahead.

The first inning was neat throughout, considering precedent established for Sox-Brown competition. Hildebrand retired the first three Sox and Stratton did the same by the Brownies. In fact, the contest was orderly all the way to the fourth, where the Brownies broke through with a pair of runs and had the bases full when the inning ended. McQuinn opened with a single to right and was forced on Clift's bunt. Bell singled to right, Clift stopping at second, after which Kress walked, filling the bases. McQuillen doubled to right, Clift and Bell scoring and Kress stopping at third. Sullivan lined to Hayes and Heffner was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Hayes then threw out Hildebrand.

After Hildebrand had retired the Sox in order in the fifth, the Browns came back for two more runs in their half. Almada opened with a double, moved up on McQuinn's sacrifice and scored on Clift's single to left. Bell

KINGS BLUE WINS OVER TUNBRIDGE; EXPLODES MYTH

Western Horse Third at Arlington.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The myth surrounding the mystery horse of the far west—Tunbridge, owned by J. J. Miller of Lower California—was exploded at Arlington Park yesterday afternoon. The tiny bay filly which became a race track Cinderella overnight at Lincoln Fields was soundly beaten when her owner overmatched her.

John Marsch's Kings Blue was the one that triumphed in this six furlong dash. Candescent, owned by B. G. Carpenter of Ohio, was the one to finish second. Mysterious Cinderella Tunbridge must have been out after the stroke of twelve. Anyway she lost the magic slipper and was third.

Starts Against $1,000 Horses.

Until this happened the Tunbridge trick had the tongue of every race track fan in Chicago wagging. A year ago at the Pomona fair in Lower California she beat $1,000 horses. At Agua Caliente last September she was able to beat $1,250 horses, but that was all. She was brought to Aurora for the beginning of the Illinois season and at that track she looked at the heels of $1,000 selling platers.

The fairy story started at Lincoln Fields early in the month. Tunbridge came out to beat $1,250 horses the first time. Then, in a gallop, she ran away from horses that were valued in the claiming box at $1,900. Then it was that she truly became a Cinderella, because in her next start she beat a band of horses in the $3,500 class.

Race trackers, despite all the lore of the turf, do not believe Cinderella or any other fairy stories. They yelled "ringer." They were ashamed of themselves last night.

Takes Early Lead.

Tunbridge showed her customary burst of early speed. She jumped into the lead at once. Kings Blue was outrun and it required sometime for him to catch Tunbridge because she had sizzled the first half mile in 46 seconds.

This did not shake off Kings Blue. The big long striding black began to move up on her on the turn into the stretch. Gradually he wore her down. An eighth of a mile out the Cinderella horse was soundly whipped. When Kings Blue flew past her, Tunbridge wiggled her ears and quit. Candescent

Landis Silent on Report Farley Will Succeed Him

Commissioner K. M. Landis yesterday met reports of his intended resignation because of illness with his customary silence. He was even more silent at the suggestion in a Brooklyn paper that Postmaster James A. Farley would succeed him as commissioner of baseball. Employés of the commissioner's office denied reports of Landis' ill health, declaring he was enjoying his best health in several years.

IT'S NEWS TO FARLEY.

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—James A. Farley, postmaster general, authorized his secretary at state Democratic headquarters in the Biltmore hotel to say today that he had not been offered the position of czar of baseball now held by Commissioner K. M. Landis. Mr. Farley was in Washington.

According to the report, Mr. Farley was slated to succeed Mr. Landis next December at a salary of $65,000. A similar report was circulated several months ago and then was denied. Landis is said to have informed friends that he intended retiring as ruler of baseball.

Riggs Defeats Mulloy; Keeps Clay Court Title

Bobby Riggs of Chicago won the national clay court tennis championship for the third time yesterday at the River Forest Tennis club by defeating Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-4, 5-7, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, before a crowd of 1,200.

Riggs is the third player in the history of the event, which started in 1910, to capture the title three times, which means permanent possession of the cup. Big Bill Tilden won it seven times and Bryan Grant three times.

Yesterday's match was on a par with previous title matches of the national tournament. Except during the fourth set, every point was hotly contested. In this set Riggs had a 4 to 1 lead and Mulloy practically gave the set away to conserve his energy for the deciding set.

Mulloy passed Riggs repeatedly in the second and third sets, his judgement and strategy being faultless and, with a 2 to 1 lead at the intermission, was favored to win. Riggs returned the fresher and wasted no time in taking the set by rushing to the net to kill his opponent's drives.

Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, and Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana, Cal., captured the doubles crown by defeating Charles Hare of Birmingham, England, the No. 2 ranking player of the British isles, and Elwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

Capt. Eyston Sails for Auto Record Trial

LAWRIN WINS 3 HORSE $55,000 HOLLYWOOD RACE

Inglewood, Cal., June 29.—(AP)—Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin today picked up the easiest money he'll ever receive when he won the $55,000 American 3 year old stake before 50,000 at Hollywood Park.

With William du Pont's Dauber, his chief rival, scratched thirty minutes before post time, the Kentucky Derby winner defeated the two other candidates by seven lengths. Cleaveland Putnam's Wing and Wing ran second and Rommy, owned by Ed Voynow, last.

Sets Track Record.

Dauber was withdrawn after his trainer, Dick Handlen, discovered a swollen tendon when he removed the bandages just before the race. Carleton Burke, chairman of the California horse racing commission, said the commission's veterinarian and two others had pronounced Dauber "unfit to race."

Eddie Arcaro, the jocky who rode Lawrin to victory over Dauber in the Kentucky Derby, sent his mount into a quick lead in today's mile and one-quarter race, then drove him to a new track record of 2 minutes 4.3 seconds. The old mark was 2 minutes 6.4 seconds, set last week.

Lawrin Steps Out.

Lawrin was a length and a half ahead going into the back stretch, dropped to lead by a mere three-quarters going into the stretch, and then stepped out.

A total of $140,394 was wagered on the race—$130,437 on Lawrin, and the track paid off on a minus pool basis—the minimum 20 cents for a $2 ticket. There was no place nor show pool.

Lawrin's victory netted his stable $40,000. Wing and Wing collected $10,000 and Rommy $5,000.

Seabiscuit Scratched at Post Again.

Boston, Mass., June 29.—[Special.]—Menow splashed a curtain of mud over mighty War Admiral and five other thoroughbreds on the Suffolk Downs race track today when, with little Nick Wall handling him expertly, he won the fourth running of the $59,250 Massachusetts handicap by ten lengths before 66,000 screaming New Englanders.

It was War Admiral's first defeat in twelve starts, Samuel Riddle's champion not having been beaten since Oct. 10, 1936, when, as a two year old, he trailed Bottle Cap in the mud at Laurel.

Crowd Boos Howard.

The race was robbed of some of its glamor when, for the second consecutive time, Owner Charles S. Howard withdrew Seabiscuit, money winning champion of 1937, a few minutes before post time. Howard announced fifteen minutes before the horses paraded to the post he had discovered a swollen tendon on Seabiscuit's right front leg and would have to withdraw him. The announcement drew a tremendous chorus of boos from the crowd.

Menow, Hal Price Headley's colt, which had been acting as the pace setting stooge for his three year old rivals in the Derby and Preakness, finally reached his peak today and the result was never in doubt.

Wall sent Menow away flying, followed by Flying Scot, with Peligroso II. third, and War Admiral, away in the clear, in fourth place. Menow was taken under a strong hold, going around the first turn, as he covered the quarter in 23 seconds.

Admiral Moves Up.

Peligroso II. slipped through on the rail to pick up some ground going to the half, but Menow was ahead by two lengths at that stage. War Admiral, with Charley Kurtsinger loosening up a bit, slipped into third place as Flying Scot quit and War Minstrel, slow to get going, moved up to fourth.

Menow refused to slacken his pace in the gumbo of the backstretch. He hit the six furlong pole in 1:13 2-5. Kurtsinger must have sensed trouble then, for he shot War Admiral around on the middle of the track to pass Peligroso II. and take second place. He crept within a length of the flying Menow. For a moment it appeared he was going to the front.

It was then that Wall shot Menow away like a bolt. Length after length he moved forward, mud flying back to complete the humiliation of the great champion.

When they turned into the stretch the usually frigid New Englanders stood up and screamed. War Admiral wabbled badly under his crushing impost of 130 pounds and could not make up any ground. And Menow, under the feather weight of 107, pulled away with every jump.

Busy K. Comes Fast.

Busy K., unable to keep up with the early pace, saved ground after leaving the backstretch and moved up with a rush through the final two furlongs.

As they splashed past the stands not only Busy K but War Minstrel, too, caught and passed War Admiral. Kurtsinger, who has ridden War Admiral in all but three of his starts, said after the race that the horse grabbed himself on the right fore foot at the three-eighths pole just as he had grabbed himself in the Belmont stakes a year ago. But Kurtsinger did not attribute the defeat to this mishap. Instead, he said, he thought it was the 130 pound impost and the condition of the track that beat War Admiral.

With Seabiscuit out, the crowd plunged on War Admiral to make him a 2 to 5 favorite and paid little attention to Menow, who returned $22.80, $6.60, and $4.40. Busy K. paid $12.60 and $7.40, and War Minstrel $6.00.

TURNESA, OEHMIG IN COLLEGE GOLF QUARTER-FINALS

Richardson Is Beaten in Second Round.

Louisville, Ky., June 29.—(AP)—Paced by the winning co-medalists, Willie Turnesa of Holy Cross and Lew Oehmig of Chattanooga, the national intercollegiate golf championship progressed today to the quarter-finals.

Turnesa, 23 year old "youngster" of the Elmsford, N. Y., golfing clan, beat William S. Boyd of Stanford and Bobby Jacobson of Dartmouth, both by 3 and 2.

After a morning victory, 5 and 4, after Ralph Sharpless of Texas, Oehmig defeated Edward J. Flowers of Michigan State, 1 up.

Joining the co-medalists in the quarter-final bracket for 36 hole matches tomorrow were Robert N. Babbish, University of Detroit, Stanley Holditch of Georgia Tech, John P. Burke of Georgetown, Henry Castillo, and Bert McDowell, both of Louisiana State, and Bill Barclay of Michigan.

Barclay Sinks Eagle.

A technicality gave McDowell a one up victory over Billie Lee Craig of Oklahoma on the 18th. Craig's second shot rolled over and his shot was obstructed by a boundary post. In dropping his ball away, Craig turned his back to the hole instead of facing the flag as required by the rules, losing the match.

Holditch registered a 2 and 1 decision over Phil Donahue of Notre Dame. Holditch beat Paul Genung of Dayton one up in his first match.

Aided by the sinking of a 160 yard eagle from a bunker on the 14th hole, Barclay eliminated Wilson Flohr of Dartmouth, 3 and 2. Barclay defeated Joseph Zotkiewicz of Dayton, 2 and 1, in the morning.

Castillo, L. S. U. sophomore, defeated Arthur Doering Jr. of Stanford, low amateur in the United States open at Denver, 2 and 1, after beating Jack Wallace, also of Stanford, 5 and 3 in the first round.

John P. Burke, Georgetown, beat Brown W. Cannon, Stanford, 4 and 3.
Jack Robinson, Southern California, beat Jonas Weiss, Washington U. [St. Louis], 3 and 2.
Edward J. Flowers, Michigan State, beat William Shea, Georgetown, 2 up.
Billie Lee Craig, Oklahoma, beat Frank Perpich, Northwestern, 3 and 2.
Stanley Holditch, Georgia Tech, beat Paul Genung, Dayton, 1 up.
Wilson Flohr, Dartmouth, beat Robert McGlashan, San Francisco, 4 and 2.
Arthur Doering Jr., Stanford, beat Rennie Kelly, Southern California, 3 and 2.

Turnesa beat Jacobson, 3 and 2.
Oehmig beat Flowers, 1 up.
Babbish beat King, 3 and 2.
Holditch beat Donahue, 2 and 1.
Burke beat Robinson, 1 up, 19 holes.
Castillo beat Doering, 2 and 1.
McDowell beat Craig, 1 up.
Barclay beat Flohr, 3 and 2.

CUBAN POLOISTS ARE WELCOMED BY CHICAGO TEAM

Members of the polo team which will play the Cuban All-Stars in a series of three games starting next Monday welcomed their international rivals to Chicago yesterday. The games, scheduled for July 4, 7, and 10, will be played on the Oak Brook Polo club grounds at 22d street and York road.

After their arrival early yesterday afternoon the Cubans were greeted at the city hall and entertained aboard Leon Mandel's yacht. Mr. Mandel is a member of the Chicago team. As a preliminary to the opening of the series Monday the Cuban team will play in an exhibition match in Soldiers' field Sunday night in connection with the Independence day celebration of the American Legion.

MLLE. LENGLEN RESTS AFTER TRANSFUSION

PARIS, June 29. — (AP) — Suzanne Lenglen, former world's tennis champion, suffering an attack of pernicious anemia, slept peacefully tonight after a blood transfusion had produced a slight improvement in her condition.

Doctors, stating she was "in a serious condition," prescribed absolute rest for the former Wimbledon champion, who, now 39, was supreme in women's tennis over a decade ago.

Budge, Austin in Wimbledon Singles Finals

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29.—America's Donald Budge and England's Henry Austin reached the final round of the men's singles competition in the All-England tournament today by scoring two easy victories in the semi-finals.

Budge, United States and Wimbledon champion, eliminated Ferenc Puncec, Jugo-Slavia, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, and Austin defeated Henner Henkel, Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0. It required only 55 minutes for the Briton to accomplish his victory.

Helen Jacobs Meets Miss Marble.

The finalists in the women's singles will be determined tomorrow when Helen Jacobs meets Alice Marble and Helen Wills Moody opposes Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling. Miss Jacobs this afternoon went to the Queens club courts to practice with Bill Tilden for her match against Miss Marble.

Miss Marble paired with Budge to eliminate Mrs. Moody and Jean Borotra, France, in the quarter-finals of the mixed doubles, 6-1, 6-4.

A Shrewd Tactician.

"Miss Marble, at her best, should beat Miss Jacobs and she may even beat Mrs. Moody in the finals Saturday," Mrs. Wightman said. "But if I had to say who would give Alice the most trouble, I'd say it would be Miss Jacobs.

"Helen Jacobs probably is the shrewdest tactician in the game and she is more likely to upset Alice mentally than Mrs. Moody. But even Mrs. Moody is going to have a terrific fight before she gets past Mme. Sperling. But if the two Helens do get through, I can't see anything but another victory for Mrs. Moody."

also raced past her and wobbly Tunbridge was lucky to be third.

Kings Blue won by four lengths. The time for the six furlongs was 1 minute 11 2-5 seconds. In the betting Kings Blue was the favorite. Tunbridge never was the choice and she never has been since she started racing here.

2 Year Olds Clash.

Top grade 2 year olds clashed in two other important races during the afternoon. A flock of candidates for the Lassie Stakes came together in the five furlong race which opened the program.

The winner was the Texas filly, Blue Su, owned by Valdina farm. She ran with a mighty rush in the stretch to gain the decision over Warren Wright's Rita Z. and Mrs. Emil Denemark's Dust to Dust.

Blue Su was stoutly backed. So was Rita Z. Another to muster heavy backing was Dinner Date, highest priced filly Mrs. Ethel V. Mars bought at the Saratoga auctions last August. Dinner Date never figured in the running but she met up with some bad luck and more than likely she will do much better in her next start.

For Futurity Candidates.

The other 2 year old number was fashioned for candidates for the Futurity. The winner was Sir L., owned by Gerald Watts of Maryland, which proved to be the longest shot winner of the young Arlington season. After he galloped to the front and withstood numerous challenges, he paid off at $67 for $2.

Sir L. made all the running and Viragin, from Valdina farms, and Sureoff, owned by Warren Wright, made furious late challenges. Sir L. kept on running in his fast, even pace. Jocky F. Miller rode the winner and it was just about the best saddle effort this far western kid ever has made.

Speedy and fashionably bred horses also clashed in the fourth race at six furlongs. Jewell Dorsett, owned by J. W. Brown of New Orleans, was the winner. She stole through on the rail at the head of the stretch to get up in the final stride to beat the Millsdale Stable's Rye Beach, which had made all the pace.

King Kong Wins by Fall from Jack Conley in 14:31

King Kong, heavyweight wrestler, threw Jack Conley in 14 minutes and 31 seconds in the feature match of the weekly wrestling show in the Rainbo Fronton last night. In the semi-windup, Hans Schnable and Bruno Black wrestled to a 60 minute draw.

Wachman and C. Murphy in College Final

Chester Murphy of the University of Chicago and Marvin Wachman of Northwestern will meet today on the Midway in the finals of the midwest sectional tournament of the national collegiate tennis meet. Their match will begin at 2 o'clock, following which finals in the doubles competition, an all University of Chicago affair, will be held with Chester and Bill Murphy opposing John Shostrom and Art Jorgenson.

Wachman and Murphy owe their positions as finalists to the courtesy of the two stars of the meet, Don McNeill and Morey Lewis, both of Kenyon college. Yesterday McNeill was leading Wachman, 6-4, 6-4, 5-4, when he defaulted on match point.

Save Fare by Defaulting.

The Kenyon players, both having qualified for the national meet, found an opportunity to save money on their trip to Philadelphia by leaving yesterday. So they defaulted to stay out of the final round.

In three hard sets Chester Murphy yesterday downed his teammate and captain, John Shostrom, 6-3, 6-8, 6-3, to qualify for the finals. His previous victories had been over Talbert of Cincinnati and Struck of Michigan State. Wachman came up over Olson of Michigan State, Moskowitz of Cincinnati, and Reuhl of Western State.

Shostrom, Jorgenson Win.

Shostrom and Jorgenson won their way to the finals yesterday by beating Reuhl and Chandler of Western State, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. The Murphy brothers advanced at the expense of their teammates, Krietenstein and Charles Shostrom, 6-1, 6-4, in the other semi-final.

POLICE TEAMS OPEN ANNUAL SERIES SUNDAY

A pitchers' duel is in prospect Sunday when the North Side and South Side police teams open their annual benefit series. The games will be played at Wrigley field at 2 o'clock. Proceeds go to the Policemen's Benevolent association.

Capt. Harry O'Connell of the North Side's defending champions has named Mike Delaney to pitch, while Capt. Eugene Barry of the South Side challengers will depend upon Eddie Dennis. Both are right handers. A program of athletic events will supplement the baseball games.

AMERICANS WIN FIRST TRIALS IN HENLEY REGATTA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HENLEY, England, June 29. — Joe Burk, United States sculling champion, scored his first victory in the Diamond sculls competition in the Royal Henley regatta today, defeating W. E. C. Horwood of England.

There were two other American victories. Harvard's lightweight crew won its first heat, defeating the Henley Rowing club by three lengths, and the Kent School of Connecticut won from the Quintin Boat club of London.

Virginia Lindblad vs. Betty Mackemer.
Ellamae Williams vs. Mrs. Robert Gipson.

U. S. LITHUANIAN OLYMPIC TEAM TO SAIL FRIDAY

Led by Notre Dame's star tackle, Joseph E. Beinor, twenty-four American Lithuanian athletes will sail from New York tomorrow for Kaunas, Lithuania where they will participate in the first Lithuanian national Olympic meet July 17 to July 31.

Such well known athletes as Pete Bennett, former University of Pittsburgh high jumper; Albert Beacon, Pittsburgh swimmer; Joe Yankitis, captain of the Duquesne university basketball team, and Joe Prokop, Cleveland high school track star, will be on the team.

The squad is sponsored by the American Lithuanian Athletic association, headed by Municipal Judge John T. Zuris of Chicago.

Chicago will be represented by twelve. They are: Joe E. Beinor, Florence Blasch, William Pechulis, John Avelis, Ed Martinaitis, Frank Alis, Herbert Budrik, Frank Gereltauskas, Michael Ruzgis, Harry Petraitis, John Tenzie, and Alexander Kumskis, who will be coach. Other athletes will go from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Kearny, N. J., and Elizabeth, N. J.

LYNCH'S TITLE IS FORFEITED; THEN HE STOPS JURICH

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 29.—(AP)—Benny Lynch of Scotland scored a technical knockout over Jackie Jurich, California flyweight, in the twelfth round tonight, a few hours after the British board of boxing control had stripped him of his world's flyweight title for being overweight. Lynch weighed 118½ pounds, six and a half over the flyweight limit. Jurich weighed 110½.

South Water Markets Beat Harmon's Logan Squares

A crowd of 3,220 at the Windy City league games last night at St. Philip stadium saw the South Water Markets whip Harmon's Logan Squares, 8 to 2. In the other game the Frolics beat Arvey's 24th Ward team, 14 to 4, to gain the lead in the National league division of the circuit. In the special opening game the Senator Adducis beat Zuckie's Wildcats, 21 to 9.

MORROW RETURNS SIGNED CONTRACT TO CARDINALS

The Chicago Cardinals yesterday received the signed contract of John Morrow, 220 pound guard from Kearney State Teachers college in Nebraska. Kearney, who was with the Cardinals last year, has been wrestling since the football season, winning 142 of 147 matches. Attempts are being made in California to match him with Bronko Nagurski, the Bear full back.

GIANTS SIGN TWO.

New York, June 29.—(AP)—The New York Giants of the National football league gained two players and lost another today. Signed contracts were received from Chuck Barnard, 195 pound end, and Charlie Giles, 210 pound tackle, both of whom played with the Central State Teachers of Edmond, Okla., last year. The Giants also received word that Andy Stopper of Villanova had accepted a coaching position at Reading, Pa., High school and would not play football this fall.

Another Tale of Bass Fishing in Mink River

BY BOB BECKER.

Door County, Wis., June 29.—Although the small mouthed black bass of Rowley's bay hold a sort of early season convention in one deep rocky hole in the Mink river which flows into the bay, not all of them stay near the mouth where fishermen can easily get a limit on night crawlers. On our visit to the river we headed upstream about three-fourths of a mile to try our luck with artificial lures and found fish close to the rushes and also around the lily pads.

A storm kept us from exploring as much as the river shoreline as we wanted to cast, but we were on the river long enough to learn that early in the season a fly fisherman or bait caster can leave the gang of bait fishermen near the mouth of the river, work the rushes and lily pads along the banks of the upper river and get all the small mouths he wants, providing he knows how to place a lure in the right spot.

They Start Hitting.

It was about 1 o'clock when we anchored in the middle of the river. The stream was quite wide where we dropped the anchor . . . more than one hundred feet from bank to bank. On our right was a colorful growth of yellow pond lilies with every plant in blossom. Behind the lilies the rushes formed a solid growth out from the wooded bank of the river.

Clyde, by long casts, reached to the edge of the pond lilies with a small red and white spoon. The fourth cast brought action and told us what we wanted to know. A small mouth was hooked . . . a fish weighing about 1½ pounds. Judging from this catch we could expect to find fish along the shoreline and they would take artificial lures.

After lunch this same growth of pond lilies produced two more small mouths for Thorpe and Helgeson, our fishing partners, who combed the shoreline with small surface plugs. The bass were in fairly shallow water, around the reeds. We cast plunker lures right up against the rushes, let them rest for a moment, then jerked them so that they made a lot of fuss on the surface.

Lures Prove Tempting.

This disturbance was more than the small mouths could bear. Invariably they socked the lures. Once, when Helgeson had trouble with his line and his floating lure was resting on the surface near some lily pads, a bass came up ,hit the lure, then rushed away unharmed. We had this upper part of the river to ourselves. All the other fishermen were gathered around the deep rocky pocket near the mouth of the stream where plenty of bass could be caught with nightcrawlers.

78 C.Y.O. BOXERS LEAVE TODAY FOR TRAINING CAMPS

Champions Must Battle for Places on Team.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Seventy-eight Catholic Youth Organization boxers will check in at their training camp this afternoon to prepare for the matches with the champions of Ireland in Soldiers' field on July 13.

The squad will assemble at the C. Y. O. center and will be transported in buses to the Lewis Holy Name School of Aeronautics near Lockport, where training quarters will be established. After twelve days in camp the coaches will pick a team of ten for the international matches. Eight of these fighters will appear in championship bouts, the other two in exhibitions.

In nearly every division there will be vigorous intrasquad competition, for no champion, with the exception of Frank Kainrath, seems assured of nomination for the international team. Barring injury or other serious trouble during training, Kainrath appears to be a certain starter in the 118 pound division.

Squad Has Its Veterans.

The other champions on the squad are Walter Cavalieri, flyweight; Joe Du Pont, featherweight; Joe O'Connell, lightweight; Tony Motisi, welterweight; Curtis McDaniel, middleweight; Emery Adkins, light heavyweight, and Clarence Brown, heavyweight.

Quite a few members of the squad are veterans of international competition, having fought either in Golden Gloves matches or in the bouts last summer between the C. Y. O. and the champions of South America. The C. Y. O. boys had little trouble beating the South American team, eleven matches to five, but they expect tougher fighting in their encounter with Ireland's boxers.

The members of the present C. Y. O. squad who took part in last year's matches with South America are Cavalieri, Kainrath, Ed O'Connell, Du Pont, Motisi, Harry Sparrow, William Goldsmith, Savior Canadeo, Chester Rutecki, and Cornelius Young. All but three of these boys were international winners, the losers being Ed O'Connell, Sparrow, and Goldsmith.

Cavalieri vs. Noto.

One of Cavalieri's strongest competitors in the 112 pound division will be Al Noto, who has had considerable experience in Golden Gloves and C. Y. O. campaigning.

Ed O'Connell will press Du Pont in the featherweight division, hoping to get a chance to redeem himself for his defeat in last year's internationals. Goldsmith will make a similar attempt to displace the lightweight champion, Joe O'Connell.

Jimmy O Malley, Golden Gloves champion, intercity Golden Gloves winner and national A. A. U. title holder, will be one of the chief threats to Motisi in the welterweight class. O'Malley suffered a serious setback when he was knocked out by his European opponent in the recent international Golden Gloves matches. Canadeo is another experienced fighter who will make competition in this class particularly interesting.

McDaniel Faces Rutecki.

Rutecki, a veteran of the Olympics, will attempt to get back into competition in the 160 pound division, where McDaniel will be defending his position as No. 1 man.

In the light heavyweight class Adkins will find the experienced and capable Young among his rivals. Brown will be asked to defend his heavyweight prestige against a powerful newcomer, Herman Stamer, and four other sturdy fighters—Fred Washington, Ed Chapman, Ray McNally, and Chris Schuessler.

Greenberg, Rogell Lead in 4-3 Victory.

Cleveland, O., June 29.—(AP)—Mel Harder, fresh from duty in the Cleveland bull pen, seemed to have a shutout over Detroit to his credit going into the eighth inning today—but when it was over Bill Rogell and Hank Greenberg had home runs and Detroit a 4 to 3 victory.

Rogell, first man up in the eighth, hit one pitch over the right field wall, and a few minutes later Greenberg was standing at the plate with Gehringer and York on base. Then Hank drove out his twenty-first home run of the season.

Cubs Pick Bryant to Pitch Today Against Cardinals

Clay Bryant, whose last achievement was a three hit shutout of the Giants, will try to give the Cardinals a dose of his pitching skill today in the final of the series in Wrigley field. The Cubs will have to face either Ray Harrell or Roy Henshaw.

The Cubs depart tonight for Cincinnati where they don't have to play the Reds until 9 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Diz Dean didn't have to take his ailing arm to the doctor yesterday but he did have to take the daily heat treatment from Trainer Lotshaw. After that Diz went out and fooled around third base, sneaking a throw whenever nobody was looking.

The Cubs yesterday released Pitcher Albert Paul Epperly to the Indianapolis American association club under option. The youngster was with the Moline, Ill., team last season.

MEN! WHAT BETTER REASON FOR YOU TO TRY PHILLIES THAN THIS?

Any cigar—to become the biggest-seller in America—must be milder, smoother and more enjoyable.

Your first PHILLIES will prove we're right. You'll find no bitterness—no harshness—no bitey, raspy taste in a million.

Dealers say that 9 out of 10 men who try PHILLIES will keep on smoking it. That's why, in hundreds of localities, PHILLIES outsells all other cigars combined.

Make PHILLIES your next smoke. We promise you a revelation in cigar enjoyment—and for only five cents.

Cards Rout Lee; Defeat Cubs, 10 to 5

arretta fanned, and Jurges singled to right. Lee singled to left and Demaree scored. The rally died quickly, both Hack and Herman grounding into force plays.

Lee Goes Out.

The fourth, which saw Lee deluged with three runs, opened with Padgett's single to right. In came Pepper Martin again, this time with his left center field two bagger that sent Padgett home. Gutteridge tapped in front of the plate and Hartnett advised Lee to throw to third. Lee took a look at third, saw it was too late and then threw to first, but not in time to keep Gutteridge from a hit. Owen singled to right and Pepper Martin counted. Russell supplanted Lee and threw out Weiland on a sacrifice. Gutteridge scored the third run of the inning while Hack was throwing out Stripp.

Everything was progressing nicely with Russell in the fifth until he ran into the Padgett-Pep Martin combination. After Slaughter and Medwick had been retired on sky line drives, Padgett singled to center. Pep Martin doubled again, this one into the left field corner, Padgett scoring. Owen opened the sixth with a two bagger over third and scored later on a single by Stripp, giving the Cards a fat lead of 7 to 2.

Gutteridge and Owen slapped singles to left to start the eighth and the panic was on. Weiland bunted and Russell, when about to grab the ball, fell flat on his face. It went for a hit and filled the bases. In the excitement of the moment Russell walked Stripp, forcing Gutteridge to score. Logan came to the rescue and walked S. Martin, Owen scoring. Logan got rid of Slaughter by serving a dose of strikes and Medwick was dispatched on a pop to Jurges. A pass to Padgett moved Weiland across the plate. Then who came up next but that Pep Martin fellow. This time he made the mistake of letting the third strike drift past.

After the second the Cubs didn't get very far on the bases until the ninth. Demaree singled to open the fourth and expired on first. A single by Hack to start the fifth was followed only by a single from Hartnett. Herman singled with one out in the seventh and was on first when the inning ended. Marty singled to open the eighth and didn't get off the base.

Hold Junior Track Meet Finals This Afternoon

The finals in the Chicago park district junior boys' track meet in which eighty-five winners in sectional meets will compete will be held in Douglas park this afternoon.

Sox Win Over Browns Again on Home Runs struck out after which Clift stole second. Kress walked, then McQuillen singled to center, scoring Clift.

It was here that Owen and Rensa performed their seventh inning heroics. Encouraged, perhaps, by Rensa's mighty swat, Stratton put on the heat in the Brownies' half of the seventh. He struck out McQuinn, Clift, and Bell.

After the spectacular outbreak in the eighth, the Sox went to work again in the ninth, scoring on Owen's single, a walk, and Kuhel's single.

Heffner walked at the start of the home ninth and scored on Pinch Batter Mazzera's double. Almada bounced to Stratton and Mazzera was run down. Two flies then ended the game.

KNOTT VS. NEWSOM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—The White Sox will wind up their four day visit here tomorrow. Jack Knott, late of the Browns, will pitch for the White Sox. Buck Newsom will go after his ninth victory of the season for the Browns.

The Sox will leap from the bottom to the top in so far as league competition is concerned. After saying farewell to the tail end Brownies tomorrow they will return home to entertain the league leading Cleveland Indians Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Manager James Dykes has made his pitching plans for the big series with the skilled Indians. John Whitehead will open if the sun isn't shining or there isn't too much humidity. Thornton Lee will start the second game and Monty Stratton will assure the fans an interesting game on Sunday.

If all my customers tried PHILLIES -I wouldn't sell many other cigars. That's how good it is!

CHIEF TO CARRY HEAVIER WEIGHT THAN STAGEHAND

Explain Allotments for Stars and Stripes Race.

A lot of folks at Arlington Park yesterday asked Racing Secretary Charley McLennan why he put 115 pounds on Col. Maxwell Howard's The Chief and only 113 pounds on Stagehand in the Stars and Stripes handicap to be run at Arlington on Monday. They were curious about it because Stagehand, a standout performer in California last winter, has won much more money than The Chief.

"I realize that Stagehand is one of the most popular horses in the country," McLennan replied. "But I cannot let sentiment sway me in assigning weights. I endeavor to assign weights on the basis of cold hard facts and that's what I believe I did in the case of Col. Howard's two fine 3 year olds.

Points to Performance.

"Two weeks ago, when Stagehand and The Chief met in the Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct, Stagehand carried 126 pounds and The Chief 119. That race was at a mile and a furlong. That's the distance of the Stars and Stripes. The Chief won by eight lengths.

"Then just the other day the two met in the Brooklyn handicap. Stagehand had 110 pounds up and The Chief carried 105. The Chief won this time by five lengths.

"When you have figures of that sort you can't do anything but rate The Chief higher than Stagehand.

Box and luncheon reservations for the holiday week-end racing at Arlington Park are setting new records, General Manager Roy Carruthers reported yesterday. Many out of town parties plan to arrive for the Saturday racing featured by the $5,000 Matron handicap and to remain for the July Fourth sport headlined by the running of the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK 75 YEARS OLD TOMORROW

Its Career Mirrors Growth of Chicago.

Although tomorrow will find "business as usual" at the First National Bank of Chicago, the date, July 1, means much more than just another banking day. It marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of Chicago's oldest national bank. Depositors will probably be rubbing elbows with hundreds of visitors offering congratulations to Edward E. Brown, president, and other staf members. Orders for birthday flowers are being placed by friends. Telegraph messengers in the vicinity will be busier than usual.

Edward E. Brown.

The bank is sending to its stockholders and commercial depositors an anniversary booklet on the history of the bank and of Chicago as a financial center, with pictures of the First National in former and present times.

Bank Grows with City.

A look at the record of the First National shows a steady growth keeping pace with the growth of Chicago. The second bank in the country to open for business under the national banking act of 1863, it started with an original capital of a quarter of a million dollars, and deposits, as shown in its first statement, of $273,000. The bank today has built its capital to 30 millions and deposits to some 850 millions.

The First National of today, with 2,400 employés and its eighteen story loop building, started with Edmund Aiken as its first president and a staf of four others in a modest office in a building at the southwest corner of La Salle and Lake streets. Its organization came at a time when Chicago's banking system, as characterized by THE TRIBUNE, was "poor, mean, unsafe, inconvenient, and tormenting."

Other National Banks Started.

Under the banking act, however, seven more national banks were opened in Chicago in 1864 and five more came along in the next year to further middle west credit facilities. The Chicago Clearing House association, formed in 1865, had twenty charter members. Of these, only two names, the First National and the Bank of Montreal [branch], are still on the list.

When the great fire of 1871 swept the city the First National's was the only bank building in the city which was not burned to the ground. Its structure was severely damaged, but records were kept largely intact.

Survives Panic of 1873.

The panic in 1873 brought heavy runs, but the First National was among the banks which kept its doors open, although five national banks closed on Sept. 26 and did not reopen until Sept. 29.

After the hard times of 1877 had brought a wave of Chicago bank failures the surviving banks generally prospered until 1893, when another financial panic brought a heavy mortality rate. Chicago's top banks, including the First National, met the crisis, but came out of it to find currency so scarce that premiums of as much as 5 per cent were being paid by checks for currency.

Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National, and James B. Forgan, first vice president, met the situation by asking the bank's London correspondent to ship $500,000 of gold as soon as possible. Other banks followed the practice.

Chicago's Banks Obtain Gold.

Within two weeks, by the middle of August, Chicago banks had gold and were actually selling it at a premium in New York.

After the election of 1897 President McKinley appointed Gage as secretary of the treasury, and Samuel M. Nickerson returned to the presidency, an office he had held from 1867 to 1891. Forgan was made president in 1900.

The year 1905 brought the failure of the John R. Walsh group of banks in Chicago and the unprecedented action of the clearing house banks in taking over the Walsh institutions' obligations to maintain the banking prestige of the community.

The movement of industrial consolidations, which was characteristic of Chicago's growth from 1896, was followed by a series of voluntary mergers among large banks.

Result of Several Mergers.

Merging with the First National were the Union National in 1900, the Metropolitan in 1902, and the Union Trust company in 1929. The First also assumed deposit liabilities of the Foreman banks in 1931.

After the death of Melvin T. Traylor in 1934 Brown was named president and John P. Oleson was made chairman of the board of directors. Both hold these positions today.

Pennsylvania Railroad Sells $6,330,000 Issue

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad company today sold to Gregory & Sons of New York an issue of $6,330,000 equipment trust certificates bearing 2¾ per cent at a bid of 100.375, equivalent to an interest basis of about 2.69 per cent.

Deficit of U. S. Is 8 Billions as Swedes See It

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—The treasury will show a deficit of $1,400,000,000 for the fiscal year ending tomorrow night, but some experts calculated today that if this government had used the Swedish bookkeeping system it would show a deficiency of $8,000,000,000.

President Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that he was studying how Sweden tries to pay off the cost of depression spending in good times.

Experts explained that Sweden amortizes its depression debts by charging a share of any year's deficit against the books of each of the next five years. Actual debt retirement does not occur, however, unless times improve enough to bring in a surplus of revenue over current expenditures.

Balks Premature Tax Cuts.

Persons familiar with the Swedish system said it provides for eventual debt retirement out of taxes and is intended to discourage premature reduction of taxes in good times by calling constant attention to the obligation to retire debt.

If the United States had used the Swedish system, the first deficit in the current series of eight—$900,000,000 in 1931—would have caused a charge of $180,000,000 on the spending ledgers of each of the next five years. In 1932 this country's actual deficit was $3,147,000,000, but the Swedes would have called it $3,327,000,000, because nothing was paid on the previous year's deficit.

They then would have divided the $3,327,000,000 into five parts and assessed them against the next five years.

What It Would Mean Now.

Thus in the fiscal year just ending the cumulative debt retirement charges would have amounted to $6,600,000,000, in addition to the year's actual deficit of $1,400,000,000.

Next year when the actual deficit is expected to be $3,500,000,000, the Swedes would call the shortage $10,924,000,000.

This would amount to more than a third of the total public debt, which now is $37,121,538,483. Swedish economists would not expect such a proportion to be paid off at one time. However, they argue that, if the public is kept aware of its debt responsibilities, eventually the debt will be reduced or eliminated.

N. J. STANDARD'S 1938 SPENDING SET AT 175 MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—Capital expenditures of about $175,000,000 are contemplated for 1938 by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the company said today in an amendment to its registration statement covering a combined issue of debentures and serial notes aggregating $85,000,000. The capital outlay last year was $176,600,000.

The company said a group of sixty-two underwriters, headed by Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., will distribute the securities, except $4,000,000 of the serial notes.

The amended prospectus to the registration statement was dated July 7, indicating that this probably will be the date of the offering, which includes $50,000,000 of 2¾ per cent fifteen year debentures and $35,000,000 of serial notes.

National Tea's Four Week Sales Dip to $4,209,063

The National Tea company announced yesterday that its sales for the four weeks ended June 18 amounted to $4,209,063. This was a decrease of 14.64 per cent from sales of $4,931,216 in the corresponding period last year. It was noted that with allowance made for the decrease in number of stores from 1,235 a year ago to 1,113 at prsent the decrease per unit would be 5.29 per cent. Sales for the twenty-four weeks ended June 18 were $26,197,767, or 12 per cent less than $29,774,006 last year.

Third quarterly instalment on 1937 federal unemployment compensation tax is due. Payable to collector of internal revenue.

Second quarterly federal old age benefit tax return and summary [form SS-1A] should be sent to collector of internal revenue.

Illinois unemployment compensation tax for second quarter is due. Payable to director, department of labor.

AUSTRIA'S STEEL, ELECTRICAL, AUTO PLANTS MERGED

VIENNA, June 29.—(AP)—The bulk of Austria's privately owned electrical, steel, and automobile industries passed into the government's hands today to be incorporated in the new state owned Hermann Goering Steel works.

A majority of the stock of the companies became available to the government through the merger on June 18 of the three largest Austrian banks under the domination of the state owned Dresdner bank. Included in the transfer were the Steyr, Daimler, and Puch Automobile works, the Simmering Railway Car factory, Judenburg Steel works, and Vienna Pauker works.

Spring Pig Crop in U. S. Is Largest in Five Years

The largest spring pig crop in five years was farrowed this year, according to a survey made by the department of agriculture, the results of which were released yesterday. Approximately 43,384,000 pigs were saved, which is an increase of 13 per cent compared with the 1937 spring crop.

Billion Dollars Withdrawn by Foreigners

Washington, D. C., June 29.—(AP)—Foreigners have taken nearly one billion dollars of their capital funds out of the United States since the business recession began, a treasury report disclosed today. Although the withdrawals have been confined largely to short term banking funds, a liquidation of American securities also was reported for the first quarter of this year. The second quarter of 1937 was the only other period in the last three years that foreigners were bearish on American securities.

Before the withdrawal of foreign funds began there had been a marked inflow of such funds. Between Jan. 2, 1935 [earliest date for which statistics are available], and Oct. 6, 1937, the net accumulation amounted to $3,925,877,000.

Increase in Second Quarter.

By March 30, 1938, this had been reduced to $3,207,280,000, and although official figures will not be available for three months, the federal reserve board has said the outflow grew in the second quarter of this year.

The treasury said that in the first quarter of 1938 the trend of foreign securities buying switched from American securities to American owned foreign securities.

While foreigners made net sales of $11,618,000 of American securities from Jan. 1 to March 30, they made net purchases of $35,294,000 of American owned foreign securities. Thus the net capital movement due to securities transactions was a $23,676,000 inflow.

Other Capital Movements.

The first quarter outflow of short term banking funds amounted to $233,365,000, and shifting of brokerage balances resulted in a $6,646,000 inflow. The net capital outflow resulting from all three types of transactions totaled $203,043,000 in the first quarter. In the last quarter of 1937 it was $501,620,000.

In the first quarter, funds went out of the United States largely to England, the Netherlands, and Switzerland, and to a lesser degree to France. Canada, however, sent a substantial amount of additional capital to the United States.

WILLYS OMITS 15 CENT DIVIDEND ON PREFERRED

Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., yesterday omitted the 15 cent quarterly preferred dividend due July 1. Regular payments have been made on the new stock since reorganization of the company was completed late in 1936.

A second omission was that of Rike Kumler company, a department store in Dayton, O. After paying $1 in regular dividends and 75 cents extra last year, the company paid $1 Jan. 25 and announced that payments thereafter would be on a semi-annual basis.

One dividend reduction was announced, Sun Ray Drug company directors deciding on a 10 cent payment for Aug. 1. The company made 20 cent quarterly payments May 2 and Feb. 1 after paying a 50 cent extra Jan. 27. Dividends last year totaled 60 cents a share.

Chesapeake Board Meets Today; May Act on Dividend

New York, June 29.—[Special.]—Directors of Chesapeake corporation will meet tomorrow at the offices of J. & W. Seligman company, it was learned today. The board is expected to consider the payment of a dividend on the common stock. At a meeting in Cleveland last week it adjourned without declaring any payment on the stock, but said dividend action would be taken at the next meeting.

60 COMPANIES PUSH 'SALES MEAN JOBS' DRIVE IN CHICAGO

More than sixty Chicago companies have enlisted in the "sales mean jobs" campaign that was begun in Chicago last week, Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said yesterday.

Oscar G. Mayer.

Special sales campaigns are being pushed by the participating companies, emphasis being placed on the importance of greater distribution as an aid to business and employment.

Firms that have joined in the movement, Mayer said, include Marshall Field & Co., Wieboldt Stores, Commonwealth Edison, Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.; Adressograph company, W. D. Allen Manufacturing company, Royal Typewriter company, W. F. Quarrie company, Hydrox corporation, Hood Rubber company, Remington-Rand, Inc.; Hoover company, and R. Cooper Jr., Inc.

George W. Mason, president of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation, who launched the movement in Chicago last week, yesterday explained the purposes of the campaign to 3,000 Marshall Field sales employés.

Officials of R. Cooper Jr., Inc., said that they plan to send most of the firm's salaried employés into field later this week to push the sales campaign.

Sheaffer Pen's Workers Get Pre-Vacation Bonus

The W. A. Sheaffer Pen company of Fort Madison, Ia., yesterday paid to all its employés a bonus of 7½ per cent based on each worker's earnings for the six month period ending June 1. The bonus comes on the eve of the annual vacation period. W. A. Sheaffer, president, announced that more persons are employed by his company now than during 1929.

Bankers Life.

Investors' Guide: Please send me a report on the Bankers Life company of Des Moines, Ia.—D. H.

Answer: The Bankers Life company, Des Moines, Ia., is a mutual life insurance company which originally began business in 1879 as an assessment association, and in 1911 was transformed into a legal reserve mutual life insurance company.

Growth has been steady in recent years, the admitted assets rising from $175,169,871 at the end of 1933 to $216,265,044 at the end of 1937. Net reserves were $163,263,057 at the end of 1937 and surplus was $9,086,326, not including assessment funds or contingency reserves. Insurance written during 1937 was $66,601,575, and insurance in force at the end of the year was $746,676,908.

Bonds represented 59 per cent of physical assets, exclusive of policy loans, at the end of 1937. The average for the business is about 61 per cent. Mortgages represented 24 per cent, the average being 22 per cent, and real estate represented another 10 per cent, against an average for the business of 9 per cent.

Cash yield on assets as a whole was 3.8 per cent in 1937, a fair rate of return.

Expenses of the company are low, mortality is very favorable, and lapses are low. Net cost to policy holders has been low. Reserves are set up mainly on the strongest valuation basis in general use. Reserve for dividends to policy holders is set up for a full year.

The company was examined by the states of Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Nebraska, and South Dakota as of Dec. 31, 1936. The report, released early this year, was favorable.

Three Classes of Business Show First Gains Over 1937

Three Chicago industrial and business activities in May recorded gains over May, 1937, the first time this year that they have shown gains over the corresponding 1937 month, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday. These were real estate transfers, building contracts, and slaughtering at the stockyards.

Two other lines, telephones in use and aviation travel, continued to make improvements over a year ago. These were exceptions in the long list of declines reported during the earlier months of this year. Activity in some lines had fallen as low as in 1932.

Real estate transfers in May amounted to $9,606,116, compared with $8,340,499 in May, 1937. There was a slight improvement in the building contracts, the total for the month standing at $6,228,000, against $6,167,000 a year ago. Slaughtering at the stockyards totaled 673,379 animals, compared with 602,941 in May, 1937.

The number of telephones in use in May totaled 20,000 more than were in use in May, 1937. Air travel showed a substantial increase over last year. Comparative figures follow:

NEW PRODUCTS BOOST PROFIT OF FLEXIBLE SHAFT

Electric Razor Aids Sales Showing.

Chicago Flexible Shaft company, manufacturers of shaft driven equipment, yesterday reported net profit of $806,900 for the first twenty-four weeks of 1938, compared with $367,291 in the corresponding period last year. Sales for the period increased to $4,006,743 from $2,749,419 in the corresponding 1937 period.

"Increased sales and earnings, due to addition of new products, showed a substantial percentage of increase owing to the fact that the first twenty-four weeks of the year is always the smallest in sales of our established line of products," H. C. Wright, president, said.

The company has added several new products to its line recently, including an electric razor, sales of which have contributed largely to the increase in total sales.

Associated Gas Profit Lower.

The Associated Gas and Electric corporation, which through its subsidiaries serves nearly 6,000 communities in the eastern half of the United States, reported net income for the twelve months ended May 31 of $34,690,304, after taxes and retirement of bonds but before deduction of interest and preferred dividends, compared with $36,366,784 for the preceding twelve months.

Three other utility companies showed somewhat lower earnings for the same period, while two reported increases.

Gross income of Associated Gas and Electric corporation, which is owned by the Associated Gas and Electric company, headed by J. I. Mange, president and chairman of the board, was $129,125,369 for the twelve months ended May 31, against $123,915,105 for the twelve months ended May 31, 1937.

Eastern Firm Earns Less.

The Pennsylvania Power and Light company reported net income for the twelve months of $7,771,731, compared with $7,941,885 for the corresponding period ending May 31, 1937. Net income for May was $531,815, against $682,538 in May, 1937.

The Kansas City Power and Light company showed net income of $4,276,627, or $7.69 a common share, for the year ended May 31, against revised net income for the preceding twelve months of $4,622,770, or $8.35 a share.

AM. TELEPHONE'S REPLIES IN PROBE ORDERED STUDIED

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—Responses filed by the American Telephone and Telegraph company to exhibits and testimony submitted in the recent telephone investigation by the federal communications commission have been ordered scheduled for "appropriate study and consideration" in the preparation of a final report on the inquiry, the commission announced today.

The action followed protest by the company against the refusal of Commissioner Walker, who conducted the inquiry, to permit it to cross-examine witnesses at the public hearing or to offer rebuttal testimony to exhibits.

The $1,500,000 inquiry resulted in the submission to congress April 1 of a "proposed report" which asserted telephone rates might be reduced 25 per cent without interrupting existing net revenues. The report was submitted to the full commission with a view to determining the form and content of the actual report requested by congress.

Three More Firms to List Shares on Chicago Board

Three more companies whose shares are listed on the New York Stock exchange have accepted the invitation of the Chicago Stock exchange to list their securities in Chicago without paying the usual listing fee, Arthur M. Betts, chairman, announced yesterday. They are the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, United Air Lines Transport corporation, and the Western Union Telegraph company. Thirteen companies have accepted the invitation.

Closed Logan Square Bank Repays $37,171 Deposits

Payment of $37,171 to the 6,000 depositors of the Logan Square State and Savings bank was announced yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. The payment is 6 per cent of deposit liability, and is the first return since the bank closed.

Steel Prices Are Reduced by More Mills

Several price reductions were announced yesterday by steel companies, and, although the International Harvester company would make no official announcement, it was reliably reported that the company has reduced prices on its crawler type tractors to meet the competition of the Caterpillar Tractor company which recently slashed prices on its products.

At Pittsburgh the National Tube company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, announced price reductions, effective tomorrow, on pipe, boiler tubes, and seamless mechanical tubing. Prices of base sized one to three inch black pipe were cut $8 a ton and galvanized pipe $10 a ton. The new prices are $63 a ton for black and $79 a ton for galvanized at Pittsburgh and $67 per ton for black and $83 per ton for galvanized at Gary. Hot rolled boiler tubes were reduced 7½ per cent and cold drawn seamless mechanical tubing 5 per cent.

Republic Reduces Prices.

The Republic Steel corporation at Cleveland announced reductions in prices of hot and cold rolled sheets, carbon bars and plates, effective immediately for shipment by Sept. 30. Republic's prices are $2.15 a hundred pounds for hot rolled sheets, $3.20 for cold rolled, $2.10 for plates, and $2.25 for carbon bars.

According to reports in the steel industry Republic's new schedule may start a price struggle. Republic's prices will be based on Cleveland which is expected will give that company's plant in Cleveland an advantage because steel can be shipped by cheap water rates to the big automobile plants at Detroit. Previously Pittsburgh has been the key base for steel prices. Republic's price cuts will amount to about $3 a ton, not including the savings to consumers from the establishment of Cleveland as a base point.

Cast Iron Pipe Lower.

Several companies at Birmingham, Ala., cut prices for cast iron pipe by $4 a ton. Last week the price of pig iron was reduced $4 a ton after the prices of finished steel products had been reduced.

The International Harvester price reductions will affect only the crawler type tractors and not wheel tractors or farm equipment. The reductions will range from 10 per cent up. The tractors involved formerly cost from about $1,500 up. They are used mostly in industrial and road operations.

Operating Rate Steady.

Production of steel this week is holding at 28 per cent of capacity, Iron Age reported yesterday. Price cuts and elimination of the price basing point system overshadowed interest in a further slight increase in orders and steady production schedules, it said.

In connection with the setting of identical prices for Birmingham, Chicago, and Pittsburgh, Iron Age said abolition of differentials "is regarded as giving the industry in the south a great impetus and is likely to have other far reaching effects."

Buyers probably will continue to be cautious, pending thorough appraisal of developments, and immediate results of price reductions will not be apparent for several weeks, said Iron Age.

"The steel wage question still is up in the air," said Iron Age, "with a four week testing of effects of the new lowered prices likely before any decision is reached to reduce or maintain current wage rates."

STEEL PRICING CHANGE COSTLY, SAYS E. T. WEIR

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 29.—(AP)—Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, said today the change in the basing point system of steel prices would prove costly to the entire steel industry and that "Pittsburgh will be definitly hurt."

"Pittsburgh, which produces about one-quarter of the nation's steel will be hurt because the change in price structure will increase competition from other producing centers," he said.

Weir said he did not believe the price "cuts will stimulate the demand for steel," declaring that if there is an improvement it will come from "other causes."

New York, June 29.—Stock market prices soared to new high marks for the year and longer today as buyers from all parts of the country and Europe entered the market. Gains of 1 to 6 points were common among leading shares and a number of high priced and usually inactive issues rose as much as 10 points.

Transactions amounted to 2,658,690 shares, largest since Oct. 29. Coming after two days of relative quiet, the big demand caught brokers unprepared and much confusion resulted in brokerage offices and on the floor of the exchange. Harried clerks ran around frantically trying to execute orders immediately, and customers were disturbed by delays in the printing of prices.

Causes of Wide Advance.

The fact that industrials, on the average, rose to the highest level of the year, breaking through limits of a narrow range that had held for months prior to the March break, seemed proof to many traders that a bull market was on. Buying increased as key stocks went over the tops of the advance last week. The action of the market itself, rather than the day's trade reports, attracted the attention of the financial community. Belief that industry had "turned the corner" also was said to be a factor in the rise.

Building shares showed their heels to most stocks. Johns-Manville closed at 94, nearly 7 points higher; U. S. Gypsum at 94¼, up 8½; American Radiator, 15, up 1⅝; Crane 34, up 1, and Masonite 42, up 4½.

Average Sets New Peak.

Industrials which were prominent in last week's advance again assumed leadership of the market and sent the Dow-Jones average for thirty representative issues to 135.87, up 5.49, to a new high mark for the year. Steel, motor, farm implement, chemical, and metal shares were in the spearhead of today's drive. United States Steel common spurted 3¾ points. Bethlehem, 3; Crucible, 3⅞, and National Steel, 5½.

Chrysler was popular in the motors and advanced 4½ points, General Motors, Yellow Truck, and Greyhound added 1 point or more. Coppers rose 1 to more than 3 points, with American Smelting, Anaconda, International Nickel, and Kennecott leaders.

The runup in rail shares reflected rumors that the unions had agreed to meet for a parley on wages. The Dow-Jones average for this group worked to 26.18 points for a gain of 1.61.

Santa Fe Jumps 3½ Points.

Santa Fe common was outstanding with a rise of 3½ points in good demand. The preferred closed 3 points higher. Other good gainers in the division were New York Central, up 1⅞ points; Southern Pacific, up 2; Southern Railway, up 1½; Chesapeake and Ohio, up 1⅝; Northern Pacific, up 1⅛; Illinois Central, up 1, and Union Pacific, up 4.

Public utility issues were slow in starting, but became actual leaders for a time in the afternoon. The gains in this division were not as spectacular as in the rails and industrials.

Gains in the chemicals ran to 10 points, the top advance going to Dow. Allied rose 3¾ points, du Pont 7, and Air Reduction 4½ points. Heavy machinery shares added up to 6½ points. Westinghouse, Case, General Electric, and International Harvester were leaders.

United States Rubber was among the most popular issues and registered a gain of 3¾ points, with other rubbers slightly behind. Merchandising issues were paced by Montgomery Ward, which spurted 3½ points. Sears - Roebuck added a similar amount.

Gains in the aviations ran to 1½ points. This was scored by Douglas. International Telephone in the communications was actively higher.

Illustrative of the change in Wall street sentiment was the sale of a stock exchange seat today for $65,000, up $7,000 from the last transaction and $14,000 higher than the low price for many years registered about two weeks ago.

New York Bonds.

With trading volume at $11,552,200 face value, compared with yesterday's $8,013,150, it was the most active session since Dec. 29.

Reviving confidence in the business outlook was mirrored not only by a wide buying movement in rails, but also by a more active demand for industrial issues.

At the close many of the fast moving corporate issues were up 1 to around 5 points.

Trading—circles reported that the rail group was helped by optimistic deductions of financial quarters from the announced willingness of railway unions to talk over with the managements the wage reduction question.

United States government issues rounded out the general upward movement by recording gains ranging from 1-32 to 8-32ds of a point on moderate dealings. Trade in foreigns was slow.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stock prices advanced fractions to more than $3 a share yesterday in the heaviest trading of the year, excluding deals in Commonwealth Edison rights which swelled volume recently. THE TRIBUNE average of 20 stocks, up 0.56 at 10.52, closed at the highest level since Jan. 20.

Sales totaled 56,000 shares, nearly double the volume in the preceding session and the biggest volume since Dec. 29, 1937. Of the 113 issues traded, 73 advanced, 19 declined, and 21 closed unchanged. Fourteen new high marks for the year were reached.

Zenith Radio, actively traded throughout the session, spurted $2.12½ to close at $17 a share. Other issues which made large gains included Bendix Aviation, up $1.25 to $14.50; Borg Warner, up $3 to $30; Chicago corporation preferred, up $1.87½ to $31.75, and Chicago Flexible Shaft, up $3.50 to $63.

The most active issue was Middle West capital stock which advanced 50 cents to $6.87½. Marshall Field common, next most active issue, gained 62½ cents at $10.50.

The exchange announced that arrangements have been completed for sale of a membership at $1,600, up $100 from the last sale.

EXCESSIVE RAINS DAMAGE CROPS IN SOME AREAS

Winter Wheat Harvests Are Delayed.

Excessive rains in parts of the central west and northwest caused some damage to grain crops last week, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Harvesting of winter wheat was delayed and much grain was blown down. In the larger part of the corn belt growth was rapid and the condition of that crop ranged from good to excellent.

General rains improved the outlook for the spring wheat crop, except in a few localities in the far west. Some black stem rust was reported in eastern North Dakota and southeastern South Dakota.

Rye futures closed ½ to 1 cent lower. A car of new Iowa rye was received here yesterday. Harvesting has started in South Dakota.

CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE BOARD VOTES REVISIONS

Provides Committee to Act on Applicants.

The board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday passed two resolutions amending the exchange's constitution. The resolutions will become a part of the law of the exchange if they are not disapproved by one-third the membership within seven days.

One provides for the creation of a committee on admissions to consider qualifications of applicants for membership and recommend applicants to the board. The board approved a statement of policy with respect to applicants for membership, instructing the committee to set high standards in its requirements as to character, clean business record and sound financial condition.

Rules for Trials Changed.

The second resolution provides for changes in the sections of the constitution which relate to charges against members, trials of members charged with violation of the exchange constitution, rules and regulations, and appeals. It provides that the judiciary committee shall hear and try all charges against members except those where summary jurisdiction lies with the president of the exchange.

The committee also is to report all evidence with findings and recommendations to the governors and is to hear all appeals from decisions of the president in summary matters.

Revise Delivery System.

The board also authorized amendments to the rules of the exchange which change the system of deliveries of securities from a daily to a two-day system under which transactions made on the exchange will be settled the second full business day. The new system will become effective July 5.

A rule was adopted which prohibits short sales of odd lots unless based on round lot sales at prices higher than the last round lot sale.

Business Bits

Formation of the new Chicago brokerage and investment firm of J. M. Holley Jr. & Co. was announced yesterday by the partners, John N. Holly Jr. and Edward T. Gernon. The two men formerly were with MacFarlane & Holly, dissolved as of today. The firm holds a Chicago Stock exchange membership and has offices at 120 South La Salle street, where Holly will be in charge. Gernon will take charge of an office in Madison, Wis. A third office will be opened in La Crosse, Wis. James S. Keenan and Allan M. James will be associated with the Chicago office. Ernest A. Mayer will head the trading department.

S. B. Chapin & Co. announced withdrawal of Tracy L. Turner Jr., James F. Smith, and William J. Drake as general partners, effective at the close of business tonight. Turner will continue with the firm as director of customers' relations. Smith will be office manager, and Drake will be in charge of the office at 230 North Michigan avenue. Added to the staff are Bernard J. Cunningham, P. Wallace Enright, William Nelson Fuqua, and Edmund J. Toebelman, all formerly with Russell, Brewster & Co., which recently dissolved.

Speyer & Co. yesterday announced retirement of Henry Herrman and admission to partnership of Otto De Neuville, who has held single power of attorney for the firm. The changes are effective July 15.

Gold Shipping Points.

Under the dollar stabilization proclamation issued by the President on Jan. 31, 1934, the American treasury was committed to buy and sell gold at the fixed price of $35 an ounce. Since that time the United States has received an unprecedented flow of gold from abroad.

The United States now is the world's chief gold buyer, but the only free market for gold is in London. Brokers gather in London daily to agree on the price for gold. The price in London affects flow of gold to and from the United States.

When the price in London reaches a discount of 23 cents to the American treasury's price [$34.77 or less] it is profitable for brokers to ship metal to this country. The 23 cent margin is sufficient to cover shipping charges, commission, insurance and other costs in connection with the transfer and leave an arbitrage profit for the broker. Conversely, when the London price climbs to $35.23 or more an ounce it is profitable to buy gold from the American treasury and sell it in the London market.

Because the major powers no longer operate under an automatic gold standard system, the export and import prices control the international movement of the metal. Other factors, such as a flow of foreign capital into American securities, may bring gold to this country when the existing price ratio does not permit a straight arbitrage profit.

COTTON

Cotton futures were slightly lower early yesterday, in sympathy with Liverpool and on selling by Bombay and European interests, but the strength in securities brought a rally, with closing prices unchanged to .09 cent a pound higher than Tuesday.

Statistician Nat C. Murray estimated American cotton acreage for the 1939 crop at 26,061,000 acres, or 75.6 per cent of that of last year. He estimated the crop at 10,100,000 bales, compared with the record 1937 harvest, 18,946,000 bales.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .05 cent higher, with New Orleans and New York 8.85 cents, Houston 8.70 cents, and Galveston 8.65 cents a pound. Prices follow:
